

Spelling Curriculum Grade 3 Routine

This document is a complete spelling curriculum, covering some basic Language Arts skills, for Grade 3.

No workbooks are necessary; simply make a copy of each page in the document for each student in the class. The complete word list for the week is on each page.

Cut pages into thirds or halves as indicated. Collate pages and bundle the spelling lists in one binder clip, all of Monday in another, Tuesday, etc. Put these bundles in a folder with the day of the week at the top for easy location of the correct sheet, taking out the page needed for each day. Larger classrooms may require a separate folder for each day of the week.

After the first couple weeks of school (in which I give careful instruction and guidance in how to complete each page), I generally have the sheets on the students' desks when they arrive in the morning; they treat them as bell work and usually have the page completed before school begins each day. I then check the papers by lunchtime and have them in the cubbies for the students to take home in the afternoon.

Trouble Alphabetizing? Make an extra copy of the word list for the student who has trouble with such a long list. Cut the words apart. Teach the student to first locate all the "a" words and put them in order, then the "b" words and so on. A few weeks of this technique and they are able to alphabetize the entire list without having the extra help.

I have students write the numbers of the words first and let me check that part before writing all the words. That way, if they do have difficulty on an assignment they only need to erase the numbers, not the words too. This is less discouraging for the student.

Dyslexia Tendencies? One trick I used to help students with dyslexia was to highlight each syllable in the word a different color. Or, in short words, highlight the base word one color and the suffix or prefix another. It was a pleasant surprise to see how helpful this little trick proved to be for the struggling student.

Instruct the students to do their spelling early in the day so you can get it checked and recorded promptly. Then, the paper can go home with the students that afternoon and every family will have a copy of the spelling words to assist their children in learning them. YEAH! No late night calls to ask the teacher for the list. SWEET! 😊

Flow of the Program

Monday – Read each word to the teacher. Write each word two times; first in manuscript, second in cursive.

Tuesday – Put words in alphabetical order.

Wednesday – Look up two of the words and write the dictionary definition and part of speech for each of them.

Thursday – Illustrate two of the words. Tell the part of speech of those two words.

Friday – Take the test. Get a 100!
