

Standard Form For Members of the Legislature

Name of Representative Amngan, Warren Scott Senator Amngan, Warren Scott - Represented Monroe, Wayne and Lucas Counties, Iowa

1. Birthday and place 12 Sept 1822 Frankfort Springs, Boone County, Pennsylvania

2. Marriage (s) date place _____

3. Significant events for example:

A. Business 1856 - aduulid

B. Civic responsibilities GAR

C. Profession Lawyer

4. Church membership Presbyterian

5. Sessions served 9th General Assembly 1862 - Senate

6. Public Offices 18th, 19th General Assemblies 1880, 1882 House of Representatives 22nd, 23rd General Assemblies 1888, 1890 - Senate

A. Local _____

B. State President of the Senate and Lieutenant Governor 25th General Assembly 1894-1896

C. National _____

7. Death 9 May 1913 Chariton, Iowa; buried Chariton Cemetery, Chariton, Iowa

8. Children _____

9. Names of parents _____

10. Education Attended an academy at Stamford Springs, PA

11. Degrees _____

12. Other applicable information Republican

- taught school in Panola, Mississippi

- 1855 returned to PA and entered the law office of Roberts and Quay

Sources Log For Legislation Entries

Applicability

Source	Non Applicable	Applicable	Information obtained
- Obituary	-		The Chariton Herald Patriot, Chariton, Iowa Thurs. May 15, 1913, p. 1, col 3+4 Biographical Dictionary 1878 Iowa Volume p. 755-756

COL. WARREN S. DUNGAN tends in Chariton will regret to 1 of a serious mishap which be-Irl Marshall, eldest son of Mrs. a Burkart Ward, formerly of this but now of Coffeyville, Kansas. s a member of the senior class of eyville and will graduate this ig. He is getting along nicely wi cover. The accident occur-on Saturday, April 26th, and is ained in the following clipping a Coffeyville newspaper: l Marshall, son of Mr and Mrs.

 Ward, 1117 West Eleventh street, horribly burned about the face, and hands shortly after 10 o'clock morning, when he was enveloped ames from an explosion of gasowhich he was heating over a e. When the gasoline exploded the flames shot into the air the made an attempt to throw the ing stuff out of the door. The en was almost ruined and anr room of the house badly damag-Most of the furniture was saved. boy was just getting ready to r some clothes and was heating gasoline over a stove. The ex-on followed. Although burned e was, he ran almost a block to a hone and had the alarm turned Postoffice Petitions.

vo ambitious democrats are circing postoffice petitions asking a ment at the hands of ident Wilson. It is said that k Smith, a soldier of the Civil and chairman of the democratic ty central committee, has secured signatur- of a number of town-committeemen to his petition, e W. W. Kridelbaugh is quite ac-this week with a paper endorsing own ambitions. Just what started petitions it is impossible to tell Chariton democrats have been anxious to keep the contest under r for several months because no ge in postmaster is to occur here almost two years. It has been rstood that J. P. Ream will apply he place and has strong endorse-ts, while the names of "Billy" ivan, J. H. Collins, W. E. Hanks, t Milthorpe and several other ibers of the party have been tioned. From the list as referred ove it should be an easy matter hoose a good official, though there certain to be several disappointed ocrats. It is doubtless true that r democrats will enter the race re the contest closes, but in the nt the "early bird gets the ature" to the petition.

Selecting County Roads.

s will be noted elsewhere the as counsurers and a Territorial and State meet at the courthouse Monday, 26th, for the purpose of selecting

After an eventful and well spent life of nearly ninety-one years, Col.
 Warren S. Dungan passed peacefully away at his home on north Grand in Chariton, Iowa, on Friday evening, May 9th, 1913, about 10 o'clock. He had been in ill health for about two years with the infirmities of old age, and death was not unexpected, but nevertheless was a sad blow to the family and the community. On Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, a large concourse of friends, both young and old, assembled at the First Presbyterian church to pay their last tribute to the memory of this grand old patriarch. The services were under the auspices of Iseminger Post, No. 18, G. A. R., of which he had been an active and faithful member. His pastor, Rev. Theodore H. Aszman, delivered a splendid eulogy, basing his remarks on the words found in Second Timothy 2:3, "A good soldier," a fitting subject, as Col. Dungan was a good soldier in every sense of the word. Rev. Aszman also read the poem, "There is no Death," which deceased himself had read many times at funerals. A quartette composed of Messrs. R. A. Hasselquist, L. J. Busselle, Miss Jessie McIntire and Miss Laura Swift, rendered a few selections, and Mr. Busselle sang rebellion, and the love of country and liberty being more to him than official honors, he accordingly resigned his office and recruited a company for the war, being himself sworn in as a private, although he was soon elected captain. His company was assigned to the 34th Iowa Infantry as Company K, and on the 27th of September, 1862, he was commissioned lieutenant colonel, in which capacity he served until May 25th, 1865, when he was made brevet colonel of volunteers, an honor that was conferred upon him in recognition of valiant service at the battle of Fort Blakely, in the rear of Mobile.

 Although he was a Union soldier a Confederate battery was named in honor of Col. Dungan. This battery was made up entirely of young men who had been students under him when he taught select school at Panoia, Miss., and who regarded him so highly they insisted on giving the battery his name, although he was on the opposing side. During the last six months of his army service Col. Dungan was on the staff of Major General C. C. Andrews as inspector general of the Second Division, Thirteenth Army Corps. He was mustered and staff at the State Historical Society of Iowa 15th, 1865. He then returned to Charlton and resumed his law practice. In

CHURCH NEWS ANNOUNCE

Notes of Church Serv nouncements for th to Come.

St. Mary's Chu
 Mrs. O'Grady and Mr entertain St. Mary's Gu afternoon, May 22d, at Mrs. Kelly. Everybody
 vited.

Christian Chu
 Sunday school meets 9:45, followed by social Rev. Gilpin has been regular pastor and he w first sermon May 25th.
 Ladies' Aid meets wi
 erts on Friday afternoo

Otterbein Chu Mothers' Day will be the Otterbien church 18th. An appropriate pr al invitation to the daughters, fathers and s service at 8 o'clock.
 Geo. J. Cornf

Swedish Mission
 Sunday school at 10
 Morning service at 11
 Young People's meeti
 m.
 Evening service at 8
 The Aid society will h in the church basemen day afternoon. Young P in the evening. All are

St. Andrew's Ch
 Trinity Sunday.
 8 a. m., Holy Commu 10 a. m., Sunday sch on the altar vessels and rector.
 11 a. m., Morning pra mon.
 Litany on Friday ta
 The Diocesan convent Burlington May 25th and
 Geo. R. Chambe

Baptist Church Benevolent society will ed by Mrs. F. C. Stote on Friday afternoon.
 There will be no ev next Sunday. All mer church are urged to a morning. Remember th to the high school gra will be preached in t church on Sunday even
 H. J. Bry
 United Presbyterian
 The usual preaching Sabbath, May 18th, at 1 will be noted elsewhere the county Board of Supervisors meet at the courthouse Monday, 26th, for the purpose of selecting naming the various highways to be designated by the of county roads. This is in compliance with the terms of the new law recently enacted by the general assembly and concerns practically every citizen of Lucas county more or less directly. Farmers and business men should talk the matter over thoroughly and be ready to place their suggestions before the board on the day designated. The petition of ten or more freeholders shall be heard by the board whenever they ask for a change of roads from the plan under consideration. The board is ready to receive suggestions and this is the reason to have them in readiness to present to that body. In adjoining counties much interest is manifested in the selection of the county system of roads and Lucas county people should show equal interest in such matters.

Improvements at The Star.

Chariton will soon have a new and modern ice cream parlor, which is being installed at the Star Bakery. An arch is being placed about the way back in the dining room, and the partition which was between the main dining room has been removed, placing the dining room farther back. Tables will be installed in the front part of the present dining room, making a very pleasant ice cream parlor. Patrons of the Star will also be pleased to learn that they have added a delivery wagon to their equipment which will deliver bread, pastry, as well as ice cream. This wagon started on its rounds Tuesday morning and will be promptly delivered any day of the day.

Met with Painful Accident.

Leonard Wallis, resident engineer for the St. Paul & Kansas City Line, and William Baxter met with a painful accident last Saturday while driving about six miles north of Chariton. In some manner the buggy tongue came down and the horses became frightened and ran, throwing the gentlemen to the ground. Mr. Wallis' foot caught in the buggy wheel and he was dragged about a yard and was rendered unconscious for a time. He was quite badly hurt but escaped serious injury. Mr. Baxter sustained a sprained ankle and some bad bruises.

at funerals. A quartette composed of Messrs. R. A. Hasselquist, L. H. Busselle, Miss Jessie McIntire and Miss Laura Swift, rendered a few selections, and Mr. Busselle sang "Face to Face." The casket was draped with the American flag which he loved so well and which he had so ably defended, and was covered with beautiful floral tributes. At the close of the services the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Chariton cemetery, the services at the grave being conducted by the G. A. R.

Col. Dungan was a native of Frankfort Springs, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, and was born on September 12th, 1822. He was of Scotch-Irish ancestry. His grandfather, Wm. McFarren, was an ensign in the war of the revolution and his great grandfather, John Scott, was commissary general of the Pennsylvania line. Col. Dungan himself had been an active and prominent member of the "Sons of the Revolution." His early education was obtained in the academy at Frankfort Springs. In 1841 he went to Louisiana and soon afterwards to Panola, Mississippi, where he successfully conducted a select school for three years. While there he spent a part of his time in the study of law. In 1855 he returned to his native state, Pennsylvania, and entered the law office of Messrs. Roberts & Quay, the former a cousin, and the latter member of the firm was the well known United States senator. In April, 1856, he was admitted to practice in the court of common pleas of Pennsylvania. Immediately afterward he removed to Iowa and located in Chariton where he has since resided, a period of over fifty-seven years. He began the practice of law here and became eminent at the bar. He was married here on April 3d, 1859, to Miss Abby Kingman Proctor, a native of Massachusetts, and who passed away on September 21st, 1881. Their home was blessed with seven children, five of whom are living. They are Effie M., Minnie W., Myra B., Mrs. Mary Edna Culbertson and Myrtle A. Miss Minnie is teaching in Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Culbertson resides in Pocatello, Idaho, and Miss Myrtle is our very efficient county superintendent of schools. All were with their father during his last illness and death. One son, Fayette Proctor, died on September 9th, 1895.

Col. Dungan was a man who did much for his home town, Chariton, and Lucas county, and for the state of Iowa. In 1861 he was elected to represent the district composed of Lucas and Monroe counties in the state senate. At this time the territory was general of the second division, thirteenth Army Corps. He was mustered out of service at Houston, Texas, July 15th, 1865. He then returned to Chariton and resumed his law practice. In 1880 and again in 1882 he was a member of the legislature, representing Lucas county, and in 1889 he was chosen senator from his district.

In 1893 Col. Dungan was elected to the office of lieutenant governor of Iowa, serving with Governor Frank D. Jackson. He was a staunch republican all his life and was chosen a delegate to the national convention in 1872, when Gen. Grant was nominated for the presidency, and was presidential elector from the 7th district for the same year.

But in the every day affairs of life he did not neglect his religious duties. He was one of the charter members of the First Presbyterian church of Chariton, which was organized in 1853 and was a ruling elder until his death. He was a teacher in the Sunday school and an active worker in all departments of the church. He was a faithful attendant and the weather was never too severe to keep him away from the services. He was a good orator and his services were always in demand at soldiers' reunions and other public gatherings. He was the historian for Lucas county for many years and gathered much information and data of inestimable value.

The career of Col. Dungan was like an open book, and both his public and private life were above reproach. He always took an active interest in the welfare of the community and could never be found enlisted in the cause of right. During his residence here of fifty-seven years, considerable more than half a century, he won the high regard of all with whom he came in contact, and was revered by both old and young. No public gathering was considered complete without his presence and word of help and cheer, and he will be missed more than any other man in Chariton. He was an exemplary citizen and leaves a priceless heritage, a good, clean record, worthy of emulation. His many noble and kindly deeds will be gratefully remembered, and his memory will be cherished by all. The sorrowing children will have the deep sympathy of innumerable friends. Chariton has lost a citizen whose good to this community and whose influence cannot be estimated.

Among those from out of town who were in attendance at the last sad rites were his nephews, Sam Kneeland and wife, of Des Moines, Wm. Kneeland and daughter, both of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and

United Presbyterian
The usual preaching on Sabbath, May 18th, at 11 o'clock, number 4 of the series "What the Christian is—Come to a New Life," Ephesian Romans 6:4.

No preaching in the evening count of the Baccalaureate at the Methodist church, Sabbath school at 10 o'clock. Young People's meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

United Brethren Church
Sunday school 10 a. m. Superintendent.

Preaching at 11 by the pastor. Executive meeting of the church endeavor at 3 p. m., Harlan Young People's meeting. Rev. Hicks will preach a sermon Sunday evening. Doors of the church will be open for reception of members.

The Young People's society will give a Left Handed social evening at 8 p. m. Remembrance must be done with you or you will be fined.

You are invited to attend these services.

Methodist Episcopal 9:45 Sunday school.

11, Public service. Sermon "Thyatira—The Growing Evil Proposed to Corruption of the Church." 12, Class meeting.

3, Men's League. Topic "The Able Bodied Men by Public Expense?" H. H. will open the discussion. 8 p. m., Baccalaureate high school graduates.

Mid week prayer service at 8 p. m.

Epworth League annual day, May 25th.

The W. H. M. S. meeting at 2:30 with Mrs. J. 206 South Grand street.

The Ladies' Aid society meeting tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Smith. Lunch will be served by Mrs. Smith.

The Kings' Heralds will meet on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. with Wm. Hickman.

First Presbyterian
Theodore H. Assman, pastor. Morning public worship at 10 o'clock. "Christ's Church." Sunday school at 8:45 o'clock.