Добро пожаловать! Welcome to First-Year Russian!

Beginning Russian is the first part in a three-part sequence designed to develop the skills of speaking, listening, writing, and reading through a variety of communicative and content-based activities. Emphasis will be placed on practical communication so that students should be able to function in many authentic situations at a beginner's level by the end of the year.

Student Evaluation:

Grades are based on active and consistent participation, regular and on time completion of assignments, and oral and written evaluations during quizzes and exams.

Composition of Grades:

25%	Classroom attendance and participation
25%	Homework
25%	Quizzes

25% Final exam

Books for purchase:

Beginner's Russian

Course Requirements

All aspects of the course will be graded in Russian fashion.

5=excellent (A), 4=good (B), 3=satisfactory (C), 2=unsatisfactory (D), 1=failure (F), 0=absent

Attendance - You must attend all classes.

If you are well prepared, have done the assignment conscientiously, and participate enthusiastically you will receive a 5.

If one of those qualities is missing you will receive a 4.

A 3 is given if you are not well prepared or do not participate enthusiastically.

A 2 is given for a complete failure to prepare.

If you fail to prepare and participate you will receive a 1.

Even if you haven't done the assignment it is to your advantage to attend class, for an absence is given a 0. Note that missing class can have a serious detrimental effect on your grade for the course. If you will not be attending class for medical reasons send an e-mail to both instructors PRIOR to the start of class.

Late Work is not advisable. You must keep pace!

Homework should be written in cursive and exemplary, something any Russian could be proud of.

Neat work with five or fewer errors is a 5.

Fewer than 10 errors is a 4.

More than 10 is a 3.

A homework that fails to indicate sufficient effort or care to detail will be given a 1 and must be rewritten. Homework submitted after the due date will be corrected, but will impact negatively on your final grade.

Tests

You will have an in-class quiz at the end of each two units.

The first quiz is scheduled for September, 25.

If you have to miss a quiz with a Dean's excuse, please email Professor Wieda to schedule a make-up.

Final Exam: You will have a self-scheduled final exam in this class. That means that you can take your final exam any time during the exam week, December 11 – December 16.

Makeup - permitted only for medical reasons or personal emergencies.

The Honor Code

Please remember your pledge to uphold the Honor Code. Professors at Middlebury are required to report to the College any violations of the Code.

Much of the work of the course depends on group efforts and interactions. Consulting a dictionary or an online resource, asking someone for assistance, or visiting a language tutor is an intelligent way to do good work. However, representing someone else's work as your own is academically dishonest and is not tolerated at Middlebury. When in doubt, give credit to others involved in your work, and cite that assistance at the bottom of the assignment. Ex. "Olya helped me with numbers two and three," or "Sasha and I worked together on this assignment."
