A Note From Chef & Owner Chris Ives

Over 30 Years Experience

New Jersey's Sir Ives Caterers, headquartered in Monroe Township in Middlesex County, was founded in 1981 by professionally-trained chef, Christopher Ives.

Trained at Johnson & Wales University in Providence, RI and the illustrious Le Cordon Bleu in Paris, Chris eventually launched his own NJ catering company after working as a general manager opening restaurants in new hotels throughout the metro New York City area.

Still under his management today, Sir Ives includes off-site event planning and full-service catering for both formal and casual weddings, corporate meetings and business events and special occasions.

A catering philosophy focused on quality, service and experience Chris says that providing clients with outstanding catering quality and service will always stand the test of time, whether you are seeking home catering or off-site catering at the destination of your choice.

"Helping clients plan and enjoy catered meetings, events and celebrations has always been my passion," Chris says. "My team has been with me for a long time and we still get excited to plan and manage every wedding, special occasion and business event."

"Sir Ives is New Jersey's top off-site caterer because we are 100 percent reliable, have integrity and care about satisfying every client from brides and grooms, to meeting planners and families celebrating Bar Mitzvahs and Sweet 16's". We look forward to helping you with your catering needs.

ALL OCCASION OFF PREMISE CATERING

All of our menu packages are delivered to your location at the requested time. Packages will include: fresh baked rolls, complete paperware, forks, knives, plates, bowls and serving utensils. We will also include chafing dishes and sternos. Sir Ives offers different levels of service depending on the event you are planning. We can do pick up and drop off or we can offer full service catering which includes our staff or more elaborate setups with chafing dishes and china service. In the event a client wants a middle ground, we can offer our upscale white caterware which includes plates, cups, bowls and coffee tumblers. We can also add linen tablecloths and floral centerpieces.
