

Strip Jenga: The Dirtiest, Funniest Drinking Game Ever!

Produced by Sobur Hangover Cure (<http://www.sobur.co>)

As is the case with anything wholesome, if you add drinking and alcohol to it, it becomes an order of magnitude better!

Strip Jenga (or naked Jenga, whatever you want to call it!) is a perfect example of this.

The rules are designed to be played with two couples but can be altered.

The game is in 3 stages, so first you get drunk, second you get more comfortable with each other, third gets more intense.

Couples would probably want to jump straight to the second or third list.

Jenga General Rules:

- Youngest player or whoever knocked the tower over last starts.

- There are three stages; switch when ready.
- One article of removed clothing is allowed to be put back on after each game
- The person who knocks the tower down is not allowed to put a piece of clothing back on
- If a tile involves you and another player, flip a coin to decide that player.
- Players may choose the other player only on specified tiles
- For spicy, you must flip to decide who removes their clothing. When picking somebody to remove clothing, you may also decide who removes it.
- Other rules decided as needed by the group majority.
