

Resume, CV & Cover Letter Writing

CV versus Resume

Category	Curriculum Vitae	Resume
What is it?	A complete list of your professional and educational history	A summary of your experience and skills that are most pertinent to your targeted job.
How long is it?	Usually many pages; length is not important.	Usually one page for students and one -two pages based upon level of experience and work history.
When do I use it?	Used for academic positions and research positions in government and industry.	Used for every other job outside of academia and research.
Do I include my publications, patents, trademarks, etc.	A full listing of publications, patents, trademarks, etc. are essential.	Rarely listed on resumes. Often listed separately on an addendum.
How important is style and layout?	Style doesn't matter that much, content is what matters most.	Both style and content are important. Bad style is a liability.
Should I modify it to match each specific job to which I am applying?	CV's do not need much alteration to fit each specific job opening.	Resumes should be adapted to fit each specific job to which you are applying.
Are references listed?	Typically references are listed at the end of the CV.	References are not listed on a resume. If required, you may submit a separate list of relevant references for each job; and generally only when requested.

Generally accepted guidelines...

- Be brief
- Be consistent: layout & writing style
- Know your audience: highlight relevant information
- Create a professional image

Contact Information

- Name
- Address: current and/or permanent
- Telephone number
  - Professional voice mail message
  - Be prepared to receive call
- Email address
  - Professional address

Summary of Qualifications / Profile

- Summary of skills & experience relevant to position or industry
- Differs from objective which indicates goal or position seeking
- May include academic background, relevant degree/s, skills, experience

Example of a Bad Cover Letter

To whom it may concern,

I am a junior at Boston University, working toward my bachelor's degree in Marketing. I discovered your internship program and I am writing to inquire about potential positions with Under Armour.

My courses in marketing have convinced me that sales and marketing is a career option I would like to explore. More importantly, an internship with Under Armour would be mutually beneficial and I would like it very much. Your company has an excellent reputation for customer satisfaction.

I know that the combination of my education and motivation to excel will make me an asset to your marketing department. My enclosed resume provides additional details about my background.

If possible, I would like to call you next week as to follow up to see if you would review my qualifications and consider me for a position for your company. If so, I hope to schedule an interview at a convenient time. I look forward to speaking with you. Should you have any questions before that time, you may reach me via phone (555-555-5555) or via email (student@bu.edu).

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Much Better

Dear Ms. Kelly:

I was given your name by Michelle Geller, a marketing professor at Boston University, who told me about the Marketing Associate position with ABC Consulting.

As a senior, marketing major with additional coursework in economics, I feel my academic background fits well with the nature of your work. I was an active leader in many of my upper level business projects and took advantage of every opportunity to learn about international markets. This past summer I interned at Morgan Stanley and was exposed to many areas of client services. This experience enabled me to understand marketing and consulting strategies as well as being a contributing member of some major team projects. These experiences, in and out the classroom, have solidified my interest in an organization like ABC Consulting.

My resume demonstrates a high level of involvement outside the classroom. I have been an active participant and have taken on leadership in many of my volunteer activities. Leading a major fund raising campaign for my fraternity and being a committee leader for Special Olympics have been highlights for me. My involvements at Boston University, as well as holding a part-time position throughout college convey a strong work ethic and boundless energy.

I look forward to the opportunity to meet with you to discuss my candidacy in more detail. Please contact me by phone or email if you need any additional information.
Thank you for your time and consideration.

Program Director
1916 Anywhere Street
New York, NY 10037

Dear Ms. Service:

Please consider this letter as an application for the position of student advocate which was listed on Idealist.org. The mission of the Children's Zone is similar to that of previous organizations where I have worked. This position appears tailor-made for my education and career interests of working with teens.

As my resume shows, during my internship at the End House, I co-led the after-school program. In this position, I tutored students individually and in school groups during homework time as well as participating in recreational activities with the children. My psychology major has helped me to better understand human behavior, social groups, and institutions. What I learned in and out of the classroom will assist me in working with teens to serve as a guide for your after-school program for high school students. In addition, my volunteer experiences have shown my ability to adapt to different environments and interact with different types of people, as well as my commitment and hard work.

Thank you for your time. I hope you will consider me for this position. I look forward to meeting you and discussing my qualifications in more detail. I can be reached at 555-333-0000.

Sincerely,

Jane Roe

Ms. Jane Smith
ABC Associates
1515 Anywhere Street
New York, NY 10010

Dear Ms. Smith:

I just completed reading the article in Business Today on ABC Associates. Your innovative approach to recruiting minorities is of particular interest to me because of my background in public relations and minority recruitment.

I am interested in learning more about your company and the possibilities of joining your team of highly qualified professionals. Please note my relevant qualifications:

- Researched and wrote articles on minority recruitment
- Helped to secure funding for minority programs
- Wrote several articles on education and minorities
- Organized campus-wide conference for Student Public Relations Society
- BA in English

I will be in New York City during the week of March 10th. Perhaps your schedule would permit us to meet briefly to discuss our mutual interests. I will call your office next week to see if such a meeting can be arranged. In the meantime, I am enclosing my resume for your review. I can be reached at 555-333-1234. Thank you for your consideration.

C Products Incorporated
762 Anywhere Avenue
Boston, MA 02110

Dear Mr. Hayes:

Thank you again for the opportunity to interview for the marketing position. I appreciated your hospitality and enjoyed meeting you and members of your staff.

The interview confirmed for me how compatible my background, interests, and skills are with the goals of C Products Incorporated. My prior marketing experience with the Department of Commerce has prepared me to take a major role in developing domestic and international marketing strategies. I am confident that my work could result in increased market shares for C Products Incorporated in the rapidly expanding Pacific Rim market.

Please feel free to contact Mr. John Smith at the Department of Commerce at 555-266-0000 if you would like more information on the new product promotion program that I mentioned. I spoke with Mr. Smith this morning and mentioned your interest in this program.

I look forward to meeting with you and your staff again.

Sincerely,

Matt Market
