TCU Silver Frogs

Spring 2022 Course and Lecture Request Process: January 11 – 17, 2022

- Members will have seven days (January 11 @ 9am – January 17 @ 4pm) to request and prioritize their courses and lectures. This process is done online on the Silver Frogs website, www.lifelong.tcu.edu
- Members can request up to 6 programs—any combination of courses and lectures
- Members can make adjustments to their requests up until Tuesday, January 18 at 12pm
- TCU will run the computer-generated Request Allocation program to place members in courses and lectures based on listed priorities, space, etc in a lottery fashion.
- Members will receive confirmation of their courses and lectures by Thursday, January 20th
- After the conclusion of the Request and Allocation period, members can sign up for any remaining offerings—no limit beginning on Friday, January 21st beginning at 9am.

See Sample at Back of Catalog!!

ARTS, CULTURE & TRAVEL

60's R&R: When the Music Was Hummable and the Lyrics Mattered

This course covers roughly the years 1960-1970 when Top 40 ruled the airwaves, focusing on the different types of music from folk to pop to psychedelic to the British Invasion. We will put the music of the baby-boomer generation into the context of the "Angry Decade." We will listen to a lot of wonderful music and analyze some lyrics because that's what we did in the '60s! If you've taken this course before, sign up again; there's lots more music to be played and different artists to discuss.

Date(s): 2/8/2022 - 3/1/2022      Time: 9:00AM - 10:30AM      Session(s): 4      Day: Tu

Format: ON-CAMPUS SESSION      Course ID: F22SSFACT010A

Instructor: Selcer, Richard & Plante, Colin

MORE Digital Photography

This course will briefly review the material covered in the previous course: the basics of photography, primary functions of the DSLR camera, and introduction to manual and semi-auto modes. A brief review of the basics of photography: such as ISO, aperture, shutter speed, depth of field, focal length, and various lenses will be followed by new topics which will build on these basics. Students will learn about exposure compensation, metering modes, understanding the histogram, and various focus modes. Subject matter topics such as composition, framing of the image, artistic use of depth of field, and use of natural lighting will be covered. Introduction to using the camera-mounted flash and a tripod for low light photography will also be discussed.

Date(s): 2/8/2022 - 3/1/2022      Time: 11:00AM - 12:30PM      Session(s): 4      Day: Tu

Format: ON-CAMPUS SESSION      Course ID: F22SSFACT045A

Instructor: Smith, Randy

The 1960's Folk Music Revival in Four Acts

The history of this revival illustrated by using 4 musical acts (approximately) to explain aspects of what Dave Van Ronk called "The Great Folk Scare". The Kingston Trio (and others) : making folk music safe. Dave Van Ronk (and Joan Baez): the revenge of the "pure" folksingers. Bob Dylan: the rise of the singer/songwriters. Artist(s) to be named later: the folk revival evolves.

Exploring Alaska: An Exploration of the National Parks in Alaska

This lecture is an interactive exploration of Alaska and its 8 National Parks. Alaska is not an easy state to explore and often takes a lot of planning (and sometimes a little luck) to get to these 8 very remote parks. We will walk through all the steps it took to visit these parks over 38 days, including: 9 commercial airline legs, 4 airplane charters, 6 float planes, a research boat, a tour boat, a bus, an UnCruise, an old pickup truck, and more!

Date(s): 2/10/2022 - 2/10/2022      Time: 9:00AM - 10:30AM      Session(s): 1      Day: Th

Touring Iceland on Your Own

Join Brenda Tindel and Joe Algermissen as they share what they learned from traveling through Iceland by auto. Their trip included both the Golden Circle and the complete Ring Road around the island nation. See geysers, glaciers, icebergs, waterfalls, a junction of continental plates, and the amazing variety of terrain along the country's only highway. Also see sheep, Icelandic horses, seals, and puffins. Add in the striking Hallgrimskirkja church, the Sun Voyager sculpture, and the famous Blue Lagoon, and you'll get an idea what Iceland has to offer. This might even help you plan a trip to this fascinating country.

Remembering When Fort Worth Rocked to Local Artists

In the 1960s and early '70s, the Fort Worth-Dallas music scene was vibrant with lots of popular groups playing in local clubs and battle-of-the-band contests. Getting your songs on local radio stations was the measuring stick of success. Some bands never went beyond their local fan base. A few made the national charts. Join us as we listen to the music of some of the most beloved of those artists.

Building Valued, Trusted Relationships with Friends from the Middle East

What is the key to world peace? I believe it centers around building one-on-one trusted relationships. Valuing those who are different than us. Listening to different opinions and respecting other cultures. The list is endless yet totally achievable! Join me as we explore the cultural differences between born-and-bred-Americans and people with a Middle Eastern heritage. Whether you are interacting with those with an Arab culture here in the U.S. or in their country, we need to do so from a place of understanding and respect. We will talk about all things Arab including food, attire, beliefs and more - AND I'll be sharing a lot of funny stories from the years I've worked with many dear, Middle Eastern friends.

They Wrote the Songs

We remember our favorite songs from the '60s and who sang them, but seldom can we identify who wrote the song -- or care! But there would have been no hit without the songwriter(s). A surprising number of hits came from the same handful of writers, solos and teams. "Words & music by" is an unexplored area of '60s music. We'll explore it! Optional reading: Always Magic in the Air, by Ken Emerson (New York: Penguin Viking Books, 2005).

The Boxer Rebellion: 55 Days in Peking

In the summer of 1900, increased Western encounters with an increasingly destabilized Chinese Qing Dynasty led to the rise of the anti-foreigner movement led by the "Boxers." As the insurrection spread in China, by June they had converged on Peking in a siege of the foreign legations that lasted for 55 days. A multinational relief force, including the United States, arrived by sea and fought their way to the capital to relieve the legations. The lecture will include material on the origins of the Boxers, the Legations, the Relief Expedition (with emphasis on the use of American forces) and the aftermath of the event.

The Old Chisholm Trail: From Cow Path to Tourist Stop

Controversy over the name and route of the Chisholm Trail has persisted over time; and the popularity of late nineteenth-century Wild West shows, dime novels, and twentieth-century radio, movie, and television western drama has propelled the bygone era of the cattle trail into myth. The rise of automobile tourism, potential economic impact of tourists, and the appearance of numerous "historical" markers based on little more than hearsay contributed to the Chisholm Trail legend. Primary documents and sources that may have been unavailable to previous historians will be used to offer a new look at the Old Chisholm Trail.

Warriors in Black Robes: Stories of the Chaplains That Served in the Revolutionary War

"In the language of the Holy Writ, there is a time for all things. There is a time to preach and a time to fight. And now is the time to fight." With those words Rev. John Muhlenberg stepped from his pulpit, removed his clerical robe, and revealed the uniform of a colonial officer. He then marched off to war. This presentation is about ministers that became chaplains in the American Army during the Revolution. Most of the men were not content with just administering to the spiritual needs of the troops, but they also took up the musket for the cause of liberty.

A Texan in Search of a Fight: Civil War Soldiers from the Lone Star State

Texas soldiers were different. Soldiers from the other states, both North and South, knew the reputation of the Texans for hard fighting. Men from the Lone Star state had an image to uphold from the days when Texas had been an independent Republic. We will look at how Texans earned this unique status and why they thought it was important. We will also look at some of the best-known units from Texas as well as their families. Most men who fought in the war were citizen-soldiers, not professionals, and while they fought to defend their beliefs, a primary goal of a citizen-soldier was always to ensure the safety of his family at home.

More than 30 million copies of Gone with the Wind have been sold worldwide and it was one of the most influential books of the twentieth century. The movie version in 1939 remains one of the most successful films in box-office history. But does Mitchell's story live up to the expectations of a Civil War historian? We will discuss the wartime events depicted in the book, with a focus on Gen. William T. Sherman's capture of Atlanta and his March to the Sea (from Atlanta to Savannah) in 1864 and how it touched the people of Georgia, especially Mitchell's fictional characters of Scarlett O'Hara, Rhett Butler, and others.

The Unbreakable Enigma Machine

Prior to and throughout World War II, the German political and military commands encoded all messages sent over their radio networks to prevent the Allies from collecting this invaluable intelligence. They were so positive in the security of their Enigma system that they trusted it until the end of the war. Unknown to the Germans, the Allies had begun intercepting and decoding most of their highest level communications in the early 1930's and continued breaking the code throughout the war. The movie, The Imitation Game, is about Alan Turing, one of the principle code breakers and the work carried out by the British at Bletchley Park. The allies' ability to read the German's daily mail was a very closely guarded secret. This remarkable feat has been credited with shortening WW II by at least two years and saving millions of lives. The phenomenal accomplishments of Turing and the other Bletchley Park cryptanalyst were not publicly acknowledged until the early 1970's and many died without ever being recognized for this miraculous feat. This lecture will review the Enigma machine's history, its operation, and the allies' successful effort to break the code, even as it changed daily throughout the war.

Why Don't Those Millennials and Gen Zers Make Any Sense? Improving Intergenerational Communication

So many generations! So much confusion! Traditionalists, Baby Boomers, Gen X, Millennial, and Gen Z are alive and well today and differ greatly. Each brings value to a family or organization. Each also brings unique differences-- oftentimes evident in communication styles and values. If we better understand what makes each generation tick, we'll have greater success interacting with younger generations. Do you want to improve communication with your children? What about your grandchildren and great grandchildren (what are they saying anyway???)!!) Let's talk about how to bridge these information gaps and see that we really do have a lot to learn from one another. (And by the way, there's a new yet-to-be-named generation now living - the 15-year-olds! Yikes!)

Women's Closet and Wardrobe Planning

Do you ever say the following to yourself: I have a closet full of clothes, but nothing to wear; I get a panicky feeling when I walk into my closet to select an outfit; I spend too much time getting dressed; I spend too much money on clothes that I don't wear; I apologize for appearance sometimes. You will learn how to organize the clothes in your closet and how to evaluate what items to keep. It is time to declutter your life by decluttering your closet.

Explorations of Societal Ethics: Discussions of Ethical Dilemmas

The course will present selected societal issues and elicit discussion. Topics will be relevant to today's world, but will be derived from a novel, 'Explorations of Societal Ethics', which has a setting which forces ethical decisions. Text excerpts describing dilemmas will be provided in advance. Discussions should stimulate participants to think about the options involved and rationale for decisions. Although fictional, the situations presented in the books are issues that we face during life. All of us, including our grandchildren, could benefit from thinking in advance about how we, and society, should respond to similar difficult ethical situations.

God and the Novel: Yaa Gyasi's "Transcendent Kingdom"

Born in Ghana and raised in Alabama, Yaa Gyasi is one of the most intriguing voices in contemporary literature. And her stirring tale of longing and loss in the lives of West African immigrants to the United States raises transcendent questions, the so-called Big Questions about life and meaning and God. Silver Frogs will discuss as well as read Gyasi's novel, which has been called "a book of blazing brilliance," and they will find themselves challenged to see how many of the ideas in this story underlie and influence the way we think today.

The Mystery of Prophecy

What shall we make of biblical prophecy in our scientific era? Prophetic literature is part of the foundation of Western civilization. Did prophets truly speak for God? If so, why do we not have new prophets in our time—or do we? If not, what did prophets and their followers think was going on when they claimed divine authority?

SCIENCE, COMPUTERS & TECHNOLOGY

Ancient DNA Provides Clues to Who We Are and How We Got Here

Sequencing modern human DNA has been possible since the 1960s. Sequencing ancient DNA recovered from fossils found in Africa, Eurasia, Oceania and the Americas, which has been feasible for only 10 years, has already revealed details of prehistoric origins, migrations and matings of Homo species over last quarter-million years. In this course, we will review DNA related science and what it has revealed about our ancient ancestors. The course is designed for a lay audience with general knowledge of DNA and interest in ancient human migrations out of Africa into Eurasia, Oceania and the Americas.

Excel for Beginners

Excel is a spreadsheet program that allows you to store, organize, and analyze information. Excel often is used to process complex data, but in this class, you will learn how to take advantage of its less complicated features to keep a budget, create an invoice, or store and sort different types of data. Topics covered: navigating the interface, creating new workbooks, cell basics, formatting cells, number formats, basic formulas, and functions, creating tables and charts. PREREQ: Basic knowledge of Microsoft Word is required. NOTE: Please bring a flash-drive with you to all classes so you can save your progress.

The Weirdness of Quantum Mechanics

Fundamental physics teaches us about how the universe is designed. Quantum mechanics shows us that at the fundamental level the design is very strange indeed. Particles behave as both particles and waves; properties seem not to exist until they are measured, and entangled particles seem to communicate over long distances almost instantaneously. All of this defies normal human intuition. This class will discuss these ideas in a non-mathematical way. While we will avoid math, we will discuss experiments that require some thought to understand. People who attend this class should come prepared to think hard about concepts that defy intuition.

Mail Merge: Create Personalized Mailing Labels in a Few Easy Steps

Microsoft Word's Mail Merge feature lets you create a batch of documents (mailing lists, letters, envelopes, labels, etc.) that are personalized for each recipient. A data source, like a spreadsheet, is linked to a Word document, then placeholders - called merge fields - tell Word where in the document to include information from the data source. In this class, we will learn how to do this. Worry not! It is not as complicated as it sounds. PREREQ: Basic knowledge of Microsoft Word is required.

Black Holes: The Weirdest Objects in the Universe?

Black holes might be the weirdest objects in the universe. The possibility that they might exist was suggested by Schwarzschild in 1916 using Einstein's theory of general relativity. Einstein commended Schwarzschild's mathematics, but he didn't believe that nature would allow such an odd object to exist. We now know that black holes are common in the universe and recent experiments have allowed them to be directly observed. This lecture will discuss their properties and how they continue to perplex physicists.
