IMPORTANT FACTS TO HELP YOU

LICENSING

- * The proper type of State electrical license is required to install any electrical work on any project within the jurisdiction of the State Electrical Division. A State license is required for all State property.
- * All State electrical licenses expire December 31 of each even numbered year. Twelve hours of continuing education, with a minimum of six hours on the National Electrical Code, are required to renew any electrical license issued. These hours must be obtained within the two-year licensing period. All expired licenses held after March 31 of each odd numbered year cannot be renewed.
- * For every three apprentice electricians on a project, there must be at least one licensed electrician supervising them.
- * Nebraska has reciprocal Journeyman Electrician licensing agreements with Alaska, Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, and Wyoming. In addition, Nebraska has a reciprocal Electrical Contractor licensing agreement with Minnesota and South Dakota.
- * All license holders are automatically on the State Electrical Division mailing list. Notify this office when changing address.
- * Residential property owners may install electrical wiring on their principal residence property without being licensed. This does not include a relative's home, rental property, or recreational properties.

INSPECTION

- * An electrical inspection request form is required to be submitted at or before commencement of any work installed within State jurisdiction. A fifty-dollar late fee will be assessed if work is started without one.
- * All public educational facilities, no matter where they are located, are within the jurisdiction of the State Electrical Division.
- * All State of Nebraska property, no matter where it is located, is within the jurisdiction of the State Electrical Division.
- * Unless a Nebraska County has a State Electrical Board approved inspection program to make their own inspections, all county property, no matter where it is located, is within the jurisdiction of the State Electrical Division.

- * Call your State electrical inspector on the Friday before the week you need an inspection. Itineraries are planned on Friday for the next week.
- * The first re-inspection made after a Correction Order is issued will cost fifty dollars. The next re-inspection fee associated with the same correction order costs seventy-five dollars. Subsequent re-inspections are one hundred dollars each.
- * A rough-in inspection is required before any wiring is to be covered by building walls, ceilings or floors. Failure to request the inspection may result in removal of the covering to make an inspection possible.
- * Inspection is required on all new wiring installed for single-family residential applications when new service equipment is installed.

As used in this rule, "ready for inspection" shall mean (1) rough-in inspections necessary prior to the concealment of wiring, and (2) final inspections, and (3) re-inspection required by the issuance of a "correction order". The requirement of timely notification is an ongoing responsibility of the installer or electrical contractor during the entire life of the project.

Notification shall be made by telephone request or written request to the State Electrical Division or area State Electrical Inspector.

The following standardized inspection procedure applies when the inspector is unable to make contact with a property owner installing wiring pursuant to Sections 81-2121(5) and 81-2124(2) of the State Electrical Act.

- (a) The inspector shall leave a doorknob notice card announcing the attempt to conduct an inspection. The notice shall contain instructions for the installer to contact the inspector to schedule an inspection appointment within thirty-days.

(b) If there is no response from the first notice, the inspector shall make an additional attempt to inspect. If the inspector is still unable to make an inspection, the inspector shall leave a second doorknob notice card at the residence. The notice shall inform the property owner of the following:

- (i) The installation shall remain subject to inspection by the State Electrical Division;
- (ii) The installation may contain hazards to health and property until an inspection is made.

(c) The inspector shall notify the executive director that a second attempt to inspect was unsuccessful and the original application is to be kept on file to remain subject to inspection.

Failure to Request Inspection

Electrical contractors or installers failing to notify the inspector of such times as the project is ready for inspection shall be considered in violation of Rule 14 and may be guilty of a misdemeanor under §81-2143 of the Nebraska Revised Statutes.

Time Limitation; Notification; Extension

(1) When the electrical work called for on an application for electrical inspection and permit number has not been started within five (5) months after the date of issuance thereof, then such permit shall be void and no installation there under shall be started until a new permit number has been obtained, and proper fees submitted.

(2) When no progress on the electrical work called for on an application for electrical inspection and permit number has been shown for five (5) consecutive months after the installation has been started, then such permit shall be void, and no additional electrical installation shall be made until a new permit has been obtained and proper fees submitted.

(3) Provided however, the area State Electrical Inspector or Executive Director of the State Electrical Board shall have at the time of expiration date as outlined in (1) and (2) above, made written notification to the electrical license holder whose name appears on the application, that such permit will be void after fourteen (14) days of such notification.

(4) Provided however, that if the electrical license holder whose name appears on the application shall have, prior to the time of expiration date as outlined in (1) and (2) above, made written application to the Area State Electrical Inspector or Executive Director of the State Electrical Board for an extension of time, then the area State Electrical Inspector or Executive Director are hereby authorized to grant extensions of time for wiring installations controlled by electrical permits upon clear and convincing proof of a practical hardship, inadvertent delay in financial arrangements, defect in legal titles, material shortages, or other cogent reasons not due to the fault, negligence or failure to act on the part of the license holder whose name appears on the application.
