Culver Indians Clobber Argos By 71-44 Score

Play New Paris Friday Night

By EARL D. MISHLER

The Culver Indians registered their fourth win of the season Friday night, clobbering Argos, 71-44, in the local gym. The victory was the third in the last four games for Coach Gene Crosley's ever-improving lads.

Culver took the lead immediately on a 25-footer by Paul White and was never headed. Using a full court zone press, the Tribe forced Argos into many ball-handling errors and capitalized with sharp shooting. Wade Logan, starting for the first time since November, led the first quarter attack with three long jumpers, and Culver raced to a 26-9 first quarter lead.

Rick Ervin and Sam Lowry, Culver's two representatives on the County Tourney All-Star team, led the second quarter scoring, but Culver's play suffered a let-down. The half ended with Culver on top, 38-20.

The regulars pulled away to a 25-bulge in the final quarter, and Coach Crosley called on the reserves, who outplayed the Dragons for the last four minutes. Three seniors scored for the first time this season, Dennis Shock, Robbie Ozden, and Jerry Nelson, each scoring two points. Sophomore Doug Lindvall also tallied two in his first Varsity appearance.

Ervin and Lowry paced the winning attack with 16 and 14 points, respectively, but all 12 Indians scored. Charles Redinger hit 14 for Argos, backed up by Carl Stockberger with 11 and Dick Hindman with 10.

Culver's B-Team electrified the crowd with some brilliant first half shooting and went on to defeat Argos, 55-41. Coach Jim Cox's lads exploded for a 24-point second quarter, in which they hit 11 of 15 shots from the field. Bob Carter hit 15 for the Papooses, and Jim Lewis and Tom Yocom added 11 and 10, respectively. Mark Warrick, a talented Argos freshman forward, hit 16 for the losers, and later added four points for their Varsity.

The B-Team now has a 7-6 record.

Next Friday, Culver travels to New Paris for their toughest encounter this far this season. The Cubs are Elkhart County champs and have lost only to Goshen, Indiana's seventh-ranked team.

J. A. Newman and Sons To Receive Holstein Award

John A. Newman & Sons, Culver, have qualified for the Progressive Breeders' Award — the highest recognition attainable by a breeder of Registered Holstein cattle.

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has accorded this honor to only 512 Holstein breeding establishments, including 13 in Indiana. This is the fourth time that the Newmans have been so recognized.

To qualify for the Progressive Breeders' Award, a Holstein breeder must meet strict requirements in all phases of dairy cattle breeding and management, including production, type improvement, herd health and the development of home-bred animals.

The Newman herd completed its latest Herd Improvement Registry testing year with a lactation average — calculated on a two milkings a day, 305 day mature equivalent basis — on 78 individual records of 15,984 pounds of milk and 585 pounds of butterfat.

The herd has also been officially classified for type with a breed age average of 103.3 per cent — obtained by dividing the classification score of each cow by the average score of all Registered Holstein cows of the same age.

A certificate of this award has been sent to the Newmans by The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, national organization of the Holstein breed representing nearly 41,000 members.

A bronze year plate will be presented to them at a meeting of Holstein breeders from this area, to be added to the bronze plaque awarded when this herd first achieved the honor.

Winter Of Sixty-Three

By ERNEST NORRIS

Pioneer Grandpa, you've told stories
That we think are mighty tall,
'Bout the awful, awful winters
When you were young and small.

I think you've been exaggerating.
All these sixty years or more,
Since you've been telling tales
About the freezing cold of yore.

Leave gentle Old St. Petersburg
With its Elder Citizens Crew,
And come back to Indiana
Long enough to see it's true

That we know wherein we're talking
When we testify to thee
That for real teeth-chattering winter
Try this one of SIXTY-THREE.

New School Board Studies Budget For 1963

In its meeting Tuesday evening, Jan. 29, at the Culver school, the Board of Trustees of the Culver Community School unit devoted a major part of their time in considering the 1963 budget for the new school unit.

A report on estimated revenues for the school corporation for 1963 was presented by Superintendent Frank McLane. The estimates were based upon the data included in the budgets prepared last August for the individual school corporations of Aubbeenuhbee, North Bend and Union Townships. The main source of revenue available for the operation of the new school corporation in 1963 are funds to be received from local taxes payable in 1963, the receipts from the county-wide school tax fund and the amounts to be received from state aid.

Estimates of essential appropriations for the Culver Community Schools unit for the current budget year were studied by the school board. The main item which must be added to this year's budget is that of the new administration office, since no provisions were made for such costs in the budgets of the individual townships. All costs for the office of the board of education and the superintendent must be paid from appropriations, which will be additional to those which levies have been established.

After a detailed study, the board revised some budget estimates and authorized the superintendent to prepare legal advertising as required by law. The proposals as advertised, will be submitted to the Board of State Tax Commissioners for review.

SCHOOLBELL NEWS

"Onward you Huskies, Mush!" Everyone man your dog sleds, everyone must go on! Brr . . . rrr . . . rrr when the weather man says that the Midwest is in the grip of a frigid air mass, he means frigid. The Indians inside the Culver High School teepee are not Indians this week. Until further notice — about next April — they'll be considered the Culver Eskimos.

According to the latest weather reports, the worst cold wave is about over and we should expect a real heat wave in the near future. It is actually expected to get above zero! If this keeps up we may be able to take off the fur-lined garments which we have been wearing on top of the three pairs of insulated underwear, which have been covered by two pairs of slacks, a pair of knee socks, two pair of shoes, and the fur-lined boots. We might be able to get away with zipping out the third lining in the fur parkas if we get real lucky!

A few lucky eskimos were unable to push their dog sleds through the deep snow drifts, and got to spend a couple of days confined to their igloos. It seems all the town students are trying to talk their parents into moving to the country. (Wonder why.)

However, the team and fans braved the adverse weather conditions to enjoy another tourney. The rousing yells on the bus to Plymouth were interrupted only by cries of, "Will somebody please turn up the heat!" The students that drove cars to the tourney escorted the fan bases into Plymouth with much horn honking and general noise making. Many of the seniors and juniors helped out the white shoe polish and crepe paper businesses by decorating their cars with these articles. Pat Kline and Charlene Lucas drove twin decorated Corvairs, except Charlene's was minus one horn to honk. Cheryl Dillon decorated her new little "bug," and Janice Neidlinger's car arrived in Plymouth all in one piece. However, it must have had such a good time, it didn't want to go back home. As Janice says, "It certainly is nice to have a car that starts!" Poor Tom Yocom decorated his car all up pretty, but was a little late arriving to join the caravan. There is just one thing that is puzzling to everyone: How did he manage to be leading the caravan as it entered Plymouth when he was so late getting started? There is something fishy here!

Everyone knew when Culver had arrived at the tourney with the seniors decked out in their fancy cords, black sweaters, white mums, and feathers. Feathers and pom-poms were also seen throughout the block during the game. Of course, whenever the cheer block began a yell, the people knew they were in the gym. Everyone was extremely proud of the team after the exciting games at the tourney. Because of these games, we have two boys on the Plymouth Pilot-News All-County Tourney Team. Congratulations to Sam Lowry and Rick Ervin. Thad Overmyer should also be congratulated for making the substitute team.

It seems that cupid has managed to fight his way through the subzero temperatures to strike at an Easterday igloo. His arrow hit Carolee Easterday with a big silver ring and lots of yarn. Congratulations are also in order for another senior, Marjorie McGaffey is sporting a "sparkler."

"Oh, pain!" "Has anyone got a tranquilizer?" It's that time of year again. The exams are over, and the "good news" cards are being stared at by disheartened students and glassy-eyed parents. So far there have not been any reports of suicidal attempts, but everyone stay away from those top floor windows. There is always next semester. We are bound to do better. . . aren't we?

Once again many sad frozen faces have become radiant examples of happy smiles. It seems many of the colleges are now having their semester breaks. You know what that means!

EEK! Someone grab the seal oil, the fire is going out! Phew, they just don't make igloos like they used to. But cheer up everyone. If you think you have troubles, just remember this one little fact. At the North Pole today, the temperature reading was 121 below "you-know-what." See you next week.

"Onward, you Huskies, Mush!"

Girls Chosen For Librarians' Workshop

By Martha McAllister and Shella Fish

This week Mrs. Madison Scruggs was interviewed in order that we might find out and be able to present to you some facts about the new workshop for librarians. This workshop is tentatively scheduled for the third week in July and will be held at Indiana University. The girls chosen to represent Culver are Peggy Herr and Judy Price.

In order to qualify the applicant must be a member of either the sophomore, junior, or senior class at Culver High School, and must have served in some phase of library work. The students selected will be required to work approximately forty hours in the public library between Jan. 1, 1963, and July 1, 1963. The money earned will be used to attend the workshop.

The students desiring to attend were asked to fill out an application blank with the following information: name, age, class in school, the type of library work done, length of time served in the library, and reasons for wanting to attend the workshop. The girls were then chosen from a group of eight applicants by a committee of three: Mrs. Madison Scruggs, representing the public library; Mrs. Don Davis, representing the library board; and Fred Stottbacher, representing the school library.

We would like to congratulate Judy and Peggy for receiving the opportunity to further their work as librarians. This is the first year the workshop is being held, but it is hoped that it will soon be an annual affair.

Sophomores Present Program To SSS

By Ann Scruggs

Extra-curricular activities make up a large part of any school schedule. The following paragraphs are a summation of a few of the recent happenings of our school's organizations.

The Sunbeams of the Sunshine Society have spent the past week or so staying over their annual program. This past Tuesday their program was presented before the society. The Sunshine girls were given a glimpse of the dramatic routine of the C.H.S. Sucker's Hospital. Once inside the operating room they met four distinguished surgeons: Dr. Ken Crazy, Dr. Zoro, Dr. Darekill, and Dr. Skillespie. The horrified members of the society soon discovered that the courage of these great men is gravely underrated. These four doctors are forced to operate with inadequate surgical facilities, insufficient anesthetic, and even without light. We are deeply indebted to the brave men in white as well as to Joan Dillon and her crew.

Another skit was written by Peggy Herr. Linda Thurin learned that false flattery can get one into trouble.

The third and last skit was presented by Sue Cole and her committee. For the skit Sue needed four able volunteers. Naturally Martha McAllister, Lucy Osborn, Linda Behmer, and Sheryl Hohman were eager to be of service. Flowers bloomed, birds sang, and the saps ran, Martha, Lucy, Linda, and Sheryl. The skit, with its very catchy punch line, was enjoyed by all.

The Science Club is a little-known organization in the ranks of Culver High School's extra-curricular activities. Its members, however, are quite industrious and at recent meetings have discussed such varied subjects as analytical chemistry and the stars. In accordance with the latter the club members even did a little "stargazing."

The Pep Club gave a good example of school spirit at the recently held County Tourney. The white blouses and shirts combined with the feathers and pom-poms made by the Pep Club committees excellently united the school body in backing the team.

This is just a brief summary of the many activities that take place inside the walls of C.H.S. See you again next week with more news.

JOYCE MORRISON TO BE IN COLLEGE PLAY

Joyce Morrison, Culver sophomore at Ball State Teachers College, will portray Miss Prosephine Garnett in "Candida" by George Bernard Shaw to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday by the Ball State Theatre, the college theatrical group.

Miss Morrison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Morrison, 618 School St., Culver.

Curtain time all three nights is 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale from 1 to 5 p.m. daily at the theatre box office or reservations may be called to 285-4131.

Rick, Sam Named To Tourney Team

By John Behmer

With the basketball season half over the following statistics have been tabulated: Leading the varsity players in free throw percentage is Paul White, hitting 72 per cent. Sam Lowry and Rick Ervin, each with 39 per cent, are high in the field goal department. In rebounding, Thad Overmyer is ahead, having cleared the boards with 106. Rick, however, pulled down 25 in one game to make him high in rebounds per game. Thad is the top scorer with 119 points.

The Varsity grabbed 66 rebounds in the tourney game against Tyner, for the highest number they have made this year. Sam and Thad were Culver's high scorers in the tourney. Sam and Rick were among those players selected by the coaches of Marshall County for the All-Tourney team.

The B-team had a break during the County Tourney season but is back to work now. Coach Cox reports improvement in the rebounding department with Jim Jones and Tom Yocom coming through to help bolster the work of Doug Lindvall, Andy Lowry, and Jim Weirick. The concentration in practice has been on defense, rebounding, and shooting that will lead the B-team to a winning season.

Private First Class Randal E. Banks has been named Soldier of the Month for January, 1963, by the 1st Battle Group, 13th Infantry and supporting units, stationed in Berlin, Germany.

On Jan. 22 Banks competed against the men of other units in Berlin for the Soldier of the Month of Berlin Brigade.

PFC Banks is assigned to "A" company of the 13th Infantry as a machinegunner. Entering the service a little over 15 months ago at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., PFC Banks completed Basic training there, before going to Fort Ord, Calif., for Advanced Infantry training.

PFC Banks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Banks, Route 1, Culver, and a 1961 graduate of Culver High School. He plans to complete his education by going to college after his discharge from the Army.

New School Board

The work on the budget preparation was postponed at the start of the meeting, in order to grant a hearing to a group of patrons, who presented their objections to the operation of the schools during periods of severe weather conditions. Following the discussion with the patron group, the school board agreed to give the matter further consideration with the possibility of determining a policy regarding the closing of schools in such periods.

It was announced that some equipment would be available for the office of the superintendent for temporary use. Permanent equipment would be ordered as soon as quotations from different firms could be studied. Mr. McLane indicated that several school supply firms had been contacted to submit prices on the needed items.

free to represent your interests first—to make sure that you're paid quickly, fairly.

VARIETY — A Pike County man, Johnnie Abel, has been given a prison term for the theft of a few knickknacks. Sheriff Allen Smith was quoted as saying Abel loaded all the stolen goods into an automobile and took it to Indianapolis where it was recovered.

TIME BOMB

The population explosion is going at a dizzying pace. Its effects are already being felt in Indiana, with proposals for increased taxes to meet soaring public education costs.

Where will the tax money come from for more classrooms? From ALL Indiana citizens, including the five Investor-Owned Electric Companies who, last year, paid more than $30,420,000 in local and State taxes—the largest such payment ever made by these utilities. This was equal to the amount needed to keep 87,650 children in school one full year.

In addition, the five Electric Companies' Federal income tax provisions in 1962 totaled more than $54,550,000. This makes the five Investor-Owned Electric Companies the largest supporters of local, State and Federal government services in Indiana.

Science Is Threatening Mankind

(Editor's note: Writing themes is considered by most educators to be a necessity in preparation for college. This in itself may not seem like much of a feat. However, when a good theme must be written within one class period and with no knowledge ahead of time as to the subject matter, the task becomes quite a bit more difficult. The following is just such a theme written by Paul White during an English 11 class period.)

In today's world there is an ever present fear and tension among the people of the nations. The reason for this great anxiety and worry is due to the existence of nuclear weapons capable of wiping all mankind from the face of the earth and also actually destroying the earth itself. Who can we blame for this overwhelming threat to the world? At first glance it seems that the people are at the bottom of the tremendous problem and conflict. But when we take a better look, we realize that there have been wars among men of the world since man has been in existence on earth. The actual cause is in the scientific discoveries that are used for destruction. Primitive men fought each other, but because of the lack of nuclear weapons, there was no fear of utter destruction of the world. It is therefore true that science may be blamed for threatening mankind.

Another way in which science has been threatening mankind is in the development of time- and labor-saving devices. These machines definitely speed up production and improve our industry, but many thousands of men are placed on the unemployment list every year due to this fact. Sure, science does make new jobs, but these new positions must be filled with trained personnel. What about the poor mediocre fellow who is not capable of filling such a position? He needs a way to make a living for himself and his family and must not be deprived of this essential need. If he is, he may resort to unlawful means to provide for his family. This is probably one reason the crime rate has gone up. Thus, science may eventually cost the people more than these labor-saving machines are saving them.

Also because of machines, individuals have much more spare time. These improved methods have taken away many old jobs from the youth of America. If there are no constructive things for young people to do and nothing to fill the emptiness, the teenagers may try something destructive. This is one reason juvenile delinquency has grown and become a great problem. Although science has provided us with more spare time, it has also stepped up the pace of living in the world. Older people do not take time to give the attention and care to the younger generation that the young people need and want. This in itself is a main cause of juvenile delinquency. Young individuals will get into trouble just to get attention and to be doing something.

One last thing that must not be overlooked is the terrible slaughter of human beings that takes place on the highways of the United States. Many thousands of people are killed, injured, and permanently disabled because of the automobile, another product of science.

Yes, it is true that science is making life more enjoyable in many ways. It is, however, creating great problems and threatening mankind. If science cannot be channeled and kept under control, the whole human race may go completely out-of-hand. Eventually man may completely eliminate himself from the face of the earth leaving no one to receive the benefits of science.

PROFITABLE CROPS — A 10-year-old Union County boy, David Spenny of Liberty, is making a profit out of raising gourds and pumpkins. This year, says The Liberty Herald, he harvested 365 pumpkins and an innumerable number of gourds. He decorated a Christmas tree in front of his home with the gourds, which are of all sizes and colors, and around the tree arranged a display of his pumpkins. This is the second year of his project. Last year he purchased a horse with the proceeds from his crops. This year he hopes to sell enough to buy a new bicycle.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

423 S. Michigan St., Plymouth
Sunday School 10:30 a.m.
Morning Worship 10:30 a.m.
The divine answer to humanity's most perplexing problems will be stressed in a Lesson-Sermon on "Love," to be heard this Sunday at Plymouth, Ind.

Highlighting the Bible readings will be this passage from I John (4:7): "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will read (p. 340):

"One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfils the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself;' annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry, — whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed."

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas and children Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bruce, Mrs. Harry Thomas, Sr., and Mrs. Trula McKee. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Vera McKee and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overmyer.

CHURCH IN THE HILLS

The little frame church in this snow-blanketed mountain village lifts its tall spire above its rugged environment like a sentinel guarding a sacred trust or a lighthouse on a rock-bound coast.

Wherever man has pushed his habitations — in the bleak wastes of the polar regions, under the blazing tropical sun, or in the milder climates of the world — he has built his churches dedicated to the worship of God.

The fact that no community seems complete without its house of worship bears eloquent testimony to the universal recognition of man's need of religion.

The village church plays a vital part in the life of the community. The spiritual standards of the people are fashioned there; marriage vows are spoken at its altar, and the honored dead sleep in its sacred soil.

There it stands in every community — the little frame church — pointing the people to God, teaching them the way of life, giving them strength and faith for every need.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Seniors Write Sonnets

"A Shakespearean sonnet? How am I ever going to write a Shakespearean sonnet?" Shortly before Christmas vacation, Mrs. Kline assigned her senior English class the task of writing an original sonnet. The class was studying the different sonnet forms used in early English literature at that time. One of the more important forms studied was that used by William Shakespeare. This style sonnet consists of 14 lines ending in a closed couplet. Each line has a specific rhythm and meter which is commonly expressed in literary terms as being an iambic pentameter line. The results and reactions of this assignment were quite interesting and varied! With the following sonnets used as examples, we think you will see what we mean.

By Rick Ervin
When one becomes a member of this class,
He must be able to hear down and work
Because in this class that is all he does.
You know, that teacher is some kind of jerk.

This certain teacher makes you write silly things
And study and remember a basic thought.
You work and work and work 'till your mind sings.
You think so hard your brain begins to rot.

Oh woe is me! Alas! Alas! Alas!
I can't take much more of this kind of stuff.
This teacher must be some sort of a quack,
That talks in tones that tend to make you gruff.

This class can really make one feel like a fool,
I guess I'll just have to quit Sunday School.

(Editor's note: Mrs. Kline seemed to think that Rick was in reality speaking of his English class instead of his Sunday School class in this sonnet. What ever could make her think a thing like that?)

By Linda Behmer
All love is like the flowers growing tall,
They're hindered by their mortal enemies,
The insects, birds, and wind and sun and all.
But many will endure in spite of these.

All love is also like the woods so green,
Of which are found in many sizes here,
Some large, some small, and some just in between,
But some will always flourish and bring cheer.

All love is like each pretty blossom, too,
The better part of plants there is to have.
It may not always be so true to you,
But it still must be true for some to have.
For true love, like the best of each example,
Will always just endure and be quite ample.

THE SPECIAL TREE
By Cheryl Dillon
The waiting Christmas tree stood straight and tall
Above the undisturbed, white covered ground.
The flakey, drifted snow had formed a wall
By which the stately tree was circled round.

If it could see and speak its thoughts the tree
Would surely say, "My time has come to bring Great joy, and not a tear must drop, for He Deserves the best of all and every thing."

Thus when the children and their father came
To cut the tree, it thought not of the cold,
Sharp ax hut of a mother's donkey lame.
Though dead, the tree retained its branches green

Was placed the Christ child at his birthplace mean.

The Shadow Strikes Again

By Carolee Easterday
"No! No! No! I won't help you put up the flag!" These were the words of Thad Overmyer on Monday morning as he plodded into analytics. In the few minutes before class, our frozen snowman complained about the freezing cold and the injustice of having school in such weather and then tried to persuade his poor unsuspecting teacher into skipping class because of the absence of a few members. Resigning himself to listen to Mr. Dillman's dissertation, he spent the rest of the period chewing his gum, scratching his forehead, and sucking his wrist. As expected, Thad's hand shot up to eat in the cafeteria before the teacher had even finished reading the menu.

Still mumbiling about the cold and school, Thad lumbered up to economics where he spent the first few minutes of class chattering to the boys sitting around him. Exactly 12 minutes after the bell rang, he finally settled back, crossed his arms across his chest, and began to listen to Mr. Lawson's lecture — but not for long. Three minutes later he yawned and stretched. Enough is enough! His mother must not have fed him because not only was he chewing his gum and wrist, but he began chomping away at his fingers. By this time, he was scratching his nose and chin. Maybe he has a pet flea.

The split second the bell rang, he jumped from his seat and dashed toward the hand building spitting his sustaining gum out on the way. He stumbled into the building stiff-legged, claiming that he had frozen on the way over. (We're all going to have to chip in and buy him some insulated underwear.) With "Let's get quiet!" from our subject, hand began — that is, for everyone except Thad. He spent the period talking to Tom Easterday, making witty interjections, and naturally, scratching his pet flea. By this time it had traveled to his neck.

Fourth period we found him in English class chewing his inevitable gum even more vigorously than before. "No, Thad, not your pencil. Don't get desperate; it's only an hour until lunch!" Yes, he was chewing his pencil. He read his literature, talked to Mike Geiger, and attacked his pesky pet. It had reached his back by this time. At 11:56, he glanced at the clock and realizing that he had only three minutes until lunch, he sat perched

(I sure would hate to pay his food bill!)
Entering study hall with a full stomach and a fresh supply of gum, he opened his economics book, scratched his head with his pencil, propped up his feet on the seat ahead of him, and started to read. At 1:37, he stood up and shook himself. Where could that flea be going? Well, wherever it was going, Thad found it necessary to scratch his leg by 1:42.

Sixth period he was back in study hall studying analytics, physics, and the activities of a certain senior girl.

During physics, he "tried" to do an experiment and started scratching away at his knee where his pet was vainly trying to get some attention. He had a rough time. He started itching all over. Could it be that he had raised a family of fleas?

So ends one day in the life of Thad Overmyer and his pet flea. What is its name? Ask Thad.

DOG-GONE DOGS — The classified ad columns of The Springs Valley Herald, a French Lick weekly, reflected a neighborhood problem caused by roving dogs. A householder inserted an ad that was a subtle warning to dog owners their pets might be shot if they wandered on to his property. The ad said: "You furnish the dogs — we'll furnish the gun and shells." A week later the newspaper received an ad from a dog owner who offered his trained beagles for sale. The ad read in part: "Reason for selling — dogs can't tell where my property ends and the neighbor's begins. When they get on the neighbor's land they'll get shot."

Academy Sports

In a season in which victories haven't come easily, Culver Military Academy experienced a successful weekend when all of its major athletic teams came up with triumphs.

Most notable, perhaps, was the basketball team, which had a three-game losing streak going before the Eagles stomped on Bloomington University High School, 58-46, here Saturday night. The victory was Culver's third in 11 games. To make it an all-winning weekend, the swimming team barely edged Danville, Ill., 49-46, the wrestling squad jumped on Howe Military School, 42-7, and the rifle team outshot Purdue's NROTC team, 1867 to 1839.

Although Bloomington closed to within five points of the Eagle quintet in the final quarter, the cadets toyed with the visitors for nearly three quarters. When the Academy pulled ahead 17-3 at the end of the first period, Coach Chet Marshall broke up his starting combination and played all of his reserves. The cadets had a formidable 41-25 lead by the end of the third quarter, and the reserves managed to outlast the rallying Bloomington team. John Teeter's 27 points were high for the game.

In swimming, Coach Frank Walaitis' mermen had a narrow escape and won at Danville even though they took only three first places. Culver took eight of nine second places to win its fourth meet in six starts. Sophomore Bob Lamoreaux was the key man for Culver, winning first places in the 160-individual medley — where he tied the pool record — and the 400-yard free style. The other first place went to co-captain Bill Roth.

Coach Colin Stetson's wrestlers, in the throes of one of their best seasons in years, clobbered Howe for their eighth victory in 10 matches. Howe scored only one fall and managed to draw in the initial match for its seven points. In rifle, Culver's Allan Estey was high man with 379 out of a possible 400.

The Academy will be active on all fronts this week. On Thursday at 4 p.m., Marion High School will be here for a wrestling match. The basketball team will play two games at home Friday and Saturday. South Bend St. Joseph's will be here for an 8 p.m. game Friday night and Merrillville will face the Eagles at 6:15 p.m. Saturday. Kokomo will swim at the Academy at 2 p.m. Saturday and the wrestling team will compete at North Manchester at the same time. Coach Gerald Graham's polo team will meet the Cornell University Polo Club in a 7:30 p.m. match here Friday and then a 2 p.m. match in the Riding Hall Saturday.

SUMMER SCIENCE TRAINING PROGRAM

Purdue University will again offer an eight-week program in the life sciences for 40 high school juniors of high ability during the 1963 summer session June 17-Aug. 9.

This summer science training program is underwritten by a grant from the National Science Foundation in the amount of $29,290, plus additional financial support from the Purdue Research Foundation and Purdue University.

Only one or two students of the top 10 per cent of any school will be accepted.

High school principals will receive blanks and brochures explaining the program, according to Dr. James L. Ahlrichs, Purdue agronomist, who will direct the 1963 summer program.

Students will receive class room and laboratory instruction, take field trips and carry out research projects under research staff members. Purdue's schools of agriculture, home economics and veterinary science and medicine will cooperate in the eight-week science training program.
