International Collaboration has been the theme for the IGILUC from its first edition and this year, we will underpin the need for collaboration and cooperation in implanting cancer control strategies, exchange of experience on cancers & networking with colleagues from around the world, collaborating with international societies and high caliber international experts to make cancer history; the driving force behind this collaboration is the shared mission of the organizations and scientists to advance progress against cancer

Gastrointestinal cancers and the accessory organs of digestion (pancreas, liver, gall bladder) are responsible for more cancers and more deaths from cancer than any other system in the body. There is significant geographic variation in the rates of different gastrointestinal cancers.

Topics

Analysing the Innovation & Future Trends in Genomics and Molecular Biology

Cancer genomics

Tumour Genomics is the investigation of hereditary transformations in charge of malignancy, utilizing genome sequencing and bioinformatics. Disease genomics is to enhance growth treatment and results lies in figuring out which sets of qualities and quality associations influence diverse subsets of tumors.

Target audience

IGLUC 2021 Molecular course will be relevant to participants from across a number of fields including clinical pathology, systems biology, bioinformatics, artificial intelligence, cancer medicine, translational research, epigenomics, cancer immunology and molecular pathology. Importantly, early career researchers will have the opportunity to present their work to the international community.

Topics to be covered :

- DIFFERENTIAL PARTITIONING OF CANCER THERAPEUTICS IN NUCLEAR CONDENSATES.
- TRANSCRIPTOME-WIDE DISTRIBUTION AND FUNCTION OF RNA MODIFICATIONS.
