Navigating QuickBooks

There are several ways to get around QuickBooks. You can choose the navigation method that works for your personal working style. The three main ways to navigate are:

- Home Page
- Menu Options
- Icon Bars

Home Page

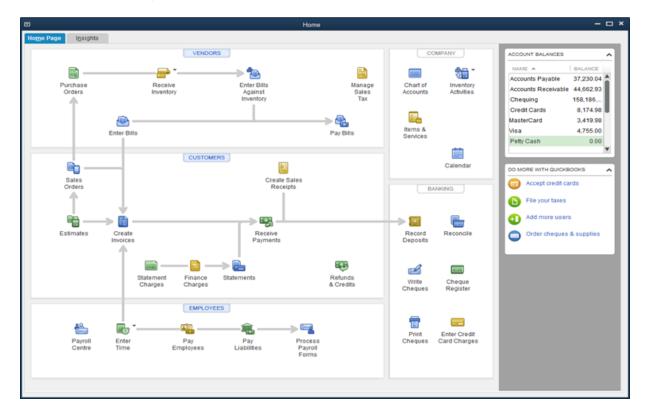

The tasks and workflows shown on the Home page reflect how you use QuickBooks to run your business. Over time, your business needs or practices might change. If they do, you can change the Home page so that the tasks and workflows match your current business model.

The Home Page is organized into two different tabs:

- Home Page organized into 5 workflows; Vendors, Customers, Employees, Company and Banking.
- Insights

To work with the Home Page

- 1. Click the Home Page tab.
- 2. Click any icon in the workflows to navigate to the transaction or task.
- 3. Double click any Account Balance to view account information.

To work with the Insights Page

Use Home Page Insights to see how your business is doing at a glance.

- 1. Click the Insights tab
- 2. Click any graph to view a detailed report.
- 3. Click the icons in the top-right corner to Print or Save as .pdf or to customize the information on the page.

Menu Options

Use the menu options to quickly access up transactions and tasks in QuickBooks. QuickBooks menu options are organized into common workflows similar to the Home Page.

1. Click a menu to display the options available under each category.

Icon Bar

The Icon Bar contains shortcuts to the tasks and reports you use most. You can place the Icon Bar to the left of the QuickBooks desktop or above it. We recommend using the Left Icon Bar because it offers more power and versatility.

Click any icon to view the list, transaction or task in QuickBooks. You can

Using Lists

The list is another basic QuickBooks feature. You fill out most QuickBooks forms by selecting entries from a list.

Notice in the Enter Bills window above the information in the Vendor, Terms, Account, and Customer/Job fields is pulled from lists.

QuickBooks has lists where you can store information about customers, vendors, employees, items or services you sell and so on. Lists save you time and help you enter information consistently and correctly.

When you're filling out an invoice form and you select a customer name from the Customer/Job list, QuickBooks not only fills in the name but also fills in the address, the payment terms and the customer's sales tax, based on the information previously entered about that customer.

Here's an example of the Customers & Jobs list in the Customer Center. You can customize columns in the list by right clicking on a column header and choosing Customize Columns.

Using Forms

You record most of your daily business transactions on a QuickBooks form, which looks just like a paper form. Here's an example of the form you use when you want to record a bill from and one of your vendors.

All the Accounting You Need to Know

About the chart of accounts:

Chart of Accounts

- The Chart of Accounts is a complete list of your business' accounts and their balances
- An account is a tracking category for your businesses assets, liabilities, income and expenses

When you keep books for a company, you want to track

- Where the income comes from
- Where your money goes
- What the expenses are for
- And what you use to pay them

You track this flow of money through the Chart of Accounts

About assets, liabilities and equity:

- Include both what you own and what other people owe you
- The money people owe you from outstanding invoices is called your Accounts Receivable or A/R for short.
 QuickBooks uses an Accounts Receivable account to track the money owed you from invoices and you may have additional Notes Receivable if the business has issued loans that are due for repayment.
- The rest of your company's assets may include chequing accounts, savings accounts, petty cash, fixed assets (such as equipment or trucks), inventory and undeposited funds (money you've received from customers but haven't yet deposited in the bank).

Liabilities

- What your company owes to other people or businesses
- The money you owe for unpaid bills is your Accounts Payable or A/P for short. QuickBooks uses an Accounts
 Payable account to track the money you owe different people for outstanding bills.

A liability can be a formal loan, an unpaid bill, or sales and payroll taxes you owe to the government. When setting up your company file in QuickBooks note even though unpaid bills are liabilities, they will be set up as Accounts
Payable type accounts in QuickBooks.

Equity

Equity is the difference between what you have (your assets) and what you owe (your liabilities):
 Equity = Assets – Liabilities

Cash versus accrual bookkeeping:

Cash basis

- Income is recorded when money (sales) is received and expenses when money (bills) is paid

Accrual basis

- Income is recorded at the time of the sale and expenses when you receive the bill

NOTE: When you create reports in QuickBooks you can switch between cash and accrual reports at any time, regardless of which bookkeeping method you have chosen for tax purposes.

Measuring business profitability:

The Balance Sheet — a snapshot of your company on one date. It shows

- What your business has (assets)
- What people owe your business (accounts receivable)
- What your business owes (liabilities and accounts payable)

The net worth of your business (equity)

The profit and loss statement

A Profit and Loss statement or Income Statement shows income, expenses and net profit or loss

Statement of cash flows

Shows receipts and payments during a specific accounting period

General Journal transactions:

Traditional accounting method

Known as double-entry accounting

Total amount in the Debit column equals the total amount in the Credit column

Each amount is assigned to an account in the Chart of Accounts

To view the journal entry for a transaction, select the transaction and press Ctrl-Y or from the Reports tab in the Transaction window click on Transaction Journal

Modify the report and choose to display the Credit and Debit columns

Exiting QuickBooks

Unlike most other Windows programs, QuickBooks doesn't require you to save your data before exiting. It saves the information as you enter transactions in QuickBooks (after every transaction is created, changed or deleted) and every time you leave the program.

To exit QuickBooks, go to the File menu and click Exit

To prevent or minimize data loss, you should make regular backup copies of your QuickBooks company data. In the event of a data loss you can restore your data from the backup copy.

To make a backup copy, from the File menu click Back Up Company. A copy is a complete copy of your data file that is intended to be restored in the case that you're working file is compromised. It is best practice to store your backups on a different drive than your working file.
