For early-stage Parkinson's.
Neupro[®] Ready to keep you steady.

Neupro gives you a steady flow of medicine all day, every day.

That way you can keep doing what you want, when you want. Once you put the patch on, it stays on for a full 24 hours. Unlike pills, the medicine goes directly through the skin to control early-stage Parkinson's. So it's always ready to keep you steady. Ask your doctor about Neupro today.

Neupro is indicated for the treatment of the signs and symptoms of early-stage idiopathic (meaning the cause is not known) Parkinson's disease. Some patients treated with Neupro reported falling asleep without any warning signs while engaged in activities of daily living such as driving, which sometimes resulted in accidents. Hallucinations such as hearing or sensing things that were not real were reported in 2.0% of patients treated with Neupro compared to 0.7% of patients on placebo. The most commonly reported side effects in clinical trials were nausea, application site reactions, somnolence (sleepiness), dizziness, headache, vomiting, and insomnia.

Neupro should be used with caution in patients, especially those at risk for heart disease, because of the potential for symptomatic hypotension (low blood pressure), syncope (feeling faint), elevated heart rate, elevated blood pressure, fluid retention, and/or weight gain. All Parkinson's disease patients are at a higher risk for melanoma (a type of skin cancer) and should be monitored regularly. Some patients who received Neupro experienced a decrease in blood hemoglobin. It is not known whether this change is readily reversible after stopping Neupro.

The Parkinson's Patch[™]

PATIENT SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

NEUPRO® [NU pro]
(Rotigotine Transdermal System)
Rx Only

IMPORTANT: NEUPRO is for skin use only.

Read the Patient Information that comes with NEUPRO before you start using it and each time you get a refill. There may be new information. This information does not take the place of talking to your doctor about your medical condition or your treatment. If you have any questions about NEUPRO, ask your doctor or pharmacist.

What is the most important information I should know about NEUPRO?

NEUPRO may make you very sleepy or cause you to fall asleep suddenly, and without warning while doing normal activities such as driving, talking with other people, watching TV, or eating. This can happen any time during treatment with NEUPRO.

- Do not drive, work on ladders, or do other dangerous activities while using NEUPRO until you know how NEUPRO affects you.
- If NEUPRO does make you very sleepy, or you fall asleep suddenly while doing normal activities, do not drive or do other dangerous activities until you talk with your doctor.

Tell your doctor if you fall asleep suddenly while doing normal activities or feel sleepier than normal.

Heat may cause too much medicine from a NEUPRO patch to pass through your skin. While you are wearing a NEUPRO patch, do not:

- apply a heating pad to the application site area
- take a hot bath
- expose the application site to direct sunlight
- use a sauna

What is NEUPRO?

NEUPRO is a type of medicine called a dopamine agonist. NEUPRO is a patch (transdermal delivery system) worn on the skin. It is used to treat the signs and symptoms of early-stage Parkinson's disease in adults. NEUPRO has not been studied in children.

Who should not use NEUPRO?

Do not use NEUPRO if you are allergic to anything in it. See the prescribing information on www.neupro.com for a list of all the ingredients in NEUPRO. NEUPRO contains a sulfite called sodium metabisulfite. Sulfites can cause life threatening allergic reactions in people who are sensitive to sulfites. People with asthma are more likely to be sensitive to sulfites. If you have trouble breathing or swallowing while using NEUPRO, remove NEUPRO right away and call your doctor or get emergency care.

NEUPRO may not be right for you. Before starting NEUPRO tell your doctor about all of your health conditions including if you:

- are allergic to sulfites
- have heart problems
- have asthma
- have blood pressure problems
- are pregnant or breastfeeding or planning on becoming pregnant

Tell your doctor if you drink alcohol. Alcohol should be avoided while using NEUPRO. Alcohol and NEUPRO can interact and increase your chance of being sleepy or falling asleep suddenly while doing normal activities.

Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take including prescription and nonprescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements.

Some medicines may affect how NEUPRO works. NEUPRO may also affect how your other medicines work. Especially tell your doctor if you take other medicines that can make you sleepy such as sleep medicines, antidepressants, or antipsychotics.

Know the medicines you take. Keep a list of your medicines with you to show your doctor and pharmacist each time you get a new medicine.

How should I use NEUPRO?

See the prescribing information on www.neupro.com for complete instructions on how to use and apply a NEUPRO patch.

- Use NEUPRO exactly as prescribed by your doctor.
- NEUPRO comes in 3 different size (dose) patches. Your doctor will probably start you on a low dose of NEUPRO. Your doctor will change the dose weekly until you are taking the right amount of medicine to control your symptoms. It may take several weeks before you reach the dose that controls your symptoms best. Do not stop or change your dose of NEUPRO without first talking with your doctor.
- Talk to your doctor often about your condition. Do not stop or change your treatment with NEUPRO without talking to your doctor.
- Patients with Parkinson's disease may have an increased chance of getting a skin cancer called melanoma. People with Parkinson's disease should have a doctor check their skin for skin cancer regularly.

What are the possible side effects of NEUPRO?

Possible serious side effects with NEUPRO include:

- falling asleep while doing normal activities. See "What is the most important information I should know about NEUPRO?"
- low blood pressure that makes you feel dizzy, faint, sweaty, or have nausea. Stand up slowly when getting up from a sitting or lying position. Tell your doctor if you have symptoms of low blood pressure with NEUPRO.
- fainting
- hallucinations (seeing, hearing, or sensing things that are not real). The chance for hallucinations is higher in elderly patients with Parkinson's disease.
- compulsive behavior and trouble controlling strong urges such as:
 - gambling too much
 - increased sexual desire
 - repeating meaningless actions

Talk to your doctor if you or family members notice that you are having unusual urges.

The most common side effects with NEUPRO are:

- nausea
- headache
- trouble sleeping (insomnia)
- dizziness
- application site reaction
- vomiting
- drowsiness or sleepiness

These are not all the side effects of NEUPRO. For more information, ask your doctor or pharmacist. Talk to your doctor about any side effects or problems you may have.
