Premiere Products Background

The diagram illustrates a 'Sample Order' form. It is divided into several sections: a 'Heading' section at the top containing order and date information; a customer information section; a table of 'Order lines' with columns for part number, description, quantity, price, and total; and a 'Footing' section at the bottom for the order total. Annotations in ovals point to these sections: 'Heading' points to the top header area, 'Order lines' points to the table, 'Footing' points to the bottom total row, and 'Body' points to the right side of the table. An 'Extensions' oval points to the price column of the second order line.
