First Reading:

Sir 35:12-14, 16-18

The LORD is a God of justice, who knows no favorites. Though not unduly partial toward the weak, yet he hears the cry of the oppressed. The Lord is not deaf to the wail of the orphan, nor to the widow when she pours out her complaint. The one who serves God willingly is heard; his petition reaches the heavens. The prayer of the lowly pierces the clouds; it does not rest till it reaches its goal, nor will it withdraw till the Most High responds, judges justly and affirms the right, and the Lord will not delay.

Responsorial Psalm: Ps 34:2-3, 17-18, 19, 23

R. The Lord hears the cry of the poor.

I will bless the LORD at all times; his praise shall be ever in my mouth. Let my soul glory in the LORD; the lowly will hear me and be glad.

R/

The LORD confronts the evildoers, to destroy remembrance of them from the earth. When the just cry out, the LORD hears them, and from all their distress he rescues them. R/

The LORD is close to the brokenhearted; and those who are crushed in spirit he saves. The LORD redeems the lives of his servants; no one incurs guilt who takes refuge in him. R/

Second Reading: 2 Tm 4:6-8, 16-18

Beloved: I am already being poured out like a libation, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have competed well; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. From now on the crown of righteousness awaits me, which the Lord, the just judge, will award to me on that day, and not only to me, but to all who have longed for his appearance. At my first defense no one appeared on my behalf, but everyone deserted me. May it not be held against them! But the Lord stood by me and gave me strength, so that through me the proclamation might be completed and all the Gentiles might hear it. And I was rescued from the lion's mouth. The Lord will rescue me from every evil threat and will bring me safe to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory forever and ever. Amen.

Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia! 2 Cor 5:19

God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, and entrusting to us the message of salvation.

R. Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia!

Gospel: Lk 18:9-14

Jesus addressed this parable to those who were convinced of their own righteousness and despised everyone else. "Two people went up to the temple area to pray; one was a Pharisee and the other was a tax collector. The Pharisee took up his position and spoke this prayer to himself, 'O God, I thank you that I am not like the rest of humanity -- greedy, dishonest, adulterous -- or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week, and I pay tithes on my whole income.' But the tax collector stood off at a distance and would not even raise his eyes to heaven but beat his breast and prayed, 'O God, be merciful to me a sinner.' I tell you, the latter went home justified, not the former; for whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted."

Recessional Hymn:

1. O God beyond all praising, we worship you today / And sing the love amazing that songs cannot repay;
For we can only wonder at ev'ry gift you send, / At blessings without number and mercies without end.
We lift our hearts before you and wait upon your word; / We honor and adore you, our great and mighty Lord.
2. Then hear, O gracious Savior, accept the love we bring, / That we who know your favor may serve you as our King; / And whether our tomorrows be filled with good or ill, / We'll triumph through our sorrows and rise to bless you still, / To marvel at your beauty and glory in you ways, / And make a joyful duty our sacrifice of praise.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,
 These past two weeks have emphasized the necessity of constant prayer in our lives. We do not come to the Lord only when we need something, but rather, we keep open and regular conversation with Him from the moment of our awakening until we close our eyes in sleep. Throughout the course of the day, there are innumerable moments when we really need to turn to the Lord with simple requests: "Please advise me Lord; Lord give me strength in knowing how to treat this particular person in charity; Lord is it Your will or mine at stake here?; Lord have mercy; Lord, slow me down." These are just a few of the ways we allow God to direct our lives in His peace. It surely does not mean we will not have challenges. They are a part of life, but we never have to face those challenges alone.

St. Paul, in today's lesson, while waiting to be executed for Christ, catches himself. First, he is feeling abandoned by his colleagues, and then he comes to realize Christ is there beside him in his agony. Perhaps too often, we are looking for solace from human beings when in prayer we need to re-orient ourselves to the abiding presence of the Lord. That is the beginning of humility which we see so well expressed in the publican's prayer in the temple. The Pharisee is saying: "You owe me, God". The publican is saying: "I owe You." Is that not what our life should be? An I owe you to God. When we consider the blessings, the gifts, the mercy that has been showered on us, how can we not in prayerful gratitude return adoration, respect, obedience, and above all, love to God. This is the mark of humility. This is the prayer that "pierces the heavens."

With Blessings,

Father Langan

Faith Facts

“You shall help to provide for the needs of the Church.”

This means that the faithful are obliged to assist with the material needs of the Church, each according to their own ability. Since we are unable to do anything that is good without God’s help, our earthly treasures are a blessing from Him. Jesus extolled the widow who gave from her ‘want’ rather than her surplus and also told how we should be storing up treasures in heaven for our eternal life.
