Rabbi Michael Rascoe

Pesah is our festival of freedom, the time of our liberation from Egypt. As a result of our redemption, we were led to our true freedom at Mount Sinai, where we became the House of Israel (Jews) by accepting the covenant between God and the people Israel. Our part of the agreement is to obey God's laws so that we will become God's people and carry out the divine mission to bear God's standard.

We remember and re-enact our beginnings with the seder service and meal. At the seder, we banquet and retell our symbols. We feel compelled to return to the basics, to recover that special character of Jewish memory indelibly impressed upon us. The seder urges us to remember and to react to our heritage and history, and to integrate those feelings and messages into our own lives.

Many motifs appear in the seder which we cannot fail to notice: selfishness, pleasure, pace of life, poverty, war, and hunger. Accordingly, we read in the hag-gadah, “In every generation each person must perceive oneself as personally redeemed from Egypt.” This stands as our moral imperative, forcing us to confront ourselves and our society.

Have a happy and kosher Passover, Hag kasher v’same-ah.

Dr. Ann Lapidus Lerner

Anne Lapidus Lerner's research focuses on the ways in which classic Jewish texts and traditions relate to Jews today. She has been a pioneer in the field of Jewish Women's Studies and a leading spokesperson for Conservative Judaism.

Her interest in interdenominational pursuits is reflected in the 2009 "This Is My Prayer—Va'ani Tefillati: Jewish Women in Prayer" Conference, which she organized and chaired. A popular lecturer and scholar-in-residence, Dr. Lerner teaches courses on the portrayal of women in Jewish literature and Judaism, religious issues in modern Jewish literature, and modern biblical rewriting. She is the first woman to hold the post of vice-chancellor at JTS, and is one of the highest-ranking women in American Jewish institutional life.

Dr. Lerner's most recent book, Eternally Eve: Images of Eve in the Hebrew Bible, Midrash, and Modern Jewish Poetry, brings together her interests in text and context, feminism, and Judaism. She has earned Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctoral degrees from Harvard University, as well as a Bachelor's degree in Jewish Education and a Master's degree in Hebrew Letters from Hebrew College in Boston.

We are replacing our worn Hertz Chumashim, which our congregants use to follow the Torah reading, with the lovely Etz Hayim Chumash, a landmark publication for the contemporary Jewish community. Etz Hayim is a publication of the Conservative movement, produced through a joint venture of The Rabbinical Assembly, The United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism, and The Jewish Publication Society. Books can be purchased and dedicated in honor or memory of someone special in your life, at a cost of $54 per book. This new version of the Chumash will be an important update to our weekly services, bringing more modern translations and meaning to our weekly Torah service.

To see more about the Etz Hayim Chumash, go to the following link:
<http://www.rabbinicalassembly.org/resources-ideas/publications/humash>

I/we would like to help defray the cost of our new Chumashim.

February Speaker

On February 28, Dr. Eric R. Mandel from “StandWithUs” spoke before a substantial gathering at Temple Israel. His topic was “Understanding the Middle East; Beyond the Headlines.” He led a rapt audience through the complexities, intrigues, and ancient rivalries involved in today’s turmoil, which he described at one point as a ‘five dimensional chess game.’

Israel’s involvement in the current conflicts has been almost entirely limited to watchfulness, and providing medical care to injured Syrians who manage to reach its borders. Although a favorite target and scapegoat, Israel is probably the least relevant factor. Arab states have fracture lines strongly related to tribe and class. From the Middle Eastern perspective, the events of 1400 years ago are current.

Iran is of much consequence, despite some grave U.S. policy errors. However, the most serious danger presented by Iran-U.S. nuclear rapprochement is the inevitable Sunni reaction: then they too will have to go nuclear!

The various radical Islamists share a vision of a caliphate under sharia law. They differ primarily over tactics, but not end goal. Dr. Mandel referred to the Islamic State/ISIS by the term used in Israel and the Middle East, Da-ash. They are seventh century apocalypics, embracing slavery and genocide, and enthusiastically killing Muslims.

Dr. Mandel said that President Obama, as other U.S. presidents, seeks a new relationship with Iran. He believes that an agreement will initiate rapprochement and realignment. He does not see Israel as an asset. He gives too much credence to economic incentives for Iran; ideology trumps economics in the Middle East. He asked the congregation to join him in urging Congress to support the Iran Nuclear Agreement Review Act of 2015.

Philanthropy • Public Service • Volunteering

We know what it takes to make a strong
Jewish community.
Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition. We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.
