The Divine Comedy Revisited

Midway in our life's journey, I went astray from the straight road and woke to find myself alone in a dark wood. How shall I say *what wood that was! I never saw so drear, so rank, so arduous a wilderness!

Its very memory gives a shape to fear.*

*Death could scarce be more bitter than that place!
But since it came to good, I will recount
all that I found revealed there by God's grace.*

How I came to it I cannot rightly say, so drugged and loose with sleep had I become when I first wandered there from the True Way.

*But at the far end of that valley of evil
whose maze had sapped my very heart with fear!
I found myself before a little hill*

*and lifted up my eyes. Its shoulders glowed already with the sweet rays of that planet*
whose virtue leads men straight on every road.*

*In Dante's time, the sun was considered a planet. The sun represents divine illumination.

And so begins John Ciardi's translation of Dante Alighieri's Comedy. (It was later named by others The Divine Comedy.) As I described in my homily this past Sunday, after a lifetime of hearing references to The Divine Comedy and probably reading small excerpts from it in Literature classes, ten years ago I came across this edition/translation and decided it was time I actually read this classic of Catholic and really human literature.

The Divine Comedy was originally written in Italian and so I am left to trust that Ciardi's translation is faithful to both the "feel" of it in Italian as well as its content. All that I have read or seen about it indicates that Ciardi's translation fulfills this very well. As you can see/read, there is a beauty in the English which I suspect is even more evident in the Italian. As Ciardi observes in his "Translator's Note" in the beginning, English is a "rhyme-poor language" and much of the rhythm and rhyme of the Italian I suppose gets lost, or is at least different in the Italian. Still, Ciardi's translation, now upwards of 70 years old, makes for very edifying and inspiring reading. His introductory descriptions of each Canto are very helpful, as are the footnotes, particularly those explaining the allusions to those personages and circumstances contemporary with Dante (AD 1265-1321).

Dante's journey through hell and purgatory accompanied by Virgil (Reason) and then through Paradise accompanied by Beatrice (Faith) can be the occasion for a rather searing examination of one's own life. But it is worth the effort when you read the last lines—having read all that proceeds:

Here my powers rest from their high fantasy, but already I could feel my being turned—instinct and intellect balanced equally

as in a wheel whose motion nothing jars—by the love that moves the Sun and the other stars.

Faith Sharing Questions

Theme of this week's Gospel: Jesus takes Peter, James and John up a high mountain and is transfigured before them and they heard God speaking, telling them to listen to His Son!

Adults: Do you think the apostles understood why Moses and Elijah appeared on the mountain with Jesus? Do you always understand everything you are asked to believe? What is the most difficult aspect of your faith for you to accept? How can you resolve your doubts?

Teens: If you had been on the mountain with Jesus, Peter, James and John and seen the “transfiguration” and then been told not to tell anyone what you had seen, do you think you could have kept quiet? Why or why not?

Children: If you could be granted one miracle, what would you ask for? Why?

Third Sunday of Lent, Cycle B

We are in “Year B”, and in Year B the Gospel of Mark is featured in our readings at Sunday Mass, though not without exceptions. For the first two Sunday’s of Lent in Year B, the Gospel Reading is from the Gospel of Mark. For the 3rd, 4th, and 5th Sundays of Lent, the Gospel Reading is from the Gospel of John. During Lent, the first reading—from the Old Testament—is always about the history of salvation. During Cycle B years, this reading is concerned with one of the five covenants of the Old Testament (with Noah, with Abraham, with Moses/The Ten Commandments, with David, and a covenant “inscribed in human hearts” [Jeremiah]), which point to the final covenant in Jesus which we commemorate at the Triduum (Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter). The second reading—from the New Testament writings—is chosen because of thematic relations to the Old Testament and Gospel readings.

Gospel (John 2:13-25): In the Gospel of John, Jesus is depicted as going to Jerusalem several times over the course of his public ministry, usually when there is an important religious feast. Today’s reading is from John’s description of a trip to Jerusalem for Passover, when Jesus cleanses the Temple. In John, this trip takes place at the beginning of Jesus’ public ministry. (In the other Gospels, this trip takes place at the very end of Jesus’ ministry, just before his crucifixion.) The “cleansing of the Temple” is a highly symbolic story. What John is saying is that from the very beginning of Jesus’ public ministry “something new” is being initiated. The “old way,” symbolized by money-changers and merchants in the Temple, is depicted as being completely corrupt. It had become little more than a money-making opportunity for the already wealthy to take advantage of the poor and ignorant pilgrims who came to Jerusalem. By reading about this action of Jesus, the reader is enticed to read on in the Gospel of John about Jesus and his “something new” that turns the tables on the old.

First Reading (Exodus 20:1-17): At Mount Sinai

the Jewish people entered into a special relationship with God called “the covenant.” With covenant agreements, the terms are spelled out. God had already proven his fidelity to Israel by leading them out of Egypt and freeing them from slavery. Our reading today contains the Ten Commandments, given to Moses. They spell out what the Israelites must do to live up to their side of the covenant.

Second Reading (1 Corinthians 1:22-25): In this reading, Paul depicts both Jews and Greeks as each having their own shortcomings with regard to faith. God’s grace through Jesus can and has overcome them all, for “the foolishness of God is wiser than human wisdom, and the weakness of God is stronger than human strength.”

Easter Flowers: Gifts in Memory Of

Easter Season lasts from Easter Sunday (April 4th this year) through Pentecost Sunday (May 23rd this year). In past years we have used Easter Lilies, Mums, Hydrangeas, Azaleas and English Ivy to decorate our Sanctuary. We would like to continue this tradition.

Again this year, we would like to finance these flowers as we did at Advent/Christmas by providing the opportunity for people to donate flowers in memory of someone. Memorials can be made at two levels: $40 and $25, corresponding to flower sizes/ prices.

If you would like to donate one or more of the Easter Flowers as a gift to the parish or in memory of someone, please clearly mark your gift and put it into the regular Sunday collection, or send your gift to the Parish Office. Please remember to indicate the memorial intention. The memorial intentions will be published in the bulletin on Easter Sunday. All donations must be received by Monday, March 15th. Thank you very much! –Father Mark Keene

2020 DPAA

Hope does not disappoint... the love of God has been poured out into our hearts. (Romans 5:5)

Last Call! As of January 31, 2021, parishioners have committed $154,747 in gifts and pledges toward our parish goal of $158,700. This leaves $3,953 to go! $145,031 has actually been collected so far, so fulfilling pledges is very important. If you have not yet made a gift or a pledge and need a pledge card, please contact the parish office (431-1802).

We will be beginning the 2021 Diocesan Parish Annual Appeal very soon, so this will be the last appeal of behalf of the 2020 DPAA. If you have not yet made a gift to the 2020 appeal, please consider doing so. No amount is too small. I think we all can be very proud of what we are doing as a church through DPAA supported ministries, particularly during this time of Coronavirus concerns. Please help our parish reach its goal. Our parish has never not made our goal.

School Endowment Fund Collection

Our recent collection for The Monsignor John Francis Murphy Endowment Fund for Saint Agnes School totaled $9,982. These funds will be added to the corpus of the fund, which currently contributes around $50,000 to our school budget. Contributions can be made at any time and of course are encouraged.

School Endowment Fund Bequests

We also recently received word that The Monsignor John Francis Murphy Endowment Fund for Saint Agnes School is the beneficiary of a bequest from the estate of Mary Coulson of our parish. The bequest is in excess of $14,500.00. Unless otherwise specified by a donor's estate, we deposit all bequests into the school endowment fund where it is invested and income from the investments benefits our school budget. Consider making this endowment fund a beneficiary in your estate planning, Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA's), life insurance, etc.

Kentucky State Legislature Issues

HB 149 (Education Opportunity Accounts) is on the move! Ask your State Representative to make sure HB 149 is passed out of committee as soon as possible and that they vote for the bill when it reaches the House floor. Families are depending on them to bring educational choice to Kentucky!

Education Opportunity Accounts are privately funded by citizens and businesses who donate to non-profit Account Granting Organizations (AGOs). The AGOs then use the donations to award needs-based funding to eligible families. Funding can be tailored to a student's specific needs and used for K-12 public and non-public school tuition and fees, online learning programs, tutoring services, therapy programs, transportation to and from school, and more.

You can send a direct email supporting HB 149 to your Representative. You can send an email supporting either or both bills by using this link: <https://www.votervoice.net/CCKY/Campaigns/79053/Respond>. You can also call (800-372-7181) and leave a message about both bills. Thank you for your ongoing commitment to Faithful Citizenship!

Faith Formation

RCIA

In Lent, our RCIA Elect move into the final period of preparation, the period of "Purification and Enlightenment," for the Sacraments of Initiation. The Church calls us all to enter into this time of reflection on our own lives by identifying sins that keep us from becoming holy, by seeking our own purification through the Sacrament of Reconciliation, and by expressing our gratitude to God through sharing with the poor from our own material and spiritual bounty. All RCIA elect will celebrate liturgical Rites during Lent that are meant to nourish them in grace as they embrace God's call. These Rites provide us all with the opportunity to pray for our RCIA elect, Charlie. Please pray that Jesus will transfigure Charlie's life, as well as our lives, with His redeeming grace, bringing us all to conversion, a genuine desire to be holy as He is holy. (Association for Catechumenal Ministry)
