

Scottish Wildlife

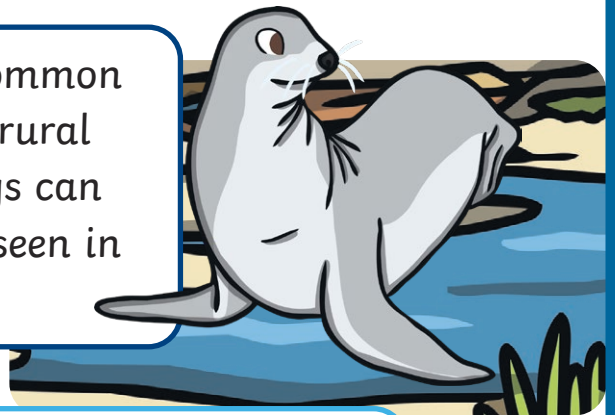

Animals and plants that live in the wild in Scotland are known as Scottish wildlife. They live independently of people. Wildlife can be found in lots of different places, including cities, towns, forests, mountains and beaches.

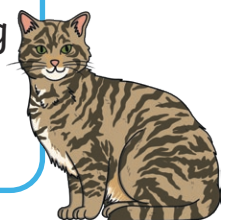

There are thousands of different species of Scottish wildlife. Sea eagles, ospreys and buzzards are birds of prey found in Scotland. Puffins and terns are seabirds.

Red deer, grey seals and otters are common mammals in Scotland, often seen in rural or coastal areas. Foxes and hedgehogs can be found in rural areas but are also seen in urban areas too.

Unfortunately, some wildlife in Scotland is endangered, including wildcats and red squirrels. We can help to protect them by looking after their habitats.

Questions

1. What is Scottish wildlife?

Scottish wildlife is

2. What type of birds are sea eagles, ospreys and buzzards? Tick one.

seabirds

birds of prey

garden birds

3. Find a word in the text that means the countryside.

4. Number the sentences to show the order they come in the text.

The first one has been done for you.

Puffins and terns are seabirds.

Unfortunately, some wildlife in Scotland is endangered, including wildcats and red squirrels.

1 There are many different species of Scottish wildlife.

We can help to protect them by looking after their habitats.

Questions

5. How can we help to protect endangered animals?

We can help to protect endangered animals by _____

6. Write the name of and draw a picture of a Scottish wild animal.

Answers

1. What is Scottish wildlife?

Scottish wildlife is animals and plants that live in the wild in Scotland, independently of people.

2. What type of birds are sea eagles, ospreys and buzzards? Tick one.

seabirds

birds of prey

garden birds

3. Find a word in the text that means the countryside.

'Rural' means 'the countryside'.

4. Number the sentences to show the order they come in the text.

The first one has been done for you.

2 Puffins and terns are seabirds.

3 Unfortunately, some wildlife in Scotland is endangered, including wildcats and red squirrels.

1 There are many different species of Scottish wildlife.

4 We can help to protect them by looking after their habitats.

5. How can we help to protect endangered animals?

We can help to protect endangered animals by looking after their habitats.

6. Write the name of and draw a picture of a Scottish wild animal.

Children's own responses