Land Acknowledgement

The State University of New York at Oswego would like to recognize with respect the Onondaga Nation, the “people of the hills,” or central firekeepers of the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Indigenous Peoples on whose ancestral lands SUNY Oswego now stands.

Please join SUNY Oswego in acknowledging the Mohawk, Oneida, Onondaga, Cayuga, Seneca, and Tuscarora Nations, their elders both past and present, as well as the future seven generations yet to come.

Consistent with the University’s values of diversity and equity, inclusion and social justice, this acknowledgement demonstrates a commitment to cultivating relationships with Native American communities through academic collaborations, partnerships, historical recognitions, and community service in order to dismantle the legacies of conquest and colonization.

Academic Traditions

The Commencement Setting — The 2007 ceremonies marked the first graduations to take place in Oswego’s Marano Campus Center. Located in the heart of campus, the Marano Campus Center represents the college’s social hub and a gathering place for events appealing to a wide range of student, faculty and community interests. This $25.5 million building was the first new construction on our lakeside campus in 35 years when it opened in the fall of 2006.

The Academic Procession — The centuries-old pageantry of the academic procession dates from ancient traditions rooted in the early universities. Since the clergy were in charge of the first academic ceremonies, they followed the familiar order of religious processions.

The Tradition of Academic Attire — Caps, gowns and hoods worn at college and university functions date from the Middle Ages. Monks and students of that time wore them to keep warm in the damp, drafty halls of learning. From these practical origins they have developed into the accepted garb which symbolizes scholarly achievement.

Baccalaureate gowns have a long, pleated front with shirring across the shoulders and back. They are primarily distinguished by flowing sleeves pointed at the fingertips. These gowns may be worn open or closed.

The master’s gown is worn open and the sleeve is cut so that the forearm comes through a slit just above the elbow. The lining of the hood is satin and the color represents the school conferring the degree. The velvet border color represents the discipline in which the degree was earned.

Doctoral gowns are traditionally worn open, but either open or closed is acceptable. They carry broad, velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on the full, round sleeves. This velvet trimming may be either black or the color distinctive of the degree. Mortarboards or caps worn with baccalaureate and master’s gowns generally have black tassels. The tassel of the doctoral cap is usually made of gold bullion.

The doctoral hood gives color and meaning to the academic costume. Its silk lining bears the color of the institution conferring the degree. The hood is bordered with velvet of a prescribed width and color to indicate the field of learning to which the degree pertains.

Honor Cords for Military Service — United States veterans and reserve and active duty military graduating from SUNY Oswego are wearing red, white and blue honor cords in recognition of their service.

The College Medallion is worn by the SUNY Oswego president as a symbol of authority at all official ceremonies such as Commencement and Honors Convocation. Oswego is represented in the perfect center of the medallion by a tiny green and gold circle. The dot is located properly on an outline of New York state, which itself surmounts a globe to show the relationship of our institution to the state and the world. Fashioned by Dominic T. DiPasquale of the Art Department for president James Perdue’s 1966 inauguration, the medallion was a gift of the Class of 1966 for the occasion.

A wreath of gold leaves surrounds the globe and is circled by a flat band bearing the engraved college name and two dates: 1861, the college founding; and 1948, the founding of the State University of which Oswego was a charter unit. On the clasp above the medallion sits a gold lamp of knowledge, emblematic of a seat of learning. (Photo, page 1.)

The College Mace — In medieval times the mace was a weapon of offense with the metal head often heavily spiked. Today it appears chiefly in ceremonial functions of churches, governments, colleges and universities. The head of the Oswego mace holds a jade sphere symbolizing the university of wisdom and knowledge, surrounded by four silver flanges unfolding petal-like without imprisoning the sphere and representing the potential of disciplined imagination, the goal of higher education. The richness of the jade and the rosewood shaft reflect the pomp and solemnity of academic ceremony.

Officers of the College

Deborah F. Stanley

President

President Stanley is the 10th President of SUNY Oswego. Her tenure has been driven by bold and inclusive leadership and a broad vision resulting in increased academic excellence, campus renewal, and successful fundraising. Under her leadership, new programs such as electrical and computer engineering, human-computer interaction, biomedical and health informatics, and the online MBA programs were established. She pioneered the Oswego Guarantee and the $300 Graduation Return on Investment. Her ambitious campus-wide renewal plan encompasses hundreds of millions of dollars in renovations and construction, including the environmentally designated LEED Gold Shineman Center and the modernization of Tyler and Wilber halls. President Stanley serves on numerous local and national education, climate and leadership boards and institutes. She earned a baccalaureate degree with honors, and a juris doctor degree from Syracuse University.

Nicholas A. Lyons

Vice President for Administration and Finance

As SUNY Oswego's officer in charge of financial operations and facilities, Lyons has overseen 18 years of construction and renovation transforming the campus. He has served the State University since 1978, previously working as assistant vice president for administration at SUNY New Paltz, as university internal control officer and in several administrative positions at System Administration and the Research Foundation of SUNY. He holds degrees in business administration from SUNY Morrisville and SUNY Plattsburgh. At Oswego, he oversees finance, budget, student accounts, human resources, environmental health and safety, University Police, physical plant, facilities services and construction and purchasing. He also serves as the Oswego College Foundation treasurer.

Mary Canale

Vice President for Development and Alumni Engagement

Canale came to Oswego in 1996 as the coordinator of the Oswego State Fall Classic. She later became assistant director of development and, in 2002, instituted the major gifts program before becoming associate vice president for development. A 1981 alumna, Canale was integral to the success of both of the college's comprehensive fundraising campaigns as well as the Path Forward, Possibility and Marano Scholars programs. Appointed vice president for development and alumni engagement and executive director of the Oswego College Foundation in 2016, Canale serves as the college's principal fundraiser and has helped to achieve unprecedented growth in the school's endowment, which consistently shows stronger returns than peers. She is a member of the Association of Fundraising Professionals and the Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Scott Furlong

Provost; Vice President for Academic Affairs

The college's chief academic officer, Furlong joined the Oswego family in July 2017. Furlong is responsible for leadership of all instructional and academic programs, overseeing more than 100 academic programs in the college's four schools with more than 550 faculty, as well as a range of academic support staff and offerings. A renowned public policy scholar and co-author of two books, Furlong has led and championed efforts around student success, integrating the ideals of a liberal arts education into all curriculum, and facilitating activities that bridge curricular and co-curricular learning. He earned his bachelor of arts degree in government from St. Lawrence University, and his master of public administration and Ph.D. in political science from American University.

Jerri Howland

Howland was named vice president in 2019 after serving as interim vice president in fall 2018. In this leadership post, she oversees all student affairs operations and activities. Howland began serving as associate vice president of student affairs and dean of students at Oswego in 2014, supervising several units including campus life (student involvement, intramurals and recreation, event management) and student conduct. She assisted in enhancing student life programming and services on campus to foster increased student success. Howland previously served as dean of students and assistant dean for campus life at Rhode Island School of Design. Her entire career has been dedicated to higher education in various student life, support and student development positions. She earned a Ph.D. in student affairs administration and research from the University of Iowa; master of arts from Southeast Missouri State University; and bachelor of science from Frostburg State University.

Rodmon C. King

Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer

King is responsible for implementing the college's strategic diversity and inclusion goals, while leading the cultivation, enhancement and promotion of an environment of equity and inclusion for all. Working at Oswego since July 2018, he provides counsel on all matters pertaining to diversity and inclusive excellence. King previously excelled as associate vice president for academic affairs and diversity initiatives at Centre College in Kentucky. Prior to that, King was a philosophy faculty member at Hobart and William Smith Colleges in Geneva. King received his doctorate and master's degrees in philosophy from the University of Rochester and a bachelor of art degree in religion and philosophy from Roberts Wesleyan College.

Deans of the College

Kristin Croyle

Dean, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Prior to joining Oswego in July 2019, Croyle served as vice president for student success and professor of psychological sciences at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley. In the former role, she spearheaded retention and graduation initiatives, student educational outreach, academic advising and student academic supports, experiential learning initiatives and more. She was instrumental in shaping the student success structure, initiatives and staffing at the newly formed multi-campus university to build undergraduate student success on all campuses. Croyle's prior positions include vice provost for undergraduate education as well as dean of the University College at the University of Texas-Pan American. She received her doctor of philosophy and master of arts in clinical psychology from the University of Montana, and a bachelor of science in psychology from the University of Utah.

Kristen Eichhorn

Dean, Graduate Studies

Eichhorn was appointed dean in 2017 after serving the institution in several leadership roles, including Presidential Faculty Fellow, interim dean of extended learning, SUNY Faculty Senator and communication studies chair. Eichhorn was an American Council On Education Fellow in 2016-17, spending a year in Cornell University's Office of Provost. Eichhorn has a distinguished record of teaching and research and her publications include co-authoring the "Interpersonal Communication: Building Rewarding Relationships" textbook and research papers in multiple international journals. She earned her bachelor's degree from Canisius College, master's from West Virginia University and Ph.D. in communication from the University of Miami.

Prabakar Kothandaraman

Dean, School of Business

Assuming the role as dean in July 2019, Kothandaraman previously served as chair and professor of professional sales in the Cotsakos College of Business at William Paterson University, and executive director of the Russ Berrie Institute for Professional Sales. He spearheaded rolling out the college's first-ever master's degree in sales leadership; assembled the Russ Berrie Institute's advisory board and graduate program advisory board; excelled in corporate sponsorships and external training revenue; and increased corporate engagement through student-centric events leading to job placement. Kothandaraman previously taught at Drexel, Texas A&M and Xavier Institute of Management in Bhubaneswar, India. He received his doctorate in business administration from Pennsylvania State University's Smeal College of Business, an MBA from the Xavier Institute of Management and a B.E. (with honors) in chemical engineering from the Birla Institute of Technology and Science in India.

Pamela A. Michel

Dean, School of Education

Michel previously served as chair of the curriculum and instruction department and taught in the graduate literacy program. She earned her bachelor's in music and education from Elmira College and a master's and Ph.D. in reading and language arts from Syracuse University. She is the author of the book "The Child's View of Reading: Understandings for Teachers and Parents," as well as many other publications contributing to the field of literacy. She has presented widely at local, regional, state, national and international levels throughout her career on issues related to evaluation of reading difficulties, future directions of literacy clinics and children's perceptions of reading.

Jill Pippin

Dean, Extended Learning

Before joining Oswego in January 2014, Pippin served for eight years as dean for continuing education at Jefferson Community College. Her career has spanned both academic and business positions such as director for graduate services and enrollment, adjunct business instructor, director of operations and major accounts manager. Experience in these roles and as an adult student, earning an MBA from Franklin University, has instilled a passion for providing access to higher education at all levels of the educational ecosystem. Previously, the Oswego alumna with a bachelor's in communication studies led enrollment management and student services for graduate students at Franklin University, developed the Jefferson Higher Education Center, facilitated significant growth of Jefferson's military services on Fort Drum and established other innovative and community-oriented programs for adult and non-traditional students. In 2013, she earned the Continuing Education Association of New York's Outstanding Continuing Educator Award.

Julie Pretzat

Dean, School of Communication, Media and the Arts

Pretzat became dean in 2015 after serving as the school's first associate dean. Previously she chaired Oswego's music department and served as interim chair of theatre. While a music professor, she received the SUNY Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching. She has organized and conducted hundreds of performances by community and college choral groups and has collaborated with college, community and professional choral, musical theater and opera groups throughout Central New York, and currently is artistic director of the Syracuse Vocal Ensemble. She has done extensive work at the college in accreditation, academic advisement and creating first-year seminar courses. She holds a bachelor's from Smith College, a master of music from the University of Michigan and a doctor of musical arts from the College-Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati.

Student Speakers

Trentin Carentz '21

*Director of Finance,
Student Association*

The director of finance for the SUNY Oswego Student Association, Carentz is completing his MBA in public accounting this semester. He earned his bachelor's in accounting from Oswego in 2020 after graduating from Mohawk Valley Community College with an associate's degree in business administration. During his time at Oswego, Carentz participated in Volunteer Income Tax Assistance as a tax coordinator and became a member of Beta Alpha Psi. As the SA director of finance, he helped ensure economic sustainability for the organization during the pandemic. Carentz has worked as an intern for Turning Stone Casino, Dermody Burke and Brown, and KPMG. He will start full time at KPMG in New York City in fall 2021, and is studying for the Certified Public Accountant exam.

Lizeth Ortega
Ramirez '21

*President, SUNY Oswego
Student Association*

A human resource major with a photography minor from Peru, Ortega previously served SA as director of gender equity and women's affairs. Her priorities include increasing transparency and collaboration with other organizations and departments across campus and providing resources for students to enhance their extracurricular experiences. Her previous campus activities included being Women's Center vice president, the co-ed community service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega and the Focus Forward mentor program. In summer 2020, Ortega was a human resource intern at Fulton Companies, an American multinational group of companies headquartered in Pulaski. She currently serves as senior advisor for the Women's Center and continues her Fulton Companies internship.

Alumni Banner Presenters

Colleen Sewall '21

Hailing from Baldwinsville, Sewall is a marketing major and graphic design minor. During her time at Oswego, Sewall was a Laker Leader and Parent

Laker Leader captain for New Student Orientation; an Admissions Office tour guide; a resident assistant in Cayuga and Funnelle halls; a brother of Alpha Phi Omega; and a Future Alumni Network student ambassador for the Office of Development and Alumni Engagement. She also served as the coordinator of S.H.O.P. (Students Helping Oz Peers), the food and clothing pantry that serves the campus community, and the student representative on the Oswego Alumni Association's Board of Directors. After graduation, Sewall hopes to work in the nonprofit sector and eventually earn a master's in nonprofit management.

Koushank Harinder
Singh Ahuja '21

An international student from India, Ahuja is graduating with dual degrees in psychology and broadcasting and mass communication. He has been involved as a mentor in Focus Forward, as well as with Residence Life and Housing, New Student Orientation, the International Student and Scholar Services Office, Campus Technology Services and the Lifestyles Center. He also served as president of the International Student Association and as a justice for Student Association Supreme Court. He has worked as a peer advisor and research assistant with the psychology department, and also served on Oswego's SUNY Chancellor's Awards and Distinguished Faculty Selection Committee. Ahuja interned for the oldest and largest national non-profit assisting the LGBTQ and HIV+ communities, Lambda Legal. He intends to pursue a career in advocating with and for marginalized communities.

SUNY Chancellor's Award for Student Excellence

The highest student recognition through the SUNY system, the award recognizes students who earn high grade-point averages and make outstanding contributions to their campus and community.

Christian DiBiase
Biology major

DiBiase, who holds a perfect 4.0 grade-point average, has worked on four intensive research projects with faculty exploring environmental and health-related topics. He presented research at the national Sigma Xi conference and the regional Rochester Academy of Sciences Conference. The Possibility Scholar from Ravena has volunteered for the on-campus Student Association Volunteer Ambulance Corps and for Oswego Hospital. DiBiase participated in SUNY Stands with Puerto Rico, a summer experience helping inhabitants rebuild and recover from extensive hurricane damage, and alternative break activities at an HIV/AIDS clinic in New Orleans. He also worked in Washington, D.C. with Food and Friends to deliver tailored meals to people with chronic illnesses. Next he will relocate to attend a graduate physician assistant program at Barry University in Miami.

Possibility Scholars

The Possibility Scholars Awards are presented to the graduating Possibility Scholars in recognition of their accomplishments in the Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics fields throughout their four years as a scholar. Such accomplishments include rigorous laboratory-based summer research projects through the Summer Research Institute and an international service learning experience through the Global Laboratory to study real-world problems such as mitigating climate change, controlling emerging diseases, reducing extreme poverty, developing sustainable energy resources, and wisely managing water and food systems.

College Honors Program

The Oswego College Honors Program consists of a core of courses in the social sciences, humanities, natural sciences, philosophy and history designed to stimulate students' intellectual growth and develop their analytical abilities. Unlike traditional courses, which present material from a single field of study, Honors Program courses are multi-disciplinary, drawing ideas and information from many fields and addressing concerns common to all the disciplines. In addition to Honors core requirements and all the requirements in their majors, Honors Program students must also meet requirements in laboratory science and a foreign language and complete an Honors Thesis, in which they explore a topic in some depth.

The following students from the Class of 2021 are completing the requirements for the SUNY Oswego College Honors Program:

Max Cameron	Gregory Manno
Kain Coffey	Sophia Moon
Christian DiBiase	Isaiah Pomerville
Kristie Drzewiecki	Nicholas Proietti
Matthew Grzenda	Elizabeth Shannon
Maya Herr	Lucas Spagnuolo
Lok Chi Hon	Kaitlyn Stork
Ashley Kent	Maria Villatoro Aguilar

Honors Programs

Honors Programs have been instituted for outstanding students in the fields of biology, chemistry, economics, history, mathematics, meteorology, physics, political science and psychology. The eligibility requirements for these programs are rigorous and the coursework itself is beyond the scope of that of regular classes. The following students from this class have completed an Honors Program:

Koushank Harind Singh Ahuja - Psychology	Trieu Le - Physics
Ryan Bailine - Chemistry	Anna Makara - Chemistry
Michael Browne - Meteorology	Taylor Maslin - Chemistry
Anthony Chalmers - Physics	Sophia Moon - Biological Sciences
Kain Coffey - Psychology	Lillian Pavord - Biological Sciences
Aaron Cole - Biological Sciences	Christina Scalzo - Chemistry
Olivia Colon - Chemistry	Elizabeth Schaeffer - Psychology
Kristie Drzewiecki - Biological Sciences	Caroline Sheldon - Biological Sciences
Nivedita Jhunjhunwala - Political Science	Walker Snowden - Meteorology
Derek Kuhn - Chemistry	Elina Van Kempen - Physics
Charlotte Labrie-Cleary - Chemistry

Division of Extended Learning

The Division of Extended Learning is committed to providing access to high-quality education to people of all ages and stages of life and career. The division works with academic departments to create, deliver and support innovative and responsive credit and non-credit programming to diverse audiences in order to open gateways to new careers, enhance skills or pursue lifelong learning, spanning multiple modalities and locations. Non-traditional and part-time students earning baccalaureate completion degrees online, in the evening, and in blended programs at our Syracuse campus receive the same high quality education as on-campus students while maintaining the ability to balance their personal and professional commitments. Degrees include broadcasting and mass communication, business administration, criminal justice, human development, public relations and wellness management.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the largest academic division in SUNY Oswego, boasting 18 academic departments, 15 interdisciplinary programs, five graduate programs, and several certificate programs. Providing a learner-centered community committed to high intellectual standards, the college offers more than 40 undergraduate majors in subjects ranging from American studies to zoology, nearly as many minors, and eight cooperative degree programs. Through in-depth study in traditional and interdisciplinary programs, we prepare students to identify and develop productive solutions to the many challenges facing regional, national, and global civil society.

The College Mace

School of Communication, Media and the Arts

The School of Communication, Media and the Arts brings together programs related to the study and creation of messages through art and music, electronically and via the spoken word. The school combines the strengths of fine and performing arts programs in art, music and theatre with the highly diverse department of communication studies. Nine undergraduate degree options and three master's degrees are offered in addition to interdisciplinary majors and minors. Graduates in this division are identified by tri-colored cords representing brown for art and theatre, crimson for communication studies, and pink for music.

Candidates for Baccalaureate Degree

Subject to completion of all degree requirements, degrees will be conferred upon those individuals listed herein who have met the requirements of their respective degrees in May 2021 and August 2021.

School of Education

Innovation in authentic learning has been a hallmark of SUNY Oswego since its founding in 1861. This creative spirit still thrives in the School of Education, where innovative methods grounded in research and early experiences in the field help students become teachers, counselors, school leaders, and wellness and technical professionals ready to meet the challenges of today's global and diverse educational institutions and communities. The school is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Class of 2021 Senior Class Gifts

SUNY Oswego congratulates and thanks the Class of 2021 for their philanthropy to The Fund for Oswego. Seniors, faculty and staff have helped to support the senior class. In recognition of their philanthropy to their college, student donors have been given the opportunity to thank those who have supported them during their four years.

Marigona Ademi '21

Thank you to my family and friends especially Mom and Dad, my brothers and sister! I love you all very much.

Tamia Alberry Davis '21

Thank you to my amazing parents who did everything to get me here. Thank you to my awesome friends for keeping me afloat. I adore you all!

Samantha Bassett '21

Thank you Professor Fellows, Professor Abraham, Professor Friedman and Professor Max for sharing your knowledge with me. Thank you to the Admissions Office for making this campus feel like home and helping me grow. Lastly, thank you Mom and Dad for supporting me in everything I do!

Amanda Baxter '21

Thank you Mom and Dad for always supporting me and pushing me to do my best. I couldn't have done it without you guys! I love you!

A leader in education and an advocate of free public schools, Edward Austin Sheldon (1823-1897) was responsible for opening the Oswego Primary Teachers' Training School. Sheldon's pioneering ideas in object teaching became a model for other normal schools throughout the nation and around the world. Sculptor John Frances Brines designed the statue that was constructed with penny contributions from school children throughout the state in 1899.

Visitor Information

Emergency Assistance

Medical assistance is available on the ground floor in the Marano Campus Center.

University Police

315.312.5555

Lost and Found

Inquiries should be directed to University Police at the phone number listed above.

Restrooms

Restrooms are available for guests inside the arena, although access is limited due to health guidelines for holding large-scale events.

Photographs and Videotaping

Audience videotaping and photography are permitted only from seats. We plan to post a recorded version of the ceremonies after the events on the college's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/sunyoswegovideo. A professional photographer will be present at the ceremony. Graduates will be emailed a link from the photography company to view their photos. Graduation pictures can be ordered online at www2.geneseephoto.com/welcome.

Notice to Audience Members

Our commencement ceremony may be taped and broadcast via TV, radio, and/or the internet in both live and delayed time formats. By attending this event, you are granting permission to have your likeness or image and your voice broadcast without restriction and without right of inspection or approval. Entrance into the event grants permission for your likeness or image to be used without remuneration and releases the campus and its representatives from all claims and liability relating to these broadcasts or their reuse.

Hail
OSWEGO

Voices fill the air
Singing reverently
Pledging our school fair
Truth and loyalty
This our song we raise
In her name and praise
Oswego, Alma Mater
Hail to thee!
