TESTIMONIALS

"Jim is personable, honest, calm, and knowledgeable. We were thrilled with his expertise and willingness to make valid comments and suggestions for us throughout our home hunt recently. We have been home buying and selling for years and, without a doubt, Jim is the best we have ever come across! We look forward to doing business with Jim in the future, if we sell or buy again in Maine."

"I really love how honest she was with us. I never felt rushed or pressured in any way. It wasn't always what I wanted to hear, but I love how she was never afraid to be honest. I trust Melissa and won't work with any other agent."

MANAGING YOUR MANAGING YOUR MONEY LIFE.

The founders of Portland Trust Company used to be “bankers.” Those people in the intimidating office where you’d go if you asked a bank teller about something other than just a checking account. More than just a CD or a savings bond (remember those?).

But you should never be an after-thought or put in the corner. You should never be one in a million accounts, with no more connection to your money than a chart you get in the mail quarterly or through your web browser.

So in 2015 we created our own way of managing wealth, Portland Trust Company, focused exclusively on transparent and customized financial guidance. We gave our customers a new home for managing their wealth and assets, managing their lives and futures, in a way that traditional banks talk about, but don’t really do.

Five years later, we have very happy clients. And they sleep well at night, knowing we’ve helped them make great decisions for their families and the people they care about.

Do you need clarity on the relationship between you and your money? Come join us at Portland Trust Company.

HEATING • COOLING • PLUMBING • HEAT PUMPS

Did you know that as much as half the energy used in your home goes to heating and cooling? What if there was a solution that could cut your energy consumption up to 30%, AND keep you comfortable all year?

Heat Pumps are a great alternative to traditional heating and cooling systems – all in one piece of equipment! Heat pumps provide a central system for heating and cooling that is extremely energy efficient, and far less invasive to install than traditional systems. Because they move heat rather than generate heat, they do not require fuel consumption, and provide equivalent space heating and conditioning of at least 1/4 of the cost of operating conventional heating and cooling appliances.
