CURRENT COST LITERATURE

Our Cost Literature Bulletins, which are issued on the fifteenth of each month, contain all the available references to cost articles and cost material published for the most part during the past month. The references are classified according to industries and topics. It is to be hoped that this arrangement will make the references more useful to our members, and facilitate preserving them for future reference.

Whenever two or more articles from the same magazine are listed the address of the magazine is given only in connection with the first listing.

Arrangements have been made with The Engineering Societies Library, whereby that library will usually supply photostatic copies (white printing on black background) of any of the articles listed herein. The price of each print, up to 11 by 14 inches in size, is 25 cents plus postage. A separate print is required for each page of the larger periodicals, but whenever possible, two pages will be photographed together on the same print. To avoid misunderstanding as to charges, orders for prints should not ordinarily be placed until special inquiry as to the total number of pages has been made. When ordering prints, identify the article by quoting from the Bulletin item the following: (1) Title of article (2) name of periodical in which it appeared, (3) volume, number and date of publication of periodical, and (4) page numbers. Orders should be sent to Engineering Societies Library, 29 West 39th St., New York, N. Y.

If desired, a member may usually secure a copy of any of the magazines referred to by ordering direct from the publisher.

Comptometer proof reveals the truth

FAILURE to prove the true output capacity of adding-calculating machines at the time of purchase is a frequent source of disappointment and loss to buyers.

There is only one definite, decisive, unimpeachable proof of output capacity. It is the proof of production—timed production on a cross-section of regular work.

Consider, of course, all claims, good points and special features. But before deciding, insist on production proof—proof that reveals the truth—Comptometer proof.
