The course is fantastically supported by simulations like the Beer game, Six sigma training and a student driven SCM event called “Aarohan”.

At SIIB, students learn both the theory and practical implications of a subject by solving case studies as part of the course. In the third semester, the students are acquainted with the corporate environment through their summer internships and from the lectures rendered by the visiting faculties with years of relevant industrial experience. The students voluntarily undergo certifications like SCM- EXE provided by CII and CSCP, CPIM etc. awarded by APICS.

Outside the classroom, students sharpen their management skills by participating in In-house and Inter-College management competitions. The flagship event of SIIB, Ignisense, has an exclusive event “OPIUM”, addressing Supply Chain Management; where management students from all over India compete to claim the best Operations Manager title.
