The Staplehurst Society History Group would like to thank the Rectors of Staplehurst, the Rev. T.H. Vickery, the Rev. B. Barnes and the Rev. G. Calver for their kind permission, in 1984, 1999 and 2009, to log and map the tombstones in Staplehurst Church and Churchyard, and to confirm the inscriptions by comparing them to the Parish Register entries, and further to print the relevant entries from 1538-1943. Later graves have not been checked against the Registers.

They would like to thank the Rev. B.L.Eyles and the Rev. Andrew Mills for permission to quote from the Nonconformist Register and to survey the graves and monuments in the United Reform Church in Staplehurst.

They would like to thank the Centre for Kentish Studies in Maidstone for permission to quote from PRC 2/41.160 and from the Nonconformist Register, and from the Grangerised Hasted: and Kent Archaeological Society for Leland Duncan's MI inscriptions from 1922.

They would like to thank Clifford Bayly RWS for permission to reproduce "Staplehurst from the South" on the front of this work.

Grave Lane (Carpenters Lane) Staplehurst.

White cross made of holly wood standing on the far bank of the ditch very near the junction of Clapper Lane and Grave Lane. RAF wings in holly wood and small plaque "His h... / in the clouds" as imagery. His plane crashed in the field behind. Ceremony held 1/9/2009 to replace a cross made of tree boughs.

Brass label                      P/O J.K.G. CLIFTON / "CURLY" / 1.9.1940.

Notice on accompanying poppy wreath.

In memory of P.O. J.K.G. CLIFTON / from 253 Squadron / shot down and killed in action / in Hurricane P5185 during / the Battle of Britain / September 1st 1940.

Accompanying epitaph by Flight Lieutenant Anthony T.S.C. Richardson. RAFVR.

No sexton dug a grave within his yard,
Nor mason raised a stone above this head,
There were but ashes and a few bones charred
Left to remind us that a man was dead!

Ashes and tattered fabric and the grass
Seared black, like burnt-out gorse upon a moor.
Yet soon the winter winds and rains will pass,
And spring will pluck her garland from her store.

Above this brutal patch. Wild flowers will blow,
And the green fickle grass will raise its shoots,
Oh! fast-forgetful green. How shall you grow

Most heedless of the treasure at your roots.
