TV - MOVIES AND THEATRE MUST GET TOGETHER SAYS PINZA

By Harland Whittredge

Enzio Pinza, famed operatic and television star, in an interview at the Ogunquit playhouse, in Ogunquit, Maine, last week, declared that the movie industry, the TV industry and the radio industry will gradually get closer together, and that there will be less friction between the industries as a result.

Pinza, who was clad in sharp yellow pants and a flowered sport shirt was optimistic about the future. "The advent of TV has already made a tremendous impression on the movie industry. Today the movies are being made at a far lesser cost than they used to be, - at least some of them. When the TV shows could be produced on one stage, the movie makers learned a lesson. Today many of them are being made quite cheaply, and perhaps the day of the extravaganza is over."

"There are differences between the men of the three industries, but I believe that they will be able to reconcile them. Of course, if they ever attempt to become just one big industry they may have their difficulties, from a legal viewpoint, but I believe that closer co-operation is coming, and that it will pay off."

In answer to a question about the source of new talent, for the entertainment world, Pinza declared that there was always plenty of potential talent available. He thought that the summer stock theatres were a good way to start in the entertainment profession, but further declared that the summer stock theatres were really too short. "Talent is something that is developed by working hard 24 hours a day, for 52 weeks of the year", said Pinza.

Pinza declared that the seasoned performers are always alert, looking for new talent, and ready to lend a lending hand. In proof of this statement, Pinza, that very afternoon, had spent half an hour with a young lady from Portland, Maine, who, he thought, had possibilities. Such actions are customary in the entertainment world.

Pinza is a man who looks like just his pictures. He has iron grey hair, of distinguished bearing, yet essentially democratic. Obviously well educated, he still retains an accent that denotes his Italian birth. This summer he is playing straight dramatics, with no singing roles what so ever, perhaps practicing for his fall TV show, which is to be called "Pappa Pinza", and will be the story of a man with eight motherless children.

HOW TO LIVE WITH YOUR HEART

DON'T WORRY. HEALTH IS MORE THAN THE ABSENCE OF DISEASE. IF YOU HAVE CAUSE TO WORRY, DO ALL YOU CAN TO REMEDY THE CAUSE, AND STOP WORRYING.

Comments by DR. G. COLKET CANER Neurologist, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Psychiatrist to the Hygiene Department of Harvard University

IT IS WELL KNOWN that psychic stress causes disturbances of body function. It causes muscular tension and fatigue, it affects the functioning of the stomach, the bowel and other organs, it affects the circulation and may result in higher blood pressure which increases the work of the heart.

You can only avoid worry and psychic stress by learning to react positively and purposefully to difficulties, frustrations and misfortunes... by schooling yourself to think of what to do about the situation rather than dwelling on how unfortunate or unfair it is. To have the best physical health of which you are capable you must have the positive mental health that is rooted in attitudes which make for good human relations, effectiveness in work, happiness, and for reacting well to failures, difficulties and all manner of misfortunes. The spirit of readiness to meet whatever life brings gives the greatest insurance of peace of mind, and peace of mind is more important for a person with heart trouble than is the avoidance of physical exertion.

I REALIZED THEN

Alone on a rustic bridge at sunset, Over the marsh where the brook bends, The wild geese flying high above, Seeking a retreat as day ends.

The frogs sitting on lily pads- Harrumpin'-It's the start of night! Watching from that old rustic bridge I think-what a beautiful sight!

Willows along the sloping banks, Swaying so gently in the breeze; The low whisper of sound-made by Winds - in frolicsome play with leaves.

As the sun sets in its splendor, And through clouds spread majestic rays, I realized then why love of Him Would bring to us-our "Perfect Days".

Come, speak to my challenge. Does fear take revenge?

Oh, man of least power, In the desperate hour, Couches love to prevent you? In the fire are you true?

Smooth the way,—then ye bask In the sun, nor care ask What under you stands; How held,—by what bands?

But break open the box Of Fate's doleful hoax. Pandora may smile, And ye falter awhile.

Still in that last moment,— I press on to comment,— There's only one Mender;— God be your Defender!

—George Hibbert Driver.

New York (IES) - Wall Street takes a generally bullish view of business prospects for the final quarter of this year. The same cannot be said for this time next year, however. The theory is that business can't help but be good after Labor Day, with some healthy movements in most marts.

Albuquerque (IES) - After six months' time, and spending more than $137,000, the Senate Elections and Privileges Subcommittee probe of the Dennis Chavez-Pat Hurley Senatorial election in 1952 is still getting nowhere. The investigators coming into New Mexico from Washington are irritating to the citizens of the State. However, it is helping Senator Clinton P. Anderson's chances of re-election.

THE MERIT SYSTEM

We prefer to call it the "Merit" system, although, officially, we understand it is called the "Demerit" system. The law was passed by the legislature this year, and signed by Governor Herter will go into effect on January 1, 1954, at least partially, and, by penalizing motorists for bad driving, will reward the good drivers with a lower insurance rating, in 1956. That at least is the intention of the law. The proof of the pudding of course, will be in the eating. At the present time it looks like a tasty dish, to people who have never had accidents, and have been forced to pay high insurance rates because of the accidents of other persons in their home town.

The Merit System is one that assesses "points" against drivers for various offenses, including accidents and criminal offenses in which an automobile is involved. The driver who piles up 12 points in any way is certain to suffer suspension of his driving privileges for a varying period of time. In addition, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Rudolph F. King has stated that a driver with only four points may quite possibly have his license suspended. Such suspensions will weigh heavily on the minds of the motorists, especially when the point system will also automatically affect the individual costs of insurance, and should be a factor for promoting safer driving on the highways of our Commonwealth.

Briefly tabulated, the Driving Point System is:

12 Points Each For:

- At fault in fatal accident.
- Operating while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.
- Permitting an intoxicated person to operate.
- Using a motor vehicle in the commission of a felony.

8 Points Each For:

- Failure to stop after knowingly causing bodily injury.
- Operating recklessly so as to endanger.
- Operating uninsured or unregistered motor vehicle (willful).
- Racing (or operating on a bet or wager).

6 Points For:

- At fault in accident causing bodily injury.

4 Points Each For:

- Allowing improper person to operate motor vehicle.
- Exceeding established speed limit.
- Failure to stop for blind person.
- Larceny of motor vehicle.
- Loaning license.
- Operating motor vehicle after suspension or revocation of registration.
- Operating without a license or after suspension or revocation of license.
- Removing or defacing engine or serial numbers.
- Using motor vehicle in commission of larceny.
- Using motor vehicle without authority.

3 Points Each For:

- At fault in accident causing minor bodily injury.
- Failure to stop for school bus.
- Operating in violation of restrictions on license.
- Operating without inspection sticker.

2 Points Each For:

- At fault in accident resulting in property damage in excess of $100.
- Attempting larceny of motor vehicle.
- Failure to file report of accident.
- Failure to head stop sign.
- Failure to stop after knowingly causing property damage accident.
- Failure to stop for red light.
- Improper passing.
- Operating with improper brakes.

Speed too fast for conditions.
Uttering false statement on application or to an officer.
Violating law of the road or reestablished rules and regulations.

1 Point Each For:

- All other violations, except parking violations but including operating motor vehicle with improper equipment other than brakes.

COURTESY IS CONTAGIOUS

While the Merit System may go a long way in solving some of our problems, it is still something that is to happen in the future. We are still faced with the problem of what shall we do today, to make driving conditions better. In this respect we are happy to recommend a film that is being shown this evening, in the Wilmington Skating Clubhouse, on Chestnut street, by the Baldwin Civic Association, which is entitled, "Day in Court."

"Day in Court," has been acclaimed by all who have seen it as an original and timely contribution to the prevention of traffic accidents on our streets and highways. It is a dramatic presentation of one of the most effective methods yet developed to encourage safer driving. The method was developed by one man, Judge Roger Alton Pfaff, of the Municipal Court of Los Angeles. The picture portrays the seven deadly sins of driving and brings to the audience an authentic re-enactment of the way in which hundreds of thousands of citizens were enlisted in a crusade to save lives. It proves conclusively that Courtesy is Contagious.

We recommend it to your viewing, this evening, at 8 p.m.

THE GERRYMANDER AND MRS. ROGERS

State and other politicians, at the present moment, are having quite a discussion about the proposed re-districting of the Commonwealth, for Congressional seats. Democrats and Republicans alike are vitally interested, for in this redistricting there may possibly be the change of a seat or two, in Congress in the next election. Massachusetts has 14 Congressional districts, with the populations in the districts ranging from a high of 387,455 in the 10th district, just west of Boston, to a low of 281,265 in the 7th, in Essex County.

The furor bases itself on a provision of the constitution of the United States, which states that after each federal census the congressional districts shall be re-portioned. It was impossible to do this in Massachusetts, after the 1950 census, for the two political parties each had control of one house of our state legislature, and they were unable to agree. Now that the Republicans have control of both houses, agreement can be had, but no agreement to which the Democrats are going to take very readily.

The Democrats charge that it will be another case of Gerrymandering, (named, as every school boy knows, after Gov. Gerry of Massachusetts, of 1812, who was one of the first to propose distinctly political alignments in districting.) In this charge the Democrats have at least an element of truth. At the same time Republicans point out that the Democrats would have done the same thing, in 1951, had they had control of the two houses of the legislature, and some of the more sober-minded Democrats agree to this statement.

Republicans see in this redistricting an opportunity to help some of their weaker congressmen, by taking strong republican towns from some districts, and adding them to their weaker districts. One of the districts in which this is proposed is our own fifth congressional, which has been represented so ably, for so many years, by the Hon. Edith Nourse Rogers. The Republicans point out that the lady has always had a safe majority, and that she won the last election by 100,000 votes. If, they argue, we take 25,000 or 50,000 votes from her district, and swing them into another district or two, she will still be elected, and there can be a better chance of electing a Republican congressman from the other districts.

May we point out to our Republican politicians that they are only scratching the surface. Mrs. Rogers has always had a very large plurality, because she is Mrs. Rogers, not because she is a Republican. Votes taken from this district, and transferred to another, will not automatically swing the tide, in the other district.

Redistricting is all very well, and must be done, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, but let us not be deceived in the process, by the thought that every person who votes for Mrs. Rogers is, per se, a Republican.

RAMBLERS BOW TO N. E. CHAMPS
TEAM GIVEN DINNER

"Fergie"
The long, cross-state trip to Pittsfield, Aug. 30, was one the Ramblers will never forget. On arrival to the Berkshire city, which lies 10 miles from the New York line, the team was struck their first sad blow when they caught sight of the playing field—shades of the Wilmington Common. The sign hovering over the field caused hearts to drop. It read: Home of New England Champs, The Tyler Aces. It seems the team failed to mention this to Rambler coach Sam Ethier when the game was scheduled. The Aces lived up to their name in the afternoon contest as they pounded two Wilmington hurlers for 13 hits and an 8-1 decision. A six-run fifth inning highlighted by Bob Adeson's two-run homer, in which the Aces picked up seven hits, was the deciding factor. Former Wilmington resident, Ted Kambour, now living in Warren, started on the mound for the Ramblers, and yielded only one run until the roof fell in in that high scoring frame. Al Ethier came over from third base to hurl the rest of the way, giving up one run and two hits. The Ramblers hit the ball well, collecting seven hits. Their only run came in the sixth when Fran Hoban reached on an error, went all the way to third on a wild attempted pickoff throw from Morrell, and scored on a long fly ball.

NEWHOUSE ROBS ACE
Dave Newhouse gave the Pittsfield fans a taste of what Jim Pier-sall is doing for the Red Sox way back east in Boston. With the bases full in the sixth, Tino Gardarelli socked an Ethier curve ball long and far to left-interfield. To all eyes the ball was home-run bound but speedy Dave hauled it down in routine fashion and rifled it back to the infield before a runner could advance.

RAMBLINGS
The Tyler Aces travelled 1600 miles last season in taking the New England Amateur Baseball crown. They received $32.50 for first prize. The Aces have lost one game and won 45 in the state of New York alone. Twenty-nine year old Tony Caliento was a home-run hitter for Hartford in minor league ball. Catcher George Morrell was selected to the All American Team in Wichita, Kansas last season. Probably the most excited people at the game were Mr. and Mrs. George Kambour who made the trip from Warren to get a look at the hometowners. They questioned players and managers about certain Wilmington residents, and sent their regards to all. Mr. Kambour is a former W. H. S. principal and present head of Warren High. Son Teddy will attend Amherst College on a baseball scholarship this fall. He is being closely watched by major league scouts.

TED CUTTING CORNERS
Catcher Fran Hoban of the Ramblers claims that Teddy was cutting the corners of the plate with practically every pitch, but the umpire kept giving the ball signal. Ted soon discovered that the heart of the plate was the only strike zone the ump knew, and fed up the fat ones in the fifth. The result was a six run bombardment. The ump had his reasons though—his brother was short-stop for the Aces.

RAMBLERS FETED
After the game the Wilmington boys showered at the Y.M.C.A. and were guests of Mr. Tony Salvaggio at his restaurant, the Majestic. The team ate hearty at a special table, with Tony picking up the check. It was later learned that the Tyler Aces were not Pittsfield's top team, and that Mr. Salvaggio was the sponsor of the top club, called the Majestics—the name taken from the restaurant. The Majestics were last year's NATIONAL AMATEUR CHAMPIONS, and are presently playing in Pennsylvania. The city of Pittsfield sees very little of this club as they are a touring team.

The three cars that carried the Ramblers cross-state were ready to leave the city at seven P.M., Sunday, but Earl Baldwin's Merc developed fuel pump trouble and delayed departure. The other cars, driven by Bob Swain and Ralph Lepore finally left at 9:30 and reached Wilmington at one A.M. Monday. Earl hit the old home town at sunrise the same morning.

TO PLAY OLD TIMERS
This Sunday's game with the old Timers of Wilmington will wind up the Rambler's season. The team record is six wins and five losses. Only a few games were played as a result of a late season start. Next season they hope to get an early spring start and schedule teams over the winter. A Rambler A.C. will run through the fall and winter with weekly dues from each player.

NEW UNIFORMS
The team will look snappy next season with new uniforms that they will get from club dues. Three players will be missing next season—Newhouse, Melzar, and Woods. All will enter the services. But returning servicemen should fill the gaps.

ROTARY HAS MUSICAL LUNCHEON

The Wilmington Rotary Club, at its weekly luncheon, last Wednesday, had the pleasure of listening to some light and semi-classical music, by the manager of the Metro Musical Center, Inc., of Lowell, Mr. Nicholas Giangrasso and his son, Joseph Giangrasso. Mr. Giangrasso, a graduate of the College of Music, of Boston University, and a former student at the New England Conservatory of Music, has been associated with the music world for many years, an association which belies his youthful appearance.

Giangrasso spoke briefly and amusingly, before the music, on his experiences in Alabama, where he was Director of Music in the Shades Valley High School, and was associated with many of the civic musical organizations of that state, including the Birmingham Conservatory of Music and the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra.

At the present time he is a member of the Lowell Philharmonic Orchestra and the Director of the Lawrence Concert Band, and Instrumental and Band Director at the Georgetown public schools. The music was well received by the Rotarians.

BOARD OF APPEALS HEARING

Fred C. Cain, of Cain's Garage, appeared before the Wilmington Board of Appeals, on September 2nd., at the Town Hall, with an appeal for the right to remove top soil, and fill low spots with gravel, on property across from his garage on Main street. There were no opponents, and the board voted favorably on the appeal.

THE NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Effective September 30th, at 7 a.m., every number in the Wilmington telephone exchange is to be a five digit number. The exchange name will be OLiver 8, but local residents, calling another telephone within the area will ignore this designation, according to Elliot Jackson, local District Manager of the NET&T.

Wilmington subscribers will be able to dial any number, directly, in the Lowell exchange, by prefixing the number with the digits "45". Dialing "46" will call the Woburn operator, who will call any Woburn number, free of charge, and dialing "47" will call the Reading operator, for the same service in that town.

The telephone company is preparing a new telephone directory for Wilmington, with all the new numbers of Wilmington subscribers. This new telephone directory should reach all Wilmington subscribers on September 26th, according to Mr. Jackson.

RETURNS FROM NATIONAL GUARD CAMP

Theodore L. Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Chisholm of Hopkins street, has returned home after spending two weeks in Camp Drum, New York, with the Wakefield Company of the Massachusetts National Guard. Chisholm and some friends were able to make a trip to the Thousand Islands, in the St. Lawrence River, while in New York.

"TEEN TALK"

Mary Hughson is enjoying the last of her summer vacation in Canada.

Enjoying the highlights of the carnival held the past week were: Bob DiGirolamo, Carol Caldwell, July White, Buzz Busineau, Mary Howe, Marion Carter, Roger Quandt, Millie Flynn, Peggy McGondel and George Danico.

The Ramblers journeyed to Pittsfield last Sunday to play ball and they came home with a loss, a 9-1 loss to be exact. We are still proud of them win or lose because of their spirit.

Well next week school begins again. Labor Day is the end of the summer season. Have fun, kids, over your last holiday before school but most of all make it a safe Labor Day so everyone comes back to school in one piece.

WILMINGTON TUBERCULOSIS DEATH OF COMMITTEE MRS. JESSIE HEATH

Tonight at 7:45, in the Cafeteria at the High School, the Wilmington Tuberculosis Committee together with the Wilmington Board of Health will hold an important meeting at which time plans will be presented and activity started to put on a community-wide Chest X-Ray Survey. Invitations are being sent this week to every organization in the town, asking them to send representatives to this meeting. Members of the doctors, clergy, and school authorities have been invited to attend. At this meeting, committees will be organized, and the organizations will be told about the ways in which they can co-operate to make this Survey available to every person in Wilmington who is fifteen years old or over.

Mrs. Jessie (Gould) Heath died at 214 West street, in the house where she was born, 87 year ago. Her death was in the early morning hours of September 2nd.

The daughter of Albert and Emma (Eames) Gould, Mrs. Heath moved to Reading, at the time of her marriage to the late Wilbur Gould, and had returned to Wilmington four years ago. Funeral services were held in the Nichols Funeral Home, Middlesex avenue, at 2 p.m., Friday, with the Rev. Stanley Cummings conducting the services. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

For two weeks, starting November 30, this Survey will bring to the adults of Wilmington the opportunity to get a free chest x-ray. This is made possible through a program sponsored by the Wilmington Tuberculosis Association and the Wilmington Board of Health, in co-operation with the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, and the Middlesex Health Association. A chest x-ray is the best way to detect early tuberculosis and other chest conditions before symptoms develop, so the Tuberculosis Committee and the Board of Health are delighted to be able to make this service available to the citizens of Wilmington.

Fitti, Health Education Director of the Middlesex Health Association, will be present to answer questions, and to show two films which will show the need for the protection the Survey can give our community.

The Chandler Manning Trophy, for the best swimmer, was awarded, after a split decision, to Robert Swanson, 15, of 1 Baker avenue. Swanson, a sophomore in Wilmington high school was awarded the trophy, which must be won three times for permanent ownership, because of the excellence in the manner in which he had assisted the summer program at the Town Beach. He participated in the program for five to eight hours a week, and was instrumental in having 16 persons complete the swimming instruction course.

During the course of the summer, Swanson, who had been a Junior Red Cross Life Saver for four years, was instrumental in helping two persons. In the early part of August, he, while in charge of the life raft, noticed a girl, about 9 years old, had hit her head on the raft. Swanson pulled the girl into the life-savers boat. Later, in the same month, Swanson noticed a girl about 15, who had been struck by another person, who had jumped from the raft. This time Swanson pulled the girl, who was having difficulty in swimming, to the raft, where she recuperated.

Other persons nominated for the award were Miss Kay Doherty of Grove avenue and Miss Frances Pellerin, Burlington avenue.

Miss Doherty had participated in the activities of the summer, had been instrumental in teaching 10 persons in the swimming lessons, and was credited with an "assist" in a life saving at the beach. She has been a Senior Red Cross Life Saver for the last year, and she was awarded her advanced swimmers badge, Monday.

Miss Frances Pellerin, of Burlington avenue, saved the life of a husky 40 year old man, by her cool thinking, during the month of August. She had spotted the man, who was obviously in trouble, and swam over to him, telling him to keep cool, and then towed him to the raft, where he was able to recuperate. Of the number of persons on the raft, Miss Pellerin was the only one to notice the swimmer in difficulty, and he credited her with saving his life. She had passed her final examination as a Senior Life Saver two days previously, and used her newly learned technique to good advantage.

Eddie Forrest, Red Cross Life Guard has extended his thanks to all those who participated in the Field Day, to the judges, and to many others, including Benny Harrison, who provided the loud speaker system; George Spanos, who provided refreshments and Officers Harry Cutter, Ernie Cail and Fred Chisholm, for their special help, and to the other officers of the Wilmington police department.

Assisting Eddie Forrest, in the capacity of judges and starters were: Arthur V. Lynch, John Sheppard, Tom Johnston, Joe Woods, John Weed, Helen Casey, Vinnie Yentile, Gus Landry, Paul McCabe, Larz Neilson, Dick Wood, George Cushing and George Spanos.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

I figure this demonstration saved me many hundreds of dollars!

I expected to pay that much more for a new car until I discovered I was better off in every way with this new Chevrolet!

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

TOWN NOTES

MOUNTAIN ASH
At the present time, there are a number of trees, called Mountain Ash, which present a very pretty sight in the town. They have bright orange berries, in clusters, which show up brilliantly against the green leaves. Truly a pretty scene.

Some of the people who own these trees might like to know that if a spray is cut, at the present time, and dipped in paraffine, it will have its color preserved all winter. Several of them, tied together, make a fine decoration for the front door.

FIRE STATION
The new fire station presents a pretty good appearance, now, and appears to be rapidly nearing completion.

A lot of gravel was taken from Abigail's island, during the last week, for the front driveway.

KELLY THOUGHT TWICE
Officer Kelly, of the Wilmington police department, relates an incident, during the 85 mph chase of a few weeks ago, in which he participated, that does credit to him (that's not why he related it, though) Kelly, at one time, was able to draw up alongside the fleeing driver, and he shouted "Stop or I'll put a bullet through your head!" his reply was "Go ahead!"

Kelly didn't do it. He didn't like the idea of a car doing 85 mph with a dead man at the wheel. "Anything could have happened," said Kelly.

"BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS"

By Reynolds Knight

New York, - The April-May-June quarter of 1953 saw government spending — federal, state and municipal — running at the rate of $83.5 billion a year. This was up a billion from the rate of the previous quarter, and probably marked the peak of peacetime expansion in the federal field. July Treasury outlays were down $700 million from July, 1952. It will take a long time for such gradual cuts to bring the budget back into balance.

State and local spending on neglected roads and municipal plants in general is on the rise, offsetting part of whatever decline in federal costs we can expect. More than half a billion of new tax-exempt obligations were sold for such purposes in July.

While enormous government spending is undoubtedly a prop to the economy, its actual effect is sometimes over-estimated. As long as the budget is balanced, what the government spends is what the taxpayer would have spent if it hadn't been taken away from him. When there are deficits, the government is spending "created" money, which of course the taxpayer can't do.

Whatever the actual size of the government prop, the Treasury figures put us on notice that it will get smaller.

Mountain To Mohammed — Instead of taking its fall sales, advertising and merchandising story to the field, as is customary in the distilling industry, Schenley Distributors, Inc. invited 200 of the nation's top liquor distributors to New York for a first-hand inspection of company plans.

The distributors were invited in groups of 20 or 30, to combine informality with concentration on the Schenley presentation to the exclusion of all the details that would intrude on the distributors in his own place of business.

So enthusiastic were the distributors that J. E. Farr, Schenley's executive vice president, said orders growing out of the meetings indicated bigger fall and holiday sales than those of record-setting 1948 for Schenley Reserve, the company's biggest-selling brand.

Things To Come — Once cans of aluminum soldering flux now enable the do-it-yourselfers to fasten this metal to others. It has long defied him . . . A lead weighted desk stand holds a wrist-watch during the working day . . . A wheel, with an axle which sticks in the ground, will guide the hose around your favorite shrub, sparing low-growing branches . . . A child's umbrella has a window of transparent plastic between two of the ribs, for safety . . . Mouse bait stations of plastic have dark chambers molded on so the mouse can eat the poison in seclusion.

Come Back, Rosie — Rosie the Riveter, glamorous figure of the World War II production line, is being paged again. New York state laws were changed after the start of the Korean war to permit employment of women workers on both day and night shifts, and demand is soaring.

Unusual opportunities are offered in the airplane industry, because of the growing complexity of Military aircraft and continued tightness of the over-all labor supply. Republic Aviation Corporation of Farmingdale, Long Island, is adding between 6,000 and 7,000 workers to its payrolls between now and the end of the year, and is counting on women to fill 4,000 of the jobs.

The airplane company, which has a backlog of orders in excess of a billion dollars, must have the extra hands to meet immediate and long-range production commitments for the new superfast F-84F Thunder-streak, sweeping successor to the famous Thunderjet fighter-bomber. Republic employed 7,500 women during World War II, and found them outstandingly satisfactory workers.

Father's Turn — Some cynical observers say a turn-up in demand for men's clothing marks the crest of the business cycle. This idea is that by the time father gets around to upgrading his wardrobe everything else the family needs has been purchased.

Be that as it may, men's clothing makers appear to face their best fall season in years. Rochester, N.Y., great ready-made suit center, reports activity reminiscent of the demobilization days of 1946. (That's too optimistic; 1946 saw 624 million pounds of worsted spun; this year won't reach 400 million.)

Worsted mills have ordered combed fiber from top makers as far ahead as December. Imports from Argentina and Australia are above the last two years, average, and domestic wool has edged the support level.

Bits O' Business — With their incomes falling, farmers are spending about 15 per cent less than in 1952 for buildings and machinery. The 1952 investment was $3.5 billion . . . Two German firms got a contract to build a $7-million steel mill in India, to be financed largely by the World Bank . . . Department store sales slipped in New York and Philadelphia the week ended August 15 . . . Builders of new storage space will be guaranteed rent by the government in connection with the farm loan program . . . Government takings of tuluol are keeping the market tight, so evidently there has been no cutback in ammunition procurement. Uncle Sam uses tuluol for explosives. His nephews put it in paint and varnish.

METAL PLATES AID HORSE WITH FRACTURED LEG

Veterinarians are now able to use metal plates to strengthen the broken leg of a horse so that it can mend properly.

Previously used for fractures in dogs, a veterinary medical journal reported recently that the metal plating technique has been adapted successfully for horses. One thoroughbred horse was saved for use as a brood mare by the metal plate method.

The horse was noticed to be limping. An examination by veterinarians at Ontario Veterinary College revealed the fracture of one leg bone.

Several bone fragments were removed after the horse was placed under anesthesia. Then the plates, made of bitullium, were used to hold the fractured bones together so the break could mend. The operation took four hours.

The leg was placed in a cast and antibiotics were used to combat infection. The horse slowly recovered strength and regained the use of the broken leg, the veterinarians reported.

WHEREVER THE LINES OF STEEL WENT

We tend to taken some of the most important things in life for granted, and to give them little or no thought. The railroads are a case in point.

A short time ago Defense Transport Administrator Knudson said, "Without the long lines of steel that were laid by pioneer railroaders across the United States . . . our country would not be populated and developed and civilized from Atlantic to the Pacific Coast as it is today. Wherever the main lines and the feeder lines of our railroads went, they brought new people and businesses and trade, and transformed wildernesses into fertile agricultural regions, and made mines in the mountains and factories in the valleys."

This pioneering era has largely ended. But the importance of rail service has increased, not diminished. The rails carry—economically, safely, swiftly, dependably—most of the goods we use, and almost all of the heavy and bulky freight. They are the arteries of our industrial body. They are essential to the national defense. We couldn't do without them.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Ontario-Upland, Calif., Daily Report: "Every taxpayer in the United States has a vested interest in an overhaul of the Federal government. For twenty years the New Deal has encouraged lavish spending at a Federal level thus indirectly furthering its Socialistic revolution. If government is ever again to be brought back to size, many money-spending bureaus and agencies must be abolished entirely while others must be consolidated." Bellingham, Wash., Herald: "In the opinion of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Prentiss M. Terry may have made history. The story of Mr. Terry is the story of a federal civil servant who welcomed his own dismissal by remarking: 'I'm for economy. If it hits me, that's all right.'"

Greenville, Ill., Advocate: "The new Administration's Commissioner of Internal Revenue is planning a simplified form of tax return for persons with incomes of $10,000 or less. This is wonderful! The man who can make income tax paying as simple and effortless as the paying of state, county and municipal taxes will be listed among the immortals."

SON TO KLEYNAN FAMILY
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kleynan, 25 Liberty street announce the birth of a son, John Thomas Kleynan, their third child, at 5:05 a.m. Sept. 2nd. Other children in the family are Patricia Ann, 7, and Louis Robert, 4.

DUMMY FOOLS MOTORISTS
Five East Wilmington boys had a wonderful time, Sunday afternoon, until Officer Markey of the Wilmington police put a crimp into their act. The boys dressed up a dummy, made of straw, with dungarees, shirt, shoes and a hat, and then applied a liberal coating of catsup all over the back, and then left it lying in the middle of West street. One after another, motorists would suddenly swerve to avoid the "body, and almost crash into a tree. Finally someone called the police, and Leo Markey investigated. Markey couldn't find the boys, but he did find five bicycles, which he loaded in the back of the police cruiser. Five sadder but wiser young men, all in their early teens, showed up at the police station, in company with their parents, to retrieve their bicycles.

A LESSON FROM EAST GERMANY

The people of East Germany have experienced the oppression of dictatorship and a planned economy. They have had only one right and that is to produce at the order of those in power. They know from bitter experience what private trade and independent unions mean. To them they mean the difference between being free men and slaves.

The next time you hear someone advocating government ownership of industry, remember how desperately workers in East Germany and elsewhere are struggling to return enterprise to private hands in order to bring back individual opportunity and free trade unions.

The Hague (IES) - Baseball, taking a good hold as an amateur sport in Holland, may produce a star fit for American big leagues shortly. A pitcher and a hefty slugger are beginning to scintillate in the 18-19-year-old class.

Madrid (IES) - General Franco has offered $500,000 for his memoirs by an American syndicate. Not enough, his friends say.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Figures gathered in Washington show that an unusually large number of school children are working this summer. That is one of the results of the increased demand for workers in defense plants and the shortage of farm labor.

The situation has school authorities greatly worried as to what the high school enrollment will have shrunk to by the time classes are resumed after Labor Day. There is no denying that the lure of jobs with good pay checks can be more attractive than the classroom. Also, rising costs of living will have their effect on parents who ordinarily want their boys and girls to acquire educations but who welcome the financial aid that the earnings of sons and daughters represent.

But the future must be given consideration. Mothers and fathers who want their children to have as many advantages as possible in the complicated years ahead should make every effort to see that they return to classes, especially those of high school age.

It has been pointed out that a high school education is an asset easily carried around and an exceedingly valuable one. It is the foundation of good technical training. Most apprenticeships require. The better technological institutions demand it and the Armed Forces want it. Education fits its possessor for a better-paying job and a career. It makes of him a better citizen who can play an important part in our economy.

Mothers and fathers, see to it that your children return to their classes. Employers, encourage your young workers to take advantage of the opportunity to acquire education, even as you would have your own children do.

CROWS IN THE CORN

Quietly comes in the early morn,
Some hungry crows to my patch of corn.
I'm not excited. I do not run,
To shoo off the creatures, or grab for a gun.
The corn they are eating, is really not mine,
But a token bestowed by a Power Divine.
Let the ravens who fed Elijah of old,
Collect from my garden, their measure of gold.

ELECTRICITY IS A BARGAIN

Recently a mid-western utility company* was forced to apply to the state public service commission for a moderate increase in electric rates. The company's president said, "We have scrimped and saved at every possible point, but we are no longer able to offset the increased costs of doing business."

Then he cited a few facts of widespread interest which, in general, are a reflection of the record of the power industry as a whole.

This was the first time this company has sought higher power rates in 32 years. During those 32 years, there have been 14 rate reductions.

Inflation has cut deep into purchasing power of the company's dollar. Yet the dollar spent for electricity has brought the customer steadily increasing amounts.

If the rate increase is allowed, the average price per kilowatt hour to the home still will be about half of what it was 20 years ago.

The requested rate increase would add some 12 per cent to the company's operating revenues—and more than half of this would go to government in taxes.

When it comes to "holding the price line" the electric industry need take off its hat to none. In household budgets, this essential service is a minor item.

Paris (IES) - The Russians are expected to okay one U.S. airline for regular trips to Moscow, beginning next spring. Tourists would spend $100,000,000 a year in Russia, travel experts say, if there were any consumer commodities to spend it on.
