28TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

They were exceedingly astonished and said among themselves,
"Then who can be saved?" Jesus looked at them and said,
"For human beings it is impossible, but not for God.
All things are possible for God." - Mk 10:26-27

How to Win Friends and Influence Enemies Part I of III

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Peace and Joy in Our Lord Jesus Christ!

I recently listened to a Catholic talk show host by the name of Jim Burnham. Jim is considered a wise sage in the Catholic media world who is known for his ability to share the faith in ways that are accessible to those blessed enough to hear him speak. During his show, Jim was discussing how to have meaningful conversations with people who would rather shut you up or as some say, “cancel you”.

Perhaps you have found yourself in a conversation with someone who disagrees with you. Learning these three very different ways arguments are often framed will better equip you in the conversation. Identifying these three ways of arguing are essential for every thoughtful person to grasp especially when confronted by those who disagree with you particularly in matters of faith and morals.

When challenged by someone who does not share our Catholic values or morals, there is a temptation to be silent and just listen to avoid conflict. Of course, there is a time to listen but there is also a time to speak. “There is an appointed time for everything” as we know from the Book of Ecclesiastes. The question is: Do you know when to be silent and when to speak out? Why do I ask? Because one of the many problems with the “silent and listen only” response is that the truth may not be spoken. This tactic often results in misinformation or disinformation leading uninformed or ill-formed people down the dark path of confusion.

Most people understand that there are many “verbal fallacies” that get tossed around. We all hear or see the fake news every day. There is a reason why some politicians and some media types belong to the least trusted group of people. Similarly, we all hear the lies that come from some celebrities’ mouths. You can also find fake personalities all over social media. It is helpful to recognize these fake and false statements that people use when presenting an argument or making their case for one thing or another. If you can identify these fallacies and dismantle them, you will be better able to communicate and even defend your thoughts.

Each of these arguments are often used to influence and even manipulate a conversation. The first type of argument is called argumentum ad baculum - the Latin loosely translates as an “appeal to the stick”. This style of argument uses force or even threats to make its point. It is meant to make or force others to accept their conclusion. Intimidation is the key to its success. The point of this type of argument is that the person who communicates this way is basically saying: “agree with me or else” or “agree with me or I will pummel you into submission” or “agree with me or bad things will happen to you.”

The reason this is obviously a dangerous and insidious way of arguing is that instead of arguing your case using logic, compelling reasons and facts, you are simply saying, “I want to force you to ‘adopt’ what I’m saying. I want you to ‘short-circuit’ the reasoning process. I don’t have to give you any reasons. I don’t have to make it appealing to you or convince you with an argument that is compelling to you. I want you to believe my truth and if you don’t bad things will happen.”

We see this type of argument used in our times to silence opposing views or cancel them all together. For example, there are those who will say “agree with us about Black Lives Matter or we will cancel you.” Others will say, “Agree with us about transgender rights. Agree with us that people can change their gender if they feel like it and if you disagree with us then we will de-platform you.” We have all experienced people accused of racism or sexism for no reason whatsoever. Similarly, people have been labelled as homophobic and transphobic because they don't have the same thoughts. We have all seen public figures who were harassed at their residence or at restaurants by others who disagree with them. Sadly, there is a corrupt attitude that says: “You must agree with us, or we will threaten physical harm or we will burn down your business or burn down your city or tear down your statues or make you pay a huge fine or close down your business.”

This argumentum ad baculum is really a popular way for people to argue lately but it not original. Bypassing reason to get to a coerced conclusion or coerced agreement has been around since the apple core hit the bushes. You may have heard the saying: “a man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still.” Forcing someone to except your conclusion without giving them proper reasons and arguments and facts may get compliance but you're not going to reach an agreement. People who disagree with you might be able to silence you by force, but they will not change your will or your thoughts. Unfortunately, the physical “beat down” is a way to express one's thoughts but it rarely changes hearts. Silencing people who disagree with them by threat of being canceled or by threat of being blackballed or by threat of you making sure you never work in this town again is not an acceptable way of winning an argument.

You may recall what happened in El Salvador in the 1980's. The gorillas had a slogan that was very chilling. They said: “vote in the morning, die in the afternoon.” They wanted to suppress the vote. There is also a famous line from Don Corleone in the movie the Godfather: “I'm going to make him an offer he can't refuse” and by that he means, “I'll will force him to do what I want” and if you have seen the movie, you know what he does to get the desired results. It's argumentum ad baculum - an appeal to the stick and an appeal to force or the threat of force to get your way.

To be continued next week...

God Bless,

Reflecting Heaven (Part XXV)

Notes on the St. Bernadette Sanctuary Renovation

by Deacon Peter Auriemma, M.D.

PART 25 - Our Saints and Blesseds in the Apse

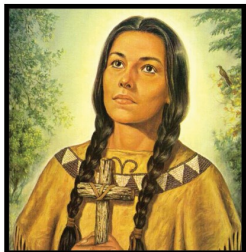

Juan Diego Cuauhtlatoatzin, (“one who speaks like an eagle”) (1474–1548), Married Layperson of the Archdiocese of Mexico City (Mexico City, Mexico); the first Catholic saint indigenous to the Americas; Our Blessed Mother Mary appeared to him four times and consecrated the North American continent by her presence; Declared Venerable: 9 April 1990; Beatified: 6 May 1990 by Pope John Paul II and Canonized: 31 July 2002 by Pope John Paul II; his feast day is December 9.

Isaac Jogues (1607–1646) One of the Jesuit North American Martyrs from France who worked among the Iroquois, Huron, and other Native populations in North America; martyred by the Mohawks in upstate New York in the Mohawk village of Ossernenon near the present-day city of Auriesville, New York, also the Shrine of the North American Martyrs; Beatified: 21 June 1925 by Pope Pius XI and Canonized: 29 June 1930 by Pope Pius XI; his feast day is October 19.

Kateri Tekakwitha (ca. 1656–1680), Layperson of the Archdiocese of Montreal (New York, U.S. – Québec, Canada); first Native American to be canonized a saint; Tekakwitha is the name given her by her Mohawk people which means “She who bumps into things;” born around 1656 in the Mohawk village of Ossernenon in Northeastern New York state, where St. Isaac Jogues had been martyred 10 years earlier; her father was a Mohawk brave and her mother was a Christian Huron; she survived a smallpox epidemic, which took the lives of her parents, but it left her scarred and partially blind; she was converted to Christianity by the French Jesuits and was baptized Catherine; she became an outcast by her tribe after her conversion; she travelled to Quebec so that she could freely practice her Faith, and she took a vow of perpetual virginity; upon her death at the age of 24, witnesses said that her scars vanished minutes later, and her face appeared radiant and beautiful; she was known for her virtue of chastity, as well as being shunned by her tribe for her religious conversion to Catholicism; Declared Venerable: 3 January 1943; Beatified: 22 June 1980 by Pope John Paul II and Canonized: 21 October 2012 by Pope Benedict XVI; her feast day is July 14.

Frances Xavier Cabrini (1850–1917), (Lodi, Italy – Illinois, U.S.), affectionately known as Mother Cabrini; Founder of the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, the first order of missionary nuns; she was sent to the USA by Pope Leo XIII to assist the many Italian immigrants; she established schools and orphanages despite tremendous odds, and she was as resourceful as she was prayerful; she became an American citizen in 1909; after founding 67 missionary institutions to serve the sick and poor crossing the Atlantic Ocean more than 30 times, she died in Chicago on December 22, 1917; she is the first American citizen to be declared a saint; Declared Venerable: 21 November 1937; Beatified: 13 November 1938 by Pope Pius XI; Canonized: 7 July 1946 by Pope Pius XII; her feast day is November 13.

Elizabeth Ann Bayley Seton (1774–1821), Widow; Founder of the Daughters of Charity of Saint Vincent de Paul in the United States; (New York, U.S. – Maryland, U.S.); first native born American to be declared a saint; born in New York two years prior to the American Revolution; baptized into the Anglican Church; in 1794, at age 19, Elizabeth married William Magee Seton, aged 25, a wealthy businessman in the import trade; they had five children; they were very prominent in New York society; she was a devout Episcopalian and very active in social ministry - nursing the sick and dying among family, friends, and needy neighbors; in the troublesome years following the establishment of the American Republic, the loss of several ships at sea led William Seton into bankruptcy; his health also began to fail from tuberculosis which led to William and Elizabeth travelling to Italy in order to recuperate; however, he died after arriving at Livorno in 1803; while in Italy, Elizabeth became interested in the Catholic Faith, especially drawn by the Real Presence in the Eucharist; she returned to America and despite pressure from her family, she converted to Catholicism in 1805; ostracized for her Catholic faith, she moved to Baltimore in 1809; there she founded the first religious order of American women and moving to Emmitsburg, Maryland, she established the Catholic parochial school system in the US; she overcame many difficulties, including the deaths of two of her children; she died on January 4, 1821, at the age of 46 Declared Venerable: 18 December 1959; Beatified: 17 March 1963 by Pope John XXIII and Canonized: 14 September 1975 by Pope Paul VI; feast day January 4.

John Nepomucene Neumann

(1811–1860), professed Priest of the Redemptorists; Archbishop of Philadelphia; Founder of the Sisters of Saint Francis of Philadelphia (Prachatic, Czech Republic – Pennsylvania, U.S.); missionary to the US from Bohemia; ministered in the Buffalo, New York area; named the fourth Archbishop of Philadelphia; served the growing Catholic immigrant population in Philadelphia - Germans, Irish, Italians and other southern and eastern European Catholics; his fluency in several languages endeared him to the many new immigrant communities, and he supervised the building of parish churches and schools; Declared Venerable: 11 December 1921; Beatified: 13 October 1963 by Pope Paul VI and Canonized: 19 June 1977 by Pope Paul VI; feast day January 5.

Rose-Philippine Duchesne

(1769–1852), Professed Religious of the Society of the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Jesus (Isère, France – Missouri, U.S.); she was a prominent early member of the Religious Sisters of the Sacred Heart of Jesus; she founded the congregation's first communities in the United States; she spent the last half of her life teaching and serving the people of the Midwestern United States, then the western frontier of the nation; at age 71, she joined in a new mission with the Potawatomi tribe in eastern Kansas; unable to master their language, she could not teach, so she would spend long periods in prayer; she was known as The Woman Who Prays Always; she died on November 18, 1852, aged 83; Declared Venerable: 17 March 1935; Beatified: 12 May 1940 by Pope Pius XII and Canonized: 3 July 1988 by Pope John Paul II; feast day November 18.

Katharine Mary Drexel

(1858–1955), Founder of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament for Indians and Colored People (Pennsylvania, U.S.); she was born into Philadelphia Society; the wealthy heiress used her massive fortune to found a religious order specifically for the evangelization and catechesis of Native Americans and African Americans; she established 145 missions, 50 schools for African Americans, and 12 schools for Native Americans, including Xavier University of Louisiana, the only historically black Catholic college in the US, and she staffed a mission among the Navajos in Arizona; Mother Katharine Drexel died at the age of 97, on March 3, 1955; Declared Venerable: 26 January 1987; Beatified: 20 November 1988 by Pope John Paul II and Canonized: 1 October 2000 by Pope John Paul II; feast day March 3.

Anne-Thérèse Guérin, designated by the Vatican as Saint Theodora, (Mother Théodore) (1798–1856), Founder of the Sisters of Providence of Saint Mary-of-the-Woods (Côtes-d'Armor, France – Indiana, U.S.); she immigrated to Indiana from France in 1840, and became known for her advancement of education, especially in Indiana and in eastern Illinois; she founded numerous schools including Saint Mary-of-the-Woods College at Saint Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana; and was known for her loving care of the orphaned, the sick, and the poor of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Vincennes, Indiana; she was a skilled businesswoman and leader as well as a beloved general superior and spiritual leader, overcoming numerous challenges and hardships during her ministry; she suffered from poor health for most of her adult life, and died on 14 May 1856 at the motherhouse at Saint Mary-of-the-Woods, Indiana, at fifty-seven; Declared Venerable: 11 July 1992; Beatified: 25 October 1998 by Pope John Paul II and Canonized: 15 October 2006 by Pope Benedict XVI; feast day May 14.

October Service Project Culture of Life

Baby Bottle Drive

to benefit

Distribution of bottles Oct. 9/10
Collection on October 16/17

St. Bernadette is hosting the annual Baby Bottle Drive fundraiser for Life Choices Women's Clinics. Bottles will be passed out this weekend and will be collected the weekend of Oct. 16/17. Everyone is invited to take home a bottle and fill it with cash, a check, or loose change. Please make checks payable to Life Choices Women's Center. All proceeds from this fundraiser will benefit Life Choices.

On March 17, 2020 just as the country was shutting down and making a run on toilet paper, a mother got out of her car and walked directly to the mobile clinic. She was being pressured to abort her baby. After the ultrasound she wanted to protect her child but she needed help and a safe place to live. Life Choices was able to put her in a weekly hotel and help her get into a safe place. That little boy saved from abortion during the first wave of COVID was born.

During 2020, Life Choices Women's Clinic was working to get plans approved to remodel the new office and move into a new property but faced many delays because of COVID restrictions. They were able to move into the new 7th Street office in December. This office has a large sign and 100 ft. of frontage on 7th Street making to make it easier for people to find them. The new office is very professional and will help them see more patients. In fact, 1,943 pregnancy tests, 1,526 ultrasounds and a total of 6,186 office visits were completed last year.

Help to vulnerable babies, women in need, and the men who are called to defend and support them is available from Life Choices Women's Clinics. Thank you for being apart of their family.

OCTOBER IS RESPECT LIFE MONTH

The Culture of Life Committee's Baby Bottle Drive is in its 11th year and supports local crisis pregnancy centers. To date, we have donated over $30,000 in financial support to help women, the preborn, and their families embrace life. Your support is gratefully appreciated and has helped many women, babies, and families in the Phoenix area.

Join us for Perpetual Adoration

Could you not keep watch for one hour? Jesus asked Peter in the Garden at Gethsemane (Mark 14:37).

One hour. The amount of time Christ asked Peter, James, and John to stay awake and pray with him.

One hour. One day a week. The amount of time needed to serve as a perpetual adorer. We still have many hours to fill!

Time slots are now available beginning on the half hour. Ask a friend to share an hour with you so that you always have a backup.
