Introduction and acknowledgements

The uptake of Foucault's work within the discipline of education is now enormous and this bibliography makes no claims to being comprehensive. Most of the material in this bibliography was published after 2010 which is when I started the Foucault News blog. The focus is mainly on English language material.

For a comprehensive overview of English language research in education prior to 2007, please consult Bernadette Baker (2007). Normalizing Foucault? A Rhizomatic Approach to Plateaus in Anglophone Educational Research. Foucault Studies, 4, 78-119 and Bernadette Baker and Katharina Heyning (2004) Dangerous coagulations? Research, education, and a traveling Foucault. In Baker, B., & Heyning, K. (Eds.) 2004. Dangerous coagulations? The uses of Foucault in the study of education. New York, NY: Peter Lang. pp. 1-84.

I would like to thank Julie Nickerson for her wonderful work painstakingly collating material from the education category on the Foucault News blog, updating referencing details and formatting the items into APA. I am also grateful to Megan Kimber for providing earlier assistance in finding many of the pre 2010 journal articles.
