These Islamic ideals, of course, have also been emphasized by other great religions. Despite the long history of religious conflict, there is a long counter-history of religious focus on tolerance as a central virtue -- on welcoming the stranger and loving one's neighbour.

- "Who is my Neighbor?" -
- one of the central Christian narratives asks.
- Jesus responds by telling the story
- of the Good Samaritan --
- a foreigner,
- a representative of the Other,
- who reaches out sympathetically, across ethnic
- and cultural divides,
- to show mercy to the fallen stranger at the
- side of the road.

But a certain Samaritan,

was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

(Luke 10:33 KJV) But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

(Luke 10:34 KJV) And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

(Luke 10:35 KJV) And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

(Luke 10:36 KJV) Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

(Luke 10:37 KJV) And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.
