Location: Online

Accounting and Finance for Non-Financial Managers

Every successful person in the workplace utilizes financial information to aid effective decision making. Accounting and Finance for Non-Financial Managers explain the financial concepts and accounting processes used in most businesses, and will provide practical techniques that will increase your effectiveness and career. Get a foundation to understand the seven steps in the accounting cycle and use financial information in decision making. Come away with the knowledge to analyze resource allocation and evaluate financial performance.

Cash is King

Cash is arguably the most important factor in business success. Dunn & Bradstreet reports 90% of all small business failures are due to poor cash flow—more money gets paid out than collected. It is the non-financial manager who really makes a difference in the day-to-day cash activities. Discover how to maximize cash flow, learn the importance of cash and find out your role in cash flow success.

Financial Analysis and Planning for Non-Financial Managers

With the demands of daily operations, non-financial managers may put financial reports on the shelf, but take a look at some of the most admired companies like Apple, Google, and Berkshire Hathaway. Sure, they are evaluated by their products, innovation, and culture, but they wouldn't be in the limelight without profits. Money matters! This course will help build your understanding of financial concepts and help you establish your role in the financial success of your organization.

Introduction to Data Analysis

Data Analysis is quickly becoming one of the most sought-after skills in the workplace. Companies have vast amounts of data, but it is rare to have someone with the ability to analyze that data to see trends and make predictions. Add a whole new skill set to your portfolio, and make a big difference in the success of your organization by acquiring data analysis skills.

Intermediate Data Analysis

Many of your business decisions involve comparing groups for differences. For example, would men and women prefer different product features? In addition, you may look at relationships between variables. Does product recognition relate to subsequent product purchase? This Intermediate Data Analysis course will introduce you to the statistics behind these group differences and relationships. In addition, you will learn how to work with ratings, graphs and user-friendly reports of statistical results.

Advanced Data Analysis

After taking this Advanced course in Data Analysis, you will be able to perform inquiries that will be useful to your business or organization and have the skills necessary to communicate these results through graphs and text that your fellow colleagues will understand. Take the guesswork out of important company decisions and make choices based on statistically significant information.

Career Pathways

Career Pathways

Career Pathways offers students the opportunity to acquire a combination of basic academic skills and industry-specific training at the same time for zero or very little expense. You can train for a career and complete your high school equivalency diploma or improve English language skills at the same time. If you have a high school diploma you can also benefit from Career Pathways by improving your academic skills while receiving workforce preparation and training. Successful completion of this program may lead to a career and employment opportunities in high-demand occupations.

Additional benefits to Career Pathways:

- Support in selecting pathway or enrolling in college
- Adult Education provides financial assistance for tuition
- Students receive ongoing support throughout the program
- Increased career and/or employment potential

Current Career Pathways Training Programs:

Some programs are two-semester classes with level one college certificates. Students complete college courses while improving basic skills (including math, reading, writing, English, and TSI or GED preparation) at the same time.

- Phlebotomy
- Medical Assistant
- CNA
- Child Development Associate
- Entrepreneurship
- HVAC
- MS Office (Word/Excel)

Community Emergency Response Team (CERT)

CERT is a training program that prepares you to help your family and neighbors in the event of a disaster. During an incident, emergency service personnel may not be able to reach you right away. CERT training will give you the skills to help emergency responders save lives and protect property. As a member of CERT, you can respond to disasters, participate in drills and exercises, and obtain additional training. CERT teams are known and trusted resources for emergency responders and their communities. No matter where you live or who you are, we all have a role in hometown preparedness. What role will you play? This is a traditional on-campus class with social distancing and other safety precautions.
