Blues, «beat» and «electronic grip»
PUGNO | FONDACCI
BLUES MIRROR
BLUES MIRROR

The music carries within, always and in any case, the contemporaneity and the peculiarities that make it current, even if sometimes politically incorrect.

The Blues was born as the contemporary lament of a people: lament that will then become the humus for the various contemporaneities to follow... influencing what we conventionally call «easy-listening» music.

Son House, Robert Johnson, Sonny Boy Williamson, Blind Lemon Jefferson and all those that we consider stylistically «pre-war blues» have gradually seen their lament migrate from the deepest countryside of the Mississippi, Minnesota, the Gulf of Mexico, to urban and industrial areas.

Consequently the sound has become a different thing, precisely «Urban» influencing almost the whole history of Rock.

Here, Maurizio Pugno, (born in 1966, a guitar player and composer who has long been an integral part of the European «Blues & Beyond» panorama, to which he contributed with his experience and versatility recognized throughout the world), meets the contemporaneity of the young musician Michele Fondacci, (born in 1985, graduated in percussion, composition and electronic music), who today devotes himself mainly to music applied to the visual arts, composing for theater, dance, cinema, audio-visual works and new visual art forms, inspired by American minimalism, jazz, rock and electro-acoustic music.

The twenty years that divide the two Umbrian musicians, will be a kind of «Blues Mirror», a visionary platform on which the show is built.

Voices, sounds, instruments and evocations from the history of the Blues will immerse themselves in contemporaneity; as if the Blues instead of going to Chicago had slipped into the sub-way of today's Milan.

The analogical mentality and the natural attitude of Maurizio Pugno interacting with the physicality of the wooden guitar, will merge with the sounds, noises and grooves of Michele Fondacci, through the association of traditional instruments with electronic and non-conventional instruments.

Maurizio Pugno, born in 1966, is an Umbrian musician who is considered by many to be one of the most unique Italian blues guitarists.

In business since the early 80s, he is an elegant, «physical» but lyrically incisive artist. It is known as one of the best «masters» for what concerns the dissemination, composition and arrangement of everything that revolves around the «blues & beyond».

Pugno is a great connoisseur of musical styles and this leads him, always, in search of authentic and strong melodic lines, often anchored to his European way of being, but without ever losing sight of the personal background that roots in the African American Black Music.

For more than ten years with the Rico Blues Combo and, even further back in time, with the Wolves Blues Band, Pugno, has today become a point of reference for many of the best international musicians.

The three CDs recorded as a soloist, produced in the USA by Jerry Hall for the record label Pacific Blues Records, have been co-written and produced together with the two former Roomful Of Blues, Sugar Ray Norcia and Mark DuFresne, obtaining important reviews and awards all over the world.

The collaboration with MZ DEE, a singer from San Francisco and considered as one of the most authentic and intense voices in the current Soul/Blues scene, begins in 2011 and takes the shape of two CDs: a mix of Blues, Soul and R&B where Maurizio Pugno writes and arranges most of the songs.

From 2014 to 2018 he collaborates with one of the greatest Italian singers, Linda Valori until signing for Labilia, a company for which he also covers the role of art director of the «Musical Productions» section.

To date, as a musician, in addition to the Pugno/Fondacci «Blues Mirror», he is permanently in the Labilia productions: PBB (Pugno Blues Band), Gianni Grasso Band «Blues D'Autore», Dagmar Segbers Organ Trio and B.A.R. (Blues Against Racism).
