Presentation on the Timeline Feature based upon the scenario attached below

Note taking Apps

EverNote

- Cost: Free. Premium version ($5 p/m or $45 p/y) includes taking notebooks offline to access them at any time, allowing others to access and edit your notebooks, and adding a PIN to lock your APP
- Availability: iPad, iPhone, Mac, iPod Touch, Android and Web Access
- Website: www.evernote.com
- Product Description: Evernote lets you take notes, capture photos, create to-do lists, record voice reminders, and makes these notes completely searchable, whether you are at home, at work or on the go. Easily remember everything with the ability to take notes and search the notes across your devices. Evernote is only for typing the notes i.e. no handwriting option. User can download “Penultimate” which was created to use in conjunction with Evernote, to hand write notes.
- Uses: to take notes on the go and sync all of your devices for a coherent, organized network of your notes accessible from your desktop to your phone to your tablet.

- Comments: NY Times labeled it a “Top 10 Must-Have App”, winner of the following awards: TechCrunch Crunchies, Mashable Awards and the Webby’s.

Notability

- Cost: $4.99 but on sale for .99 for a limited time.
- Availability: iPad and iPhone.
- Website: <http://www.gingerlabs.com>
- Product Description: Notability powerfully integrates handwriting, PDF annotations, typing, recording, and organizing so you can take notes your way. Discover the freedom to capture ideas, share insights, and present information in one perfect place on iPad. Take notes on your iPad and either email them to yourself or place them in Dropbox – a free document storage app.
- Uses: To take notes on your iPad but also provides users with the options of adding media, editing the notes, handwriting the notes, and combining handwritten and typed notes. User can use finger or stylus for handwriting. User can comment on PDFs, and also link the recorded audio to the notes – tap the word in the notes to hear what was said at that moment.
- Comments: Only available for the iPad currently. We think this may be very useful for lawyers to mark up documents on the go. It can also be used to sign documents. The following link has instructions on how to use the app; <http://www.pcmag.com/article2/0,2817,2383925,00.asp>. When there were issues on how to use some of the features, tech support was contacted and they responded almost immediately and were very helpful.

GoodNotes

- Cost: $4.99
- Availability: For the iPad
- Website: <http://goodnotesapp.com>
- Product Description: GoodNotes lets you take handwritten notes, sketch diagrams, mark-up PDFs and organize them on a beautiful bookshelf. Turn pages with a swipe, highlight or add notes to any page, and share your notes with anyone. GoodNotes will automatically save your notes and has full backup function to prevent data loss. Built-in Dropbox file browser and ability to share documents with any other GoodNotes user.
- Uses: To take notes, with stylus or finger, on your iPad and to edit those documents/other documents such as PDFs, with the abilities to highlight, insert text, and insert pictures.
- Comments: Only for the iPad.

SuperNote

- Cost: Free – can only support 4 notes. Can buy for $1.99 to get unlimited notes.
- Website: <http://heavydutyapps.com/supernote/>
- Available for the iPad, iPhone and iPod Touch
- Product Description: Super Note helps you create notes very rapidly, and make voice recordings during. The notes are color coded so you can find them instantly, and you can swipe through them to go from one to the other. You can even set alert reminders on your notes so you never miss anything or change the note color code / category on the fly.
Recordings are built right into the note and can be made at any time - you can take notes while recording or while listening, and you can add new recording sections / continue a stopped recording. You can also transfer your notes to other people or to your computer using email or Wi-Fi.

- Uses: Type notes on your iPad, or record while typing. Solely to create text notes, not edit documents.
- Comments: Allows you to set reminders to your notes, which will pop up even if app is closed.

KeyNote

- Cost: $9.99
- Website: www.apple.com/iwork/keynote
- Available: iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch
- Product Description: Uses: KeyNote is similar to PowerPoint for your apple devices (iPad, iPhone, iPod touch, etc.). It utilizes the iCloud to store your presentation so it is updated on all devices as soon as changes are made. AND don't forget the KeyNote Remote, an iPhone app that allows you to use your iPhone as a remote to control the presentation on any other apple device
- Uses: A good app to view, edit, or design PowerPoint and/or KeyNote presentations when you are not at your desk.

CaptureNotes 2

- Cost: $4.99
- Website: <http://capturenotes.com/>
- Available for the iPad
- Product Description: Write, type, Record Audio – pinpointing critical items with Flag's, which can then be cross-referenced for review later with other items. Flags are also time-synced to the audio as you take your notes. Import PDFs. Add and take photos, Share to Dropbox and Evernote. Your notes are managed in "elegant", customized notebooks and binders, with Thumbnail views for easy navigation.
- Uses: Organize and manage case documents, annotate and organize depositions and easily present for ADR, clients or other uses.
- Comments: Great app for students, or anyone who's in the habit of color-coding and marking notes for later use. Let's you handwrite and/or type your notes. Different from the other apps in that its user friendly and intuitive to use as it's just like have a "binder" for every subject.

Legal Viewer

- Cost: $4.99
- Website: www.strutlegal.com
- Available for the iPad
- Product Description: Legal Viewer is a PDF viewer for hyperlinked PDFs on the iPad. It is touted as "the first iPad application developed to serve the specific needs of the legal community by providing a simple yet powerful way to view and annotate eBriefs (hyperlinked briefs) and other PDFs on the iPad." Users can download all the PDFs on their iPad and read, copy text and/or annotate. It was created to make accessing eBrief technology. It also offers the opportunity to add descriptive bookmarks, making it easy to find what you are looking for.

UPADLite and UPAD

- Cost: Free version and Upgrade ($4.99). Upgrade allows you more than 5 "notes." Each file can be password protected.
- Website: www.pockeysoft.com

- Available for the iPad only
- Product Description: Note taking + PDF Annotating + Photo decorating all-in-one. Draw and sketch, figures and images with ease and comfort. Comes with 30 paper templates for note taking or drawing, allows you to create folders for organizing your docs/notes/drawings. Can also type text with your keyboard.

Law Related Apps

TrialPad

- Cost: $89.99
- Website: www.trialpad.com
- Available for the iPad
- Product Description: TrialPad is a very powerful legal document management and presentation tool developed specifically for the legal profession. TrialPad allows you to organize, manage, annotate and store documents in video while leveraging the portability of your iPad. TrialPad lets you create separate case folders, organize and sort important documents, and dramatically annotate and present them through its flexible output options. It supports Adobe Acrobat file format (.pdf). The Adobe can be a single page or hundreds of pages, a photograph or a transcript. Any of these can be annotated for use. It also supports 8 other formats. It offers three different ways to organize and view your cases: Icon, Thumbnail and List. Cases can also be organized alphabetically forward or backwards or by most recent opened. There is also a search box.
- Uses: Organize and manage case documents, annotate and organize depositions and easily present for ADR, clients or other uses.

Docket in the Pocket

- Cost: $3.99
- Website: <http://docketinyourpocket.com/>
- Available for: iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch, Android, Kindle Fire
- Product Description: Contains detailed criminal records for Pennsylvania, going back to 2000, including DUI's, and violent crimes. The app warns users to verify all information with local court dockets or the state police, and it also warns users not to use the information when hiring, renting or for certain other purposes. Appears to contain convictions and charges filed, perhaps not arrests. User can enter first, middle, and last name; date of birth, county and docket type to narrow search results.
- Use in Family Law: Perform quick, preliminary criminal background checks of any party or household members retroactive to 2000.

Isplit Divorce Premium/Standard/Isplitlite

- Cost: $9.99/$4.99/Free
- Website: <http://apgmobileapps.com/>
- Available for the iPad
- Product Description: iPad based tool that helps divorcing could split up their marital assets/debts by using the "drag and drop" feature of Apple's mobile platform. Free version can be used by divorcing couples to easily split up their marital assets. Output can be configured to a spreadsheet to share with others. Standard version allows for 5 configurations or scenarios. Premium version allows users to create and save as many configurations (i.e. move the house to the other party) as you want. Output to a spreadsheet (CSV file) that can be submitted to courts. Includes the same ten (10) major asset and debts that courts most commonly use.

- Uses: “Pretty” version of an asset chart. Lets you easily manipulate assets from one side to the other automatically recalculating the value of same. May be useful for clients who have difficulty “visualizing” what’s happening with the assets.

Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure

- Cost: Free
- Website: <http://www.attacore.com/products/pa-rules-of-appellate-procedure>
- Available for: iPhone, iPad and iPod Touch
- Product Description: Contains the full PA Rules of Appellate Procedure, contained in your phone or device, so no access to internet or Wi-Fi needed. Can search by word or Rule number to locate relevant Rules. Can save a Rule to your favorites, and can email a Rule. The app information states that the Rules in the app may vary “slightly” from the official Rules, and that updates will be made timely for Rule changes but may take a couple of weeks to implement, so use with some caution.
- Use in Family Law: Handy for finding specific points in the Rules, particularly if no internet access to use your research software. Can look up Appellate Rules while out of the office or at court.

Pennsylvania Rules of Evidence

- Cost: $5.99
- Website: <http://www.vernerlegal.com/>; <https://itunes.apple.com/us/app/pennsylvania-rules-evidence/id335110176?mt=8>
- Available for: iPhone, iPad and iPod Touch
- Product Description: Full text of the Pennsylvania Rules of Evidence, as of August 15, 2009. Drill down from main menu or search by keyword or key phrase. Keywords and key phrases are highlighted in search results. Created by a Texas based attorney. Not clear if frequently or ever updated. No data on accuracy available.
- Use in Family Law: Could be handy for finding specific points in the Rules and can search Rules while out of the office or at court.

PA Support Calculator

- Cost: Free
- Website: <http://www.familylawsoftware.com/>
- Available for: iPhone, iPad, Android and Kindle Fire

- Product Description: Allows you to Calculate PA child support easily, instantly and accurately.
- Comments: Some practitioners have noted that Judges/Masters want to see the “back up” vs. only the “calculation.”

Pennsylvania Rules of Juvenile Procedure

- Cost: $2.99
- Website: <http://www.attacore.com/products/pa-rules-of-juvenile-court-procedure>.
- Available for: iPad, iPhone, and iPod touch.
- Product Description: Download the Pennsylvania Rules of Juvenile Court Procedure (Title 237) on your iPhone, iPad, and iPod touch. Interactive features makes navigation easy.
- Uses: You are able to access any of the rules even when you have no internet or WiFi connection. You can also quickly locate a search term in any rule or rule title; the search term will be highlighted when the rule is viewed. It also allows you to email or save a rule.

ABA Journal

- Cost: Free
- Website: http://www.abajournal.com/stay_connected
- Available for: iPad, iPhone, iPod touch, Android, Windows, Kindle
- Product Description: The ABA Journal App updates legal news as it happens

FastCase

- Cost: The application is free to download. A subscription to their database is required for any meaningful research, but is comparably inexpensive to Westlaw Next (less than $1000 annually for the premium subscription).
- Website: www.fastcase.com
- Availability: iPhone, iPad and Android
- Product Description: The iPad application enables the user access to the entire Fast Case research database. One can read case law or statutes in high resolution display. The database consists of a comprehensive collection of state and federal case law, statutes, codes, and regulations. Any research may be conducted by key words, phrases, or citations. In addition, subscription costs vary according to the needs of the user.
- Uses: The application in and of itself may be used for free on the iPad with full access to the entire database without a subscription. However, this option is only practical in the instance where one already knows identifying information to search by key words/case name or via citation to ensure competent research. In addition, the application is perfect for one who needs instantaneous access to one’s research and associated work product on the fly for all documents saved within one’s personal library.

WestLaw Next

- Cost: Free to download application for the iPhone, iPad, and Android devices. However, counselor must already have an account with Westlaw and the same charges per the current user agreement apply regardless of how one gains access into Westlaw’s research database.
- Website: <http://store.westlaw.com>
- Availability: App for iPhone and iPad; Mobile Website access for all others
- Product Description: Westlaw Next allows one to search any and all relevant case law, statutes, rules of evidence/procedure, and secondary sources. The application instantaneously links with Key Cite to ensure any law relied upon is still good law. The purpose of the application is to enable access to one's work product while on the go. The highlighting of information within cases and associated notation, research history, and downloaded material is all preserved and readily accessible.

- Uses: If affordable given the resources of the firm, one has a plethora of research materials at one's fingertips. The database can be used for anything ranging from the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure in regards to a support determination to primary authority cited within supplemental briefs for any pleadings filed. The difference between Westlaw and other research databases is the sheer thoroughness and quantity of categorized materials that may make the difference between whether one wins or loses a given case on an arguable issue where primary authority and the interpretation thereof is integral. The best usage would be for the young associates or legal interns still in law school (with their free access to the database for "non-commercial purposes") who have been inundated with the modern tools of research throughout their entire legal careers and can maneuver throughout the site most effectively (keeping costs minimal as a result).

Wolfram

- Cost: $4.99

File Storage Apps

Drop Box

- Cost: free for 2 GB and up to 18 GB based upon referrals; 100 GB costs $9.99 per month or $99.00 per year; 200 GB costs $19.99 per month or $199.00 per year; and 500 GB costs $49.99 per month or $499.00 per year.
- Availability: for iPad, iPhone, Kindle Fire, Mac, Windows, Linux, Android, iOS, and Blackberry
- Website: www.dropbox.com
- Product Description: Dropbox is a free service that lets you transfer and store documents, photographs, videos, etc. from any computer to another or to another device. When you save any file to your Dropbox account it will automatically be available to you on any of your computers or devices, and it will be available to you at the Dropbox website which you can log into from any computer or device. Dropbox was founded in 2007 by Drew Houston and Arash Ferdowsi, two MIT students tired of emailing files to themselves to work from more than one computer. Dropbox preserves all saved materials even if your computer crashes, suffers a breach, or otherwise loses information. Dropbox assures that documents are the same notwithstanding the computer or device from which you are working, so that you are able to work on a document on one computer or device, and then continue to work on that document on any other computer or device seamlessly.

- Uses: Dropbox is an excellent method for storage of documents, photographs, videos, etc., as well as transferring and sharing these items. DropBox also provides an efficient method of back up for documents, photographs, videos, etc. because a crash, a breach, or other loss of information has no affect on data stored in a Dropbox account. Dropbox permits users to retrieve deleted documents, and to restore prior drafts of documents. Specific links to documents or other items in your Dropbox account can be sent to others
- Comments: For added security, you can set up a two-step verification process. For more information, click on <https://www.dropbox.com/help/363#2fa-apps>

Fictitious Family Scenario for Proliance Demonstration

Harry (H) and Wendy (W) were married on July 26, 1986. Harry was 27 and Wendy was 24. Harry has a degree from University of Wisconsin in Finance and Accounting and qualified as a CPA in 1984. Harry started his own business, Harry's Variety Shops, in July 1986. He is a sole proprietor. He now has 3 locations, 10 ft employees and 4 pt employees. He does all the ordering, Accts Receivable and Accts Payable, as well as the parties' personal and business tax returns. Husband shows the net profits from the business on his personal tax returns.

Wendy was employed as a sales clerk at Abercrombie and Fitch when the parties met and continued in that job after they married. Wendy has a BA degree from the University of Pittsburgh. Her major was history. When she became pregnant with the parties' first child, she became a full time homemaker and Mother. On January 6, 2008, Wendy went back to work as a receptionist/office clerk in a group medical practice in Mt. Lebanon. She works 37.5 hrs a week and earns $12.80/hr for gross earnings of $24,960. She also receives a $1,000 bonus at Christmas time from the doctors. She has health insurance and participates in a Group sponsored 401(k). After 3 years of participation, the practice matches 3% of her contribution. Participation is not mandatory.

H and W had 2 children. Anna (A) is now 19 and a freshman at Penn State, main campus. The parties established college funds for both children during the marriage. Husband manages both accounts. Anna's account has $61,000 and is being used to fund her freshman year at Penn State. Billy (B) is in 10th grade at Mt. Lebanon High School. His college fund has $50,106. No deposits have been made into either college account since separation.

The parties separated on September 30, 2009 when Husband advised Wife that he was moving out and their marriage was over. He filed a Divorce action on October 17, 2009 raising claims for divorce and equitable distribution. Wife did not retain counsel until February 2010 at which time she filed a Petition Raising Claims for alimony pendent lite, alimony, equitable distribution, counsel fees, costs and expenses, injunctive relief, and maintenance of insurance policies. Wife's attorney immediately thereafter sent out a comprehensive set of Interrogatories and a First Request for Production of Documents. Based on the information received incident to that request, Wife's counsel prepared a listing of date of separation assets and liabilities as set forth below:

At separation on September 30, 2009, incident to the discovery propounded by Wife's attorney (WA), the parties' Retirement Investment portfolio contained 4 separate entities:

Husband's SEP at Federated, Husband's Fidelity ROTH IRA, and Wife's Fidelity Spousal IRA. Wife also has a 401(k) with the medical group. At date of separation the SEP was worth $179,652; the Roth IRA was worth $99,460; the Spousal IRA was worth $36,012 and her Group 401(k) was worth $1,310.40.

Husband also has an E*TRADE account in his own name with fluctuating balances ranging from $60-85,000 over the course of the last 16 months. Wife had little to no information about this account or any of the family finances.

The parties have several PNC Certificates of Deposit – most in joint names, some in their individual names, some in one parent and one child.

Husband maintains 3 PNC bank accounts: one for the business and two personal. One of the personal accounts is joint with Wife. Husband uses this account for purposes of depositing Wife's alimony pendent lite and child support. Prior to the filing of the divorce action, Wife did not see the records from any of these account as all statements are sent to Husband's offices. These statements are still sent only to Husband's offices.

Wife has 2 PNC accounts – one which she opened in January 2008 into which her personal paycheck is direct deposited every 2 weeks, and the one that is joint with Husband. This is the account referenced above in which Husband deposits $3,000/mo as alimony pendent lite and child support for Billy. This amount was negotiated between the parties at the time of separation (without benefit of counsel) and Husband has complied fully. Wife receives all statement related to this account and is responsible for household utility payments, her car insurance, maintenance and registration, Billy's extra-curricular activities (guitar lessons, swim meets, weekly allowance) and her and Billy's clothing, uncovered medical expenses, food, haircuts, vacations, etc. As part of that Agreement, Husband also pays the monthly mortgage on the marital residence of $1,493.18/mo. This payment includes the real estate taxes and homeowner's insurance and is not paid from this joint account.

There is no evidence of where this monthly mortgage payment is coming from as a review of Husband's personal and business accounts do not show monthly payments to the mortgage company. However, after contacting the mortgage company it was determined that payments have been kept current with monthly payments on the 5th of each month. There is no deficiency.

The parties have 2 cars. Husband's car, a 2008 BMW is provided by the business, which pays all expenses related to it. Husband's leases run for 60 months. He will be getting a new car in 13 months. Wife's car, a 2007 Subaru Legacy, is owned by the parties jointly. It has no encumbrance, but has mileage of over 96,000 miles. Wife thinks she will need a new car in another year. Wife plans that Billy will take this 2007 car when he begins to drive, and that Wife will get a new car, probably another Subaru.

Each of the parties has policies with Metropolitan Life. Husband's policy has a death benefit of $400,000 and a date of separation cash surrender value off $93,000. Wife's policy has a death benefit of $250,000 and a date of separation cash surrender value of $57,319.

At the time of separation, the parties had the following joint credit cards: It was agreed that Husband would assume responsibility for these credit cards. All of these joint cards were closed.

Macy's with a balance of $1,660.87 This he paid off in 2010.

Sears with a balance of $266.00 This he paid off in 2010.

Chase Visa with a balance of $4,260.00 This is now down to $2,086.

American Express with a balance of $1,325.41. This he paid off in 2011 and 2012.

Husband had two business credit cards: American Express and Chase Visa. Husband is solely responsible for these cards.

Wife had 2 personal cards: Saks Fifth Avenue and Kohl's. Wife is personally responsible for these cards. Since separation, Wife added a new PNC Visa card in her name alone. Her current balance is $6,220.93 related to expenses she incurred getting her daughter ready for college and for paying her legal expenses. Wife is paying $325/mo on her credit cards.

On June 12, 2012, Wife's attorney sent out a Second Request for Production of Documents for all the investment accounts, his Etrade account, and his business and personal checking accounts. Husband did not respond. Wife's counsel prepared a Motion to Compel and a Request for Authorizations which she presented to the Court on August 21, 2012. The Court granted her Motion to Compel and for the Authorizations. Husband was provided with Authorizations prepared by Wife's counsel and signed and returned them on August 27, 2012. Incident to the information gathered thereafter, it appears that significant withdrawals have been made by Husband subsequent to the date of separation.

Husband's Fidelity Roth IRA – Husband withdrew $17,500 on January 9, 2011 and $26,400 on February 3, 2012.

Husband's E*TRADE account – routine semi-monthly withdrawals of $900 since March 20, 2010 and continuing to the present time are deposited into Husband's personal PNC account.

The joint PNC Certificates of Deposit - Husband cashed in one CD for $8,000 in July 2010 and a second for $6,400 in May 2011. He cashed in one CD that he held with Anna for $6,000 on June 2, 2012. This CD had been a gift from Wife's Mother to Anna for her 16th birthday. The whereabouts of all of these funds is unknown.

Husband's Metropolitan Insurance policy: Husband withdrew $3,900 from the cash surrender value on 12/22/11.

None of the monthly mortgage payments appear on any of the known bank accounts maintained by Husband and yet each month a payment is made on the 5th day for the full amount $1,493.18.

The parties filed a joint tax return for 2009 but have filed separate returns since 2010. The refund on the joint tax return, $4,612 was received on May 16, 2010 and was split equally between the parties. Wife pays taxes on her apl/child support and takes both children as deductions. Husband takes the benefit of the deduction for the apl/child support and the mortgage, real estate taxes on the marital residence.
