AFTER-READING ACTIVITIES

FROM SEED TO PLANT

By Gail Gibbons

Before Reading 5 min

- Have students look at the cover of the book and read the title aloud. Ask:
 - Why do you think parts of plants grow below ground, while other parts grow above ground? (Answers will vary. Possible answer: Plants need sunlight above ground, and they need things from below ground in the soil.)

Note: This book does not contain page numbers. You may want to number the pages yourself (starting with #1 on the title page) to make it easier to follow the instructions below.

- Have students look at the title page and preview the pictures. Ask:
 - What objects are shown on the title page? (seed packet, daisy plant, shovel with dirt)
 - Use the title and pictures to predict what you will learn about. (how plants grow from seeds)

During Reading 25 min

After reading the pages in each section, direct students to use the text and pictures to support their answers to your questions.

- Read pages 2–5. Point out the labels the illustrator has included to give more information about the illustrations. Say:
 - Look at the pictures on pages 4–5. Identify seeds you recognize. (Possible answers: acorn, sunflower seed, corn kernel, pea, dandelion seed)
- Read pages 6–13. Ask:
 - What happens first to make a seed grow? (A grain of pollen from the stamen lands on the stigma at the top of the same kind of flower the pollen came from.) What is this act called? (pollination)
 - Look at the picture on page 9. What process is shown? (pollination) How is this process happening? (Wind blows pollen from one flower to another.)
 - Look at the pictures on page 11. How is pollination happening? (Pollen on the bee's and the bird's body is coming off onto the pistil of the flower.)
 - Look at the text and picture on page 13. How is a pod similar to a fruit? (They protect seeds.)

After-Reading Activities 5 min
