

ABOUT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN SPORTS CORP.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN
SPORTS

MSG Sports features some of the most recognized teams in professional sports, including the New York Knicks (NBA) and the New York Rangers (NHL). As an original franchise of the NBA, the Knicks have a rich history that includes eight trips to the NBA Finals and two NBA Championships. The Rangers hockey club is one of the “Original Six” franchises of the NHL. With four Stanley Cup Championships and 11 Stanley Cup Final appearances, the Rangers remain one of the league’s marquee teams. Both teams play their home games in New York’s Madison Square Garden – The World’s Most Famous Arena.

Other MSG Sports properties include two development league teams – the Westchester Knicks, which serve as the exclusive G-League affiliate of the Knicks, and the Hartford Wolf Pack, the player development team for the Rangers playing in the American Hockey League (AHL).

The Company also has an established presence in the emerging world of esports through Counter Logic Gaming (CLG), a North American esports organization, and Knicks Gaming, an NBA 2K League franchise. CLG is one of the most established organizations in the esports industry, and operates teams across several well-known games, including “League of Legends” and “Fortnite.” And, as one of the inaugural teams in the NBA 2K League, Knicks Gaming won the first-ever League Championship title in 2018.

In addition to its teams, MSG Sports operates two state-of-the-art performance centers. The Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY is a 16-acre facility that offers the Knicks, Rangers and Westchester Knicks a specialized training environment, with dedicated equipment for each team, the latest sports technology to optimize performance and first-class amenities. The CLG Performance Center in Los Angeles, CA includes unique competition spaces tailored to the Company’s esports game franchises, as well as a studio and editing bay for video productions and outdoor areas that can be used to hold fan events.

MSG Sports in the Community

MSG Sports is committed to leveraging the power of its brands to benefit communities across the tri-state area. The Company is also dedicated to affecting positive change through social impact and cause-related initiatives including food donations, providing free educational resources to local schools and supporting non-profits and fundraising efforts across the region.

The Knicks and Rangers both run grassroots programs – Jr. Knicks and Jr. Rangers – focused on eliminating barriers and creating more inclusive opportunities for all kids to enjoy basketball and hockey. This commitment includes programs such as Learn to Play, a 10-week skills development program for kids 10 and under; and the Rookie Series, a 10-week recreational league. The Rangers have also been a leader in growing the game by offering girls-only programming through Jr. Rangers Girls Hockey, an initiative that seeks to empower girls of all ages through the sport of hockey. Additionally, the Jr. Knicks Assist program organizes charity basketball games to support non-profit youth basketball organizations through fundraising, increased visibility and community gatherings. The Knicks and Rangers support local youth basketball and youth hockey through equipment donations and court and rink refurbishments, while also hosting free skills clinics and supporting local non-profit leagues. Both teams also celebrate home-grown heroes throughout the year, including awards such as the Knicks’ “Sweetwater Clifton ‘City Spirit’ Award,” which pays tribute to local heroes who have made a difference in the lives of others, and the Rangers’ “Salute to Our Troops,” which proudly honors the brave men and women who have served or currently serve in the United States Armed Forces.

MSG Sports also has a close association with the Garden of Dreams Foundation, a non-profit organization that assists young people in need. In partnership with MSG Sports and Madison Square Garden Entertainment Corp., Garden of Dreams provides young people in our communities with access to educational and skills opportunities; mentoring programs; and memorable experiences that enhance their lives, help shape their futures and create lasting joy. All of the Foundation’s activities target young people facing illness or financial challenges, as well as children of uniformed personnel who have been lost or injured while serving our communities. Since it was established in 2006, Garden of Dreams has impacted nearly 425,000 children and their families, and donated over $70 million in grants, scholarships, tickets and experiences both to young people and to organizations that better the lives of youth in our communities. James L. Dolan is Executive Chairman of Madison Square Garden Sports Corp. (MSG Sports), which features the New York Knicks (NBA) and New York Rangers (NHL) franchises. In addition, the Company's properties include two development league teams – the Westchester Knicks (NBAGL) and the Hartford Wolf Pack (AHL) – as well as Counter Logic Gaming, a North American esports organization, and Knicks Gaming, an NBA 2K League franchise.

In his role at MSG Sports, Mr. Dolan sets the Company's overall vision and guides the development of effective strategies to drive its business and maximize growth opportunities. Mr. Dolan also serves as governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and New York Rangers.

In addition to his oversight of MSG Sports, Mr. Dolan is Executive Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Madison Square Garden Entertainment Corp. (MSG Entertainment), which became a standalone company in April 2020 when The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG) separated its entertainment and sports businesses. MSG Entertainment's portfolio features a wide array of venues, including Madison Square Garden – home to the New York Knicks and New York Rangers. The Company is also building a state-of-the-art venue in Las Vegas called MSG Sphere, and has announced plans for a second venue in London. MSG Entertainment's other properties include the Christmas Spectacular Starring the Radio City Rockettes; Boston Calling Events, which produces the Boston Calling Music Festival; and Tao Group Hospitality, which features popular entertainment dining and nightlife brands. In addition, the Company has two regional sports networks, MSG Network and MSG+, that telecast a wide range of sports content, including exclusive live local games featuring the New York Knicks and New York Rangers.

Mr. Dolan also serves as Chairman of AMC Networks Inc., which owns and operates several award-winning brands in television and film.

Mr. Dolan was CEO of Cablevision Systems Corporation from 1995 until June 2016, when the media and telecommunications company, which served as MSG's parent company until 2010, was sold to Altice. Prior to his role as Cablevision CEO, Mr. Dolan was CEO of Rainbow Media Holdings, the former Cablevision programming subsidiary now known as AMC Networks. Mr. Dolan began his career with Cablevision in the 1970s and held a variety of executive positions before overseeing Rainbow Media.

Mr. Dolan supports the ongoing commitment of MSG Sports and MSG Entertainment to their communities, particularly through the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit organization that works closely with both companies to assist young people in need. In addition, he is Vice Chairman of the board of the Lustgarten Foundation, an organization he helped found in 1998, which today is the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research.

Mr. Dolan has six children and is an avid musician.

ANDREW LUSTGARTEN

*PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER,

Andrew Lustgarten is President and Chief Executive Officer of Madison Square Garden Sports Corp. (MSG Sports), a leading professional sports company with a premier collection of assets.

Mr. Lustgarten is responsible for setting the overall business strategy and overseeing the day-to-day operations for the Company's sports franchises, featuring the New York Knicks (NBA) and the New York Rangers (NHL). In addition, the Company's properties include two development league teams – the Westchester Knicks (NBAGL) and the Hartford Wolf Pack (AHL) – as well as Counter Logic Gaming, a North American esports organization, and Knicks Gaming, an NBA 2K League franchise. Mr. Lustgarten also spearheads efforts to advance the Company's business, including pursuing new initiatives to enhance these sports brands, as well as identifying growth opportunities.

Throughout his tenure with the MSG family of companies, Mr. Lustgarten has held several important leadership positions. He previously served as President of Madison Square Garden Entertainment Corp. (MSG Entertainment), which became a standalone company in April 2020 when The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG) separated its entertainment and sports businesses through a spin-off transaction. Before the spin-off, Mr. Lustgarten served as President of the combined MSG for more than two years. Prior to this, he served as MSG's Executive Vice President of Corporate Development, during which time he played a critical role in overseeing various transactions and investments that diversified the Company's sports and entertainment portfolio.

Before joining MSG, Mr. Lustgarten spent seven years at the National Basketball Association, where he served as Senior Vice President, Global Strategy, and before that, Special Assistant to the Commissioner. He played a key role in negotiating the league's landmark media rights deals in 2014 and its collective bargaining agreement. He also oversaw the NBA's global strategy group, as well as several strategic initiatives, including the league's revenue sharing plan and external investment in NBA China. Prior to joining the NBA, Mr. Lustgarten worked at Cablevision Systems Corporation in finance and in investment banking at Bear Stearns & Co.

In March 2014, Mr. Lustgarten was named to Sports Business Journal's Forty Under 40 list of the most influential executives in sports. He serves on the board of governors for the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League, and is on the board of directors of Tao Group Hospitality, Boston Calling Events, and Counter Logic Gaming. He is also on the board of the Garden of Dreams Foundation, a non-profit organization that works closely with all areas of MSG Sports and MSG Entertainment to assist young people in need. Mr. Lustgarten is Chairman of the Board of the Lustgarten Foundation for Pancreatic Cancer Research, which as the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research, has directed more than $225 million to research and assembled the best scientific minds to help find a cure.

Mr. Lustgarten earned an M.B.A. from Columbia Business School, with concentrations in finance and management, and received a Bachelor's degree in Economics from the University of Pennsylvania. He lives in New York with his wife and three children.

Chris Drury enters his second season as the Rangers' President and General Manager after being named the 12th President and 12th General Manager in franchise history on May 5, 2021.

Drury begins his eighth season with the Rangers in a front office role. He rejoined the organization on September 4, 2015, and he was promoted to Associate General Manager on February 5, 2021 after previously serving as the team's Assistant General Manager from September 2, 2016 until he received the promotion. In his current role with the Rangers, Drury also serves as an Alternate Governor.

In his first season as President and General Manager, Drury was named a finalist for the Jim Gregory Award, an annual award presented to recognize the work of the top general manager in the NHL.

During his tenure in a front office role, Drury has also served as the General Manager for the Rangers' American Hockey League (AHL) affiliate, the Hartford Wolf Pack. He was named Hartford's General Manager on May 16, 2017. In 2019-20, after he helped assemble a new coaching staff in Hartford, the Wolf Pack posted a 31-20-6-5 record in 62 games. Hartford's .589 points percentage in 2019-20 was the best the team posted since the 2014-15 season. The Wolf Pack followed up their successful 2019-20 season by posting a 14-9-1 record (.604 points percentage) in a 24-game season in 2020-21. Drury also served as the team's Director of Player Development in 2015-16.

In addition to his role with the Rangers, Drury has worked in an executive role at the international level. Prior to the NHL opting out of the 2022 Olympics, Drury was named AGM of Team USA. He has served as the General Manager for the U.S. Men's National Team at the IIHF World Championship in 2019 and 2021, and helped Team USA earn a bronze medal in the tournament in 2021. Drury was also selected to serve in the same capacity for the 2020 IIHF World Championship.

During his 12-year NHL career, the Trumbull, Connecticut native skated in 892 games with the Colorado Avalanche, Calgary Flames, Buffalo Sabres, and the Rangers, registering 255 goals and 360 assists for 615 points. Drury captured the Stanley Cup as a member of the Avalanche in 2000-01, ranking second in the NHL with 11 goals in 23 games during the team's playoff run. In 1998-99, Drury received the Calder Trophy as the NHL's Rookie of the Year after registering 20 goals and 24 assists for 44 points with Colorado. Drury recorded at least 20 goals in nine seasons in his career.

Drury's team reached the playoffs in nine of his 12 seasons in the NHL, and his team advanced to the Conference Finals on six occasions. In 135 career NHL playoff games, Drury registered 47 goals and 42 assists for 89 points, along with a plus-24 rating and 46 penalty minutes. Over the 12 seasons in which he played in the NHL (1998-99 - 2010-11), he led the NHL in playoff game-winning goals (17), ranked second in playoff overtime goals (four), ranked fourth in playoff goals, and ranked ninth in playoff games played.

Drury played four seasons with the Rangers (2007-08 - 2010-11) after signing with the team as a free agent on July 1, 2007. In addition, Drury served as the Rangers captain for three seasons (2008-09 - 2010-11) after being named the 25th captain in franchise history - as well as the second American-born captain in franchise history - on October 3, 2008. In 264 regular season games with the Blueshirts, Drury recorded 62 goals and 89 assists for 151 points, along with 116 penalty minutes. Over his first three seasons with the Rangers, Drury led the team in goals (61) and points (146), ranked second in assists (85), and tied for second in game-winning goals (10). In addition, the Rangers made the playoffs three times during Drury's four seasons with the team. Drury is the second person in franchise history who served as the Rangers' captain while playing for the team and later served as the Rangers' General Manager following their playing career (along with Phil Esposito).

Prior to joining the NHL, Drury completed one of the most impressive collegiate hockey careers in NCAA history. Over four seasons at Boston University (1994-95 - 1997-98), Drury tallied 113 goals and 101 assists for 214 points in 155 games. During his collegiate career, the Terriers captured the National Championship in 1994-95, appeared in the National Championship Game twice (1994-95, 1996-97), and appeared in the Frozen Four three times (1994-95, 1995-96, 1996-97). Drury was selected as a First Team All-American on two occasions (1996-97, 1997-98), a Hobey Baker Finalist as the Top Player in College Hockey on three occasions (1995-96, 1996-97, 1997-98), and he became the first Terrier to receive the Hobey Baker Award in 1997-98.

Internationally, Drury represented the United States in numerous tournaments and earned several medals. He participated in three consecutive Winter Olympics (2002, 2006, 2010), capturing a silver medal at the 2002 Winter Olympics in Salt Lake City, Utah and the 2010 Winter Olympics in Vancouver, British Columbia. Drury was inducted into the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame in 2015.

Drury and his wife, Rory, have a son, Luke, and two daughters, Dylan and Kelly.

During his 45 years as a front office executive, Rangers Senior Advisor to the Owner and Alternate Governor Glen Sather has illustrated why he is one of the great architects in the history of hockey management. In a Hall of Fame career that has included five Stanley Cup Championships, Sather left his role as Rangers General Manager in July of 2015 having served as a General Manager for more regular season games (2,700) and earning more regular season wins (1,319) than any other General Manager in NHL history at the time. On April 4, 2019, it was announced that Sather would transition from his role as Rangers President to his current role as Senior Advisor to the Owner and Alternate Governor.

During his tenure with the Rangers, Sather oversaw one of the most successful eras in franchise history. Over a 12-season span from 2005-06 – 2016-17, the Rangers were one of four NHL teams that reached the playoffs 11 times and were the only NHL team that was not mathematically eliminated from the playoffs prior to the start of a regular season game during the stretch. New York played in more playoff games than any NHL team over a six-year stretch from 2011-12 – 2016-17 (93) and was the only NHL team that won at least one playoff series in five of those six seasons.

In Sather's final year as Rangers General Manager in 2014-15, the team he assembled had the most successful regular season in franchise history, establishing single-season franchise records in wins (53) and points (113) while capturing the Presidents' Trophy for the third time in franchise history. In recognition of his efforts, Sather was selected as a finalist for the General Manager of the Year Award.

Sather was named Rangers President and General Manager on June 1, 2000. In 14 seasons as Rangers General Manager (2000-01 – 2014-15), he earned more wins (556) than any General Manager in franchise history. He also served as Head Coach of the Rangers from January 30, 2003 to February 25, 2004. Sather led the Edmonton Oilers to five Stanley Cup Championships between 1984 – 1990, overseeing the development of a revolutionary team concept as well as some of the finest individual talents ever to play the game. His achievements were recognized and honored on September 9, 1997, when he became the first member of the Oilers organization to be selected to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

During his tenure with the Oilers, the club posted a 791-652-215-8 record in 1,666 regular season games (542 points percentage), capturing two Presidents' Trophies, six division titles, and six conference championships. In Stanley Cup playoff action with Edmonton, Sather's teams compiled a 133-82 record in 215 games (.619 winning percentage), leading to the club's five Stanley Cup titles. Upon his retirement as a player following the 1976-77 season, Sather immediately joined the coaching ranks, guiding the Oilers to 12 straight WHA and NHL playoff appearances, four Stanley Cup Championships and five Stanley Cup Finals appearances between 1977 and 1989. Sather added the title of General Manager in June of 1980.

Before embarking on his executive career, Sather put together one of the most impressive coaching records in NHL history. He has served as a Head Coach in 932 NHL regular season games, compiling a record of 497-307-121-7 (.602 points percentage). In 126 Stanley Cup playoff games, Sather posted a record of 89-37. Sather received the Jack Adams Award as the NHL's Coach of the Year in 1985-86.

Sather's knowledge of the game, tactical negotiating strategies, strong developmental skills, and keen ability to get the best out of his players are keys to his managerial success. During his administration in Edmonton, Sather developed a dynasty by nurturing talented draft picks Mark Messier, Kevin Lowe, Jari Kurri, Grant Fuhr, Paul Coffey, Esa Tikkanen, and Glenn Anderson, along with the acquisition of a rising star named Wayne Gretzky.

Sather's management experience and success also carries over to the international arena. He served as Team Canada's General Manager and Coach for the 1996 World Cup of Hockey. He also guided Team Canada's 1994 Canada Cup Championship and was the General Manager of the gold medal-winning team in the 1994 World Hockey Championship.

A native of High River, Alberta, Sather enjoyed a successful junior career with the Edmonton Oil Kings. Following the completion of his amateur days, he became property of the Detroit Red Wings but would never wear a Winged Wheel jersey. After a season with the Central League's Memphis Wings, Sather was drafted away from the Red Wings by the Boston Bruins in 1965, and would make his NHL debut with the Bruins in the 1966-67 season. Sather would go on to play 10 seasons in the NHL with the Boston Bruins, Pittsburgh Penguins, New York Rangers, St. Louis Blues, Montreal Canadiens, and Minnesota North Stars. In 658 regular season games, he tallied 80 goals and 113 assists for 193 points, along with 724 penalty minutes.

As a member of the Rangers, Sather appeared in 186 regular season games over parts of four seasons (1970-71 – 1973-74), recording 18 goals and 24 assists for 42 points, along with 193 penalty minutes. In addition, he was a member of the 1971-72 Rangers club which advanced to the Stanley Cup Finals.

Sather and his wife, Ann, have two sons, Justin and Shanon, and four grandchildren, Tanner, Morgan, Vienna, and Jake.

Ryan Martin begins his second season with the Rangers as Assistant General Manager and General Manager of the Hartford Wolf Pack.

Martin joined the Rangers organization in 2021 after spending the 16 seasons with the Detroit Red Wings organization (2005-06 – 2020-21), including the last 11 seasons as the team's Assistant General Manager (2010-11 – 2020-21). He also served eight full seasons as the General Manager of the Red Wings' AHL affiliate, the Grand Rapids Griffins (2013-14 – 2020-21). In addition, Martin served as the team's Director of Hockey Administration for five seasons (2005-06 – 2019-10).

In his most recent role with the Red Wings, Martin was primarily responsible for collective bargaining agreement administration and compliance, salary cap management, player contract research and analysis, and salary arbitration preparation. He was also involved extensively in all facets of player contract negotiations, strategic planning, and player evaluations at both the professional and amateur levels. Martin also oversaw all aspects of hockey operations for the Griffins, including player personnel decisions, player development, contract negotiations, and player movement. During his tenure as Griffins General Manager, the team won the Calder Cup as AHL Champions in 2016-17. Martin was also a member of the Red Wings organization when the team won the Stanley Cup in 2007-08.

Internationally, Martin was the general manager of the 2022 U.S. Men's National Team that competed at the IIHF Men's World Championship in Finland. He also served as a scout with USA Hockey for their World Junior Championship team in 2021, which won a gold medal.

Jim Sullivan begins his second season as the Rangers' Vice President, Hockey Strategy after being promoted to the post prior to the start of the 2021-22 season.

Prior to being promoted to Vice President, Hockey Strategy and Data Management, Sullivan served as Director, Player Care & Development/Analytics & Hockey Technology for the past seven seasons. In his role, he worked directly with the Rangers' front office to provide reporting and analysis of player progress, skill building plans, and improvement metrics. Under Sullivan's guidance, the Rangers expanded their use of analytics, utilizing a software platform to import tracking data, statistics, and salary information in order to assist in player valuation and analysis.

Sullivan originally joined the Rangers organization in 2009 as a video analyst, and he was promoted to Director of Hockey Technology after two seasons. In his role as Director of Hockey Technology, Sullivan was responsible for researching and implementing solutions in accordance with the Rangers' organizational strategy.

Gerard Gallant begins his second season with the Rangers after being named the 36th head coach in franchise history on June 16, 2021.

Gallant has coached 623 career NHL games as a head coach over parts of 10 seasons with the Rangers, Columbus Blue Jackets, Florida Panthers, and Vegas Golden Knights, posting a 322-240-4-57 (W-L-T-OT) record (.566 points percentage). He has guided his team to a playoff appearance in each of his last four full seasons as a head coach, and he has a 28-25 record in 53 career playoff contests as an NHL head coach (.528 winning percentage). Gallant has been a finalist for the Jack Adams Award, presented annually to the coach “adjudged to have contributed the most to his team’s success,” three times in his last seven seasons as an NHL head coach (2021-22 with New York, 2015-16 with Florida and 2017-18 with Vegas). He won the award in 2017-18.

In 2021-22, Gallant became one of 15 coaches in Rangers history to make the playoffs in his first season and joined Mike Keenan as the only coaches in team history to win 50 games in his first season with the club.

Prior to joining the Rangers, Gallant most recently coached in the NHL with the Golden Knights for parts of three seasons (2017-18 – 2019-20). During his tenure with Vegas, he helped guide the Golden Knights to a 118-75-20 record in 213 games (.601 points percentage), as well as a Stanley Cup Final appearance during the team’s inaugural season in 2017-18. While Gallant was the Golden Knights’ Head Coach, Vegas ranked ninth in the NHL in wins and points percentage, ranked 10th in the NHL in goals per game (3.11), tied for eighth in the NHL in goals against per game (2.83), tied for fourth in the NHL in shots on goal per game (33.6), ranked fifth in the NHL in shots on goal against per game (30.1), and ranked third in the NHL in shot attempts percentage at 5-on-5 (52.8%).

Prior to his tenure with Vegas, Gallant served as the Panthers’ head coach for parts of three seasons (2014-15 – 2016-17). He joined Florida following a season in which the Panthers recorded the second-fewest points in the NHL. Gallant guided the Panthers to a 25-point improvement in his first season as the team’s Head Coach, and helped the team win the Atlantic Division in his second season (47-26-9 record; 103 points).

In addition to serving as a head coach in the NHL, Gallant has served as a head coach and assistant coach at several levels throughout his career. He spent three seasons as the head coach of the Saint John Sea Dogs in the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League (QMJHL) from 2009-10 – 2011-12. During his tenure in Saint John, Gallant received the Brian Kilrea Award (Canadian Hockey League Coach of the Year) and Ron Lapointe Trophy (QMJHL Coach of the Year) twice (2009-10 and 2010-11), helped Saint John win the QMJHL Championship twice (2010-11 and 2011-12), and helped Saint John win the Memorial Cup in 2010-11. He served as an assistant coach with the Montreal Canadiens for two seasons (2012-13 and 2013-14), the New York Islanders for two seasons (2007-08 and 2008-09), and the Columbus Blue Jackets for parts of four seasons (2000-01 – 2003-04) prior to becoming Columbus’ head coach during the 2003-04 season.

Internationally, the Summerside, Prince Edward Island native has coached in several tournaments. Gallant served as Canada’s head coach at the 2021 IIHF World Championship and guided the team to a gold medal. He also helped Canada earn a gold medal as an assistant coach at the 2007 IIHF World Championship and a silver medal as an assistant coach at the 2017 IIHF World Championship. Gallant also served as an assistant coach with Team North America at the 2016 World Cup of Hockey.

Prior to beginning his coaching career, Gallant played parts of 11 seasons in the NHL with the Detroit Red Wings and Tampa Bay Lightning. A left winger, Gallant skated in 615 career NHL games, registering 211 goals and 269 assists for 480 points, along with a plus-58 rating and 1,674 penalty minutes. He was named to the NHL’s Second All-Star Team in 1988-89 as he established career-highs in goals (39), assists (54), and points (93) with Detroit. Gallant also recorded 39 points (18 goals, 21 assists) in 58 career Stanley Cup Playoff games and helped the Red Wings advance to the Campbell Conference Finals in two consecutive seasons (1986-87 and 1987-88).

GORD MURPHY

Assistant Coach | Gord Murphy begins his second full season with the Rangers coaching staff after being named Assistant Coach on August 24, 2021.

Murphy joined the Rangers coaching staff after spending two seasons with the Rangers' American Hockey League (AHL), the Hartford Wolf Pack, as the team's Associate Head Coach. In his first season with the Wolf Pack in 2019-20, Murphy helped Hartford post a 31-20-6-5 record in 62 games (73 points), which was the fourth-best record in the Atlantic Division and the seventh-best record in the Eastern Conference. Hartford ranked fifth in the AHL in penalty kill efficiency (85.8%) in 2019-20.

Murphy previously worked with the Rangers coaching staff prior to being named Assistant Coach for the 2021-22 season. He served as an Assistant Coach with the Rangers for the 2020 Qualifying Round, and he also assisted the Rangers coaching staff for several games in March of 2021.

Murphy joined the Rangers organization after spending parts of 16 seasons as an Assistant Coach in the NHL (2002-03 – 2018-19). He served parts of five seasons as an Assistant Coach with the Philadelphia Flyers (2014-15 – 2018-19), and he was on the same coaching staff as current Wolf Pack Head Coach Kris Knoblauch for parts of two seasons with the Flyers (2017-18 and 2018-19). Murphy has also served as an Assistant Coach with the Columbus Blue Jackets (2002-03 – 2009-10) and Florida Panthers (2010-11 – 2013-14) in his coaching career.

Prior to beginning his coaching career, Murphy played parts of 14 seasons in the NHL (1988-89 – 2001-02) with the Philadelphia Flyers, Boston Bruins, Florida Panthers, and Atlanta Thrashers. The defenseman skated in 862 career NHL games, registering 85 goals and 238 assists for 323 points, along with 668 penalty minutes.

MIKE KELLY

Assistant Coach | Mike Kelly begins his second season with the Rangers coaching staff after being named Assistant Coach on August 24, 2021.

Prior to joining the Rangers coaching staff, Kelly served as an Assistant Coach in the NHL for parts of eight seasons with the Vancouver Canucks (2006-07 and 2007-08), Florida Panthers (2014-15 – 2016-17), and Vegas Golden Knights (2017-18 – 2019-20). He was a member of current Rangers Head Coach Gerard Gallant's coaching staff with both Florida and Vegas.

Kelly has served as a coach or as part of a front office at several levels for three decades. He began his coaching career as an Assistant Coach with the London Knights of the Ontario Hockey League (OHL) in 1988-89. Following his tenure as an Assistant Coach in London, Kelly worked as an Assistant Coach with the Prince Edward Island Senators of the American Hockey League (AHL) for one season before becoming the Head Coach of the OHL's Windsor Spitfires. Kelly also served as Head Coach of the North Bay Centennials of the OHL, the Brandon Wheat Kings of the Western Hockey League (WHL), and the University of New Brunswick of the Canadian Interuniversity Athletics Union (CIAU). In 1997-98, Kelly received the Father George Kehoe Memorial Award as the CIAU Coach of the Year and helped the University of New Brunswick win a University Cup Championship.

Kelly also worked with Gallant with the Saint John Sea Dogs of the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League (QMJHL). He joined the Sea Dogs for the 2009-10 season as the Director of Hockey Operations and Associate Coach; in that role, he helped Saint John win three Jean-Rougeau Trophies, awarded to the regular season champions, two President Cups, and a Memorial Cup, and he received the Maurice Filion Trophy as the QMJHL General Manager of the Year in 2010-11. Kelly also served as the team's Head Coach for parts of two seasons.

Kelly has also served as a member of Team Canada's coaching staff in several tournaments in international competition. Most recently, Kelly helped Canada earn a gold medal as an Assistant Coach at the 2021 IIHF World Championship. In 2003, Kelly helped Canada win a gold medal as Head Coach at the IIHF U18 World Championship and a silver medal as an Assistant Coach at the IIHF World Junior Championship. He also served as an Assistant Coach with Canada at the IIHF World Junior Championship in 2001 and 2002, helping the team earn a bronze medal in 2001 and a silver medal in 2002.

JIM MIDGLEY

In his one season as Halifax's Head Coach, he guided the Mooseheads to a 43-18-6-1 (W-L-OTL-SL) record and helped the team advance to the second round of the QMJHL Playoffs.

The Townsend, Ontario native served as an Amateur Scout with the Philadelphia Flyers during the 2020-21 season. Midgley also worked as an Assistant Coach with Team Canada at the 2021 IIHF Women's World Championship, helping the team win a gold medal.

BENOIT ALLAIRE

Head Goaltending Coach & Director of New York Rangers Goaltending | Benoit Allaire begins his 19th season with the New York Rangers organization. He enters his second season as Head Goaltending Coach & Director of New York Rangers Goaltending after being promoted to the post on June 24, 2021.

In his role, Allaire oversees the development of goaltenders at all levels throughout the organization, including at the American Hockey League (AHL) level and ECHL level. He continues to work with the Rangers' coaching staff as Head Goaltending Coach. Prior to being promoted to Head Goaltending Coach & Director of New York Rangers Goaltending, Allaire served 17 seasons as Assistant Coach and Goaltending Coach after joining the Rangers organization on July 15, 2004.

Several Rangers goaltenders have achieved considerable success under the direction of Allaire. Current Rangers goaltender Igor Shesterkin won the Vezina Trophy in 2021-22 and was named a Hart finalist after he posted a 36-13-4 record, 935 save percentage and a 2.07 goals against average in 2021-22. Among goaltenders with a minimum of 30 appearances, Shesterkin posted the highest single-season save percentage in franchise history. Shesterkin's 935 save percentage in 2021-22 was the third highest in NHL history among goaltenders with a minimum of 50 appearances. During Henrik Lundqvist's 15 seasons with the Blueshirts, he established several franchise and league records, including franchise records for career appearances by a goaltender, wins, saves, and shutouts. Lundqvist became the first goaltender in NHL history to record 30 or more wins in 11 of his first 12 seasons, including each of his first seven seasons, and he won the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goaltender in 2011-12.

Prior to joining the Rangers organization, Allaire spent seven seasons as the goaltending coach for the Phoenix Coyotes. He also served as the goaltending instructor for the Montreal Canadiens for one season in 1996-97. Allaire was the first to implement the hybrid style of goaltending, a combination of stand-up and butterfly, relying on quickness and reaction to the puck, while utilizing the butterfly technique in certain situations. Under the direction of Allaire, Coyotes goaltenders enjoyed tremendous improvement and success. Before joining the Coyotes organization in 1999, Sean Burke appeared in 536 NHL games and posted a 3.21 goals against average, a .895 save percentage, and 19 shutouts. While with Allaire, Burke showed noticeable improvement, appearing in 211 matches with Phoenix and recording a 2.39 goals against average, a .919 save percentage, and 15 shutouts. He was also nominated for both the Vezina and Lester B. Pearson trophies following the 2001-02 season and appeared in the NHL All-Star Game twice (2001, 2002). Additionally, Coyotes goaltender Brian Boucher established a modern NHL record shutout streak from December 22, 2003 to January 11, 2004, going 332:01 without allowing a goal and recording five shutouts.

Stanley Cup-winning goaltender Nikolai Khabibulin also posted significantly improved statistics under the tutelage of Allaire. Prior to Allaire joining Phoenix, Khabibulin posted a 3.03 goals against average and a 906 save percentage with nine shutouts (1994-95 - 1996-97). In his two seasons with Allaire (1997-98, 1998-99), Khabibulin participated in the NHL All-Star Game in both campaigns, and shaved more than half a goal off his goals against average.

A native of St. Janvier, Quebec, Allaire served as a goaltending instructor in the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League (QMJHL) with three different teams: Laval, Verdun and Granby. During his tenure in the QMJHL, the goaltenders under Allaire's supervision won two President's Cups (QMJHL's championship) and played in two Memorial Cup Tournaments (1989-90 with Laval and 1991-92 with Verdun).

ADAM GRAVES

Hockey and Business Operations | One of the most popular players in franchise history, Adam Graves returned to the Rangers organization on July 19, 2005 in a dual role that uses his myriad of abilities in both the on-ice and off-ice areas of the organization. In this capacity, Graves works with the club's hockey personnel to advance the development of key Rangers prospects, while also assisting in the development and execution of the organization's many community outreach programs, as well as marketing and sponsorship initiatives.

Graves plays an integral role in strengthening the bond between the team and its fans while developing future Blueshirt loyalists. He is involved in a variety of youth hockey and season subscription events, and he is instrumental in supporting the efforts of the Garden of Dreams Foundation through appearances, media interviews, and participation in the fulfillment of fundraising auction experiences.

With a keen eye for talent, Graves has become an essential member of the hockey operations department. His ability to lend support and direction, both on and off the ice, has benefited many key prospects within the Rangers system. He is also involved in free agency signings and the NHL Draft with the Rangers, as well as the development of players with the Hartford Wolf Pack.

Extremely active in the community both during and after his playing career, Graves was recognized by the NHL when he received the King Clancy Memorial Trophy in 1994. The award is presented annually to the NHL player who "best exemplifies leadership qualities on and off the ice and has made a noteworthy humanitarian contribution in his community." In 2000, he was honored with the NHL Player Foundation Award, recognizing the NHL player who "applies the core values of hockey - commitment, perseverance, and teamwork - to enrich the lives of people in his community." Graves also received the Bill Masterton Trophy in 2001, an award given annually by the Professional Hockey Writers Association (PHWA) to the NHL player who "best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey."

During his 10-year playing career with the Rangers, Graves worked tirelessly in the greater metropolitan area with various charitable organizations, including Family Dynamics, Toys for Tots, Muscular Dystrophy Association, Dime Hometown Heroes, and Big Brothers/Big Sisters. As a result of his extensive civic efforts, Graves was also recognized with honors from countless organizations and publications, including USA Weekend's "Most Caring Athlete" Award, Sports Illustrated for Kids' "Good Sport" Award, and 'The Sporting News' "Good Guy" Award.

As a Ranger, Graves registered 280 goals and 227 assists for 507 points in 772 games. He ranks third on the Rangers' all-time goals list and ranks 10th on the franchise's all-time points list. He established a Rangers single-season record for goals with 52 during the 1993-94 campaign, breaking Vic Hadfield's 22-year old club record of 50. His record stood for 12 years until Jaromir Jagr scored 54 goals in 2005-06. A two-time Stanley Cup champion, capturing titles with the Edmonton Oilers in 1989-90 and the Rangers in 1993-94, Graves represented the Blueshirts at the 1994 NHL All-Star Game and was selected as an NHL Second Team All-Star in 1993-94.

In addition, Graves received numerous Rangers team awards during his career, including: Most Valuable Player (92-93, 93-94); Player's Player Award (91-92, 92-93, 94-95, 98-99); Ceil Saidel Memorial Award (94-95, 95-96, 96-97, 97-98, 98-99, 99-00, 00-01); Steven McDonald Extra Effort Award (91-92, 92-93, 93-94, 98-99, 99-00); John Halligan Good Guy Award (92-93); Frank Boucher Trophy (93-94); and Crumb Bum Award (1993).

A native of Toronto, Ontario, Graves signed with New York as a free agent on September 3, 1991. He was originally drafted by the Detroit Red Wings in the second round, 22nd overall, of the 1986 NHL Entry Draft. Over his 16-year NHL career, the left winger played in 1,152 career games with the Red Wings, Oilers, Rangers, and San Jose Sharks, registering 329 goals and 287 assists for 616 points.

Graves joined a select group of New York hockey immortals when his No. 9 jersey was raised to the Garden rafters on February 3, 2009. He and his wife, Violet, have three children: daughters, Madison and Montana, and son, Logan.

HENRIK LUNDQVIST

Business Operations | Henrik Lundqvist returned home to MSG when he joined MSG Sports and MSG Entertainment in a unique Business Operations role on September 8, 2022.

In his role, Lundqvist is involved in numerous areas including representing MSG Sports and MSG Entertainment in a variety of partner and sponsorship endeavors, assisting with content development for digital platforms across both companies, growing and strengthening the connection with Rangers alumni, as well as lending his support with the Garden of Dreams Foundation. In addition, Lundqvist offers his support as a lead studio analyst on MSG Network throughout the Rangers season.

During his tenure in New York, Lundqvist established himself as one of the greatest players in Rangers history, both on and off the ice. Off the ice, Henrik and his wife, Therese, founded the Henrik Lundqvist Foundation (HLF), and he has served the official spokesperson for the Garden of Dreams Foundation (GDF). Through its fundraising efforts and community outreach, HLF strives to create positive change in the lives of children and adults throughout the world through education and health services. In 2012, he received the Garden of Dreams Hero Award, which annually honors a person or organization who embodies the spirit and commitment of the Foundation, with active, on-going dedication to children facing obstacles.

The Sweden native played 15 seasons with the Rangers (2005-06 – 2019-20) and owned over 50 franchise records at the time of his retirement, including all-time records for wins (459), appearances by a goaltender (887), shutouts (64), playoff appearances (by either a skater or goaltender - 130), playoff wins (61), and playoff shutouts (10). In 2011-12, Lundqvist won the Vezina Trophy as the NHL's Best Goaltender and was a finalist for the award in four other seasons throughout his tenure with the Rangers (2005-06, 2006-07, 2007-08, 2012-13). A five-time NHL All-Star (2009, 2011, 2012, 2018, 2019), Lundqvist was named to the NHL's First All-Star Team in 2011-12, the NHL's Second All-Star Team in 2012-13, and the NHL's All-Rookie Team in 2005-06.

Lundqvist earned numerous team awards and honors throughout his career. He was named the Rangers' Most Valuable Player in nine different seasons, which is more than any other player in franchise history. In addition, Lundqvist was twice named the winner of the Steven McDonald Extra Effort Award, which is presented annually to the Ranger who, as chosen by the fans, "goes above and beyond the call of duty." On January 28, 2022, Lundqvist was given the highest honor a Rangers player can receive, when his No. 30 jersey was raised to the MSG rafters.
