HBCU Recruitment Fair

DMTC Senior students attended the Honda Historically Black Colleges and Universities Recruitment Fair in Atlanta, Georgia at the Georgia World Congress Center. Many DMTC students received on-site admissions, scholarships and application fee waivers, helping them achieve their educational goals. Students gathered information and had meaningful conversations with HBCU admission directors and counselors. Admissions professionals from over 40 HBCU campuses were on-site at the Honda Historically Black Colleges and University (HBCU) College and Recruitment Fair. The recruitment fair emphasized and stressed opportunities that exist at HBCU's as well as admissions requirements, scholarship requirements, and financial aid opportunities. The face-to-face exposure for DMTC students with admission professionals from many college campuses benefited DMTC Seniors, helping them achieve their educational post-secondary goals.

Middle Schools Tour DMTC

Eighth grade students from Cowpens Middle School, Carver Middle School, EP Todd Middle School, and McCracken Middle School toured Daniel Morgan Technology Center during the month of January. Throughout the tours each DMTC instructor along with the students provided information about the programs available at DMTC.

Culinary Arts

Culinary II students reacquainted themselves to kitchen life, preparing flat-iron steak with pureed potatoes and sautéed spinach.

Engineering Graphics Attends SOUTH-TEC 2017

At the SME Student Innovation Tour students explored exhibits, viewed technologies, talked with industry experts, saw the latest manufacturing innovations, participated in hands-on activities, and met university students studying advanced manufacturing careers. An exciting tour stop for students is to compete in the Rippl3d Rocket Challenge hands-on activity.

Cosmetology

The annual Cosmetology Mock State Board Exam for Spartanburg County Technology Centers was hosted by the Cosmetology Program at Union Comprehensive High School on February 5, 2018. The schools that participated in this activity were DMTC, R.D. Anderson Applied Technology Center, H.B. Swofford Career Center and Union Comprehensive High school. This event is a practice (yet graded) activity for students to gain experience for the actual state board exam, which is held in the spring.

Former cosmetology student, Kansas Trammel demonstrated the Pompadour haircut to Ms. Sim's second year cosmetology students on February 1. Ms. Trammel started working as a receptionist at Great Clips while she was studying for her cosmetology license at DMTC. She is now the assistant manager of the Boiling Springs location.

Cosmetology

On January 31, 2018, DMTC Cosmetology teacher Ms. Sims, and her student, Ariel Skeleton participated in an afterschool program called Road to Royalty. They performed facial demonstrations for the EP Todd eighth grade students.

Center for Manufacturing Innovation

Daniel Morgan Technology Center toured the Center for Manufacturing Innovation at Greenville Technical College on February 7, 2018. Touring with DMTC was a group of educators from Indiana. The group is visiting South Carolina to gather information on how mechatronics career and technology education is accomplished in our area. DMTC Mechatronics Instructor, Clint Swofford, hosted the same group at DMTC on February 8 as part of the tour. Other stops will include Benteler Automotive, RD Anderson, and Spartanburg Community College. Benteler Automotive is planning to incorporate an apprenticeship program at its plant in Indiana. Broome High School senior and DMTC Mechatronics completer Cole Quinn is the first high school student to participate in a Registered Youth Apprenticeship with Benteler.

Work-Based Learning

Parker Cooksey is the latest Spartanburg High School senior to participate in the DMTC Work-Based Learning program. Parker is a DMTC Welding completer and is working at Tindall Corporation. Parker is the first high school student to be given this opportunity at Tindall. According to the HR Manager, Parker is setting the bar high for any students to follow. Great job Parker!

Clayton Wells is a Broome High School senior and DMTC Mechatronics completer. He is participating in a Work-Based Learning experience at SEW Eurodrive in Lyman. Clayton started this experience in January and has already earned a raise. DMTC is very proud of Clayton for his hard work.
