October 10, 2021
28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Picture yourself in the scene of today's Gospel. Many of us can resonate with the response of these disciples — 'amazed,' and 'exceedingly astonished,' or from another perspective, shocked and perplexed — because they are our very own responses today when Jesus teaches. The poverty that Jesus invites His followers into can run in direct opposition to the "self-made man" perspective of the American culture. Cardinal Cantalamessa describes four aspects of this Evangelical Poverty: material poverty as a social phenomenon to be addressed (as in combating world hunger); material poverty as an evangelical position to be embraced (as in radical frugality and simplicity of life); spiritual poverty as an evil to be fought (as in deliverance ministry); and spiritual poverty as an ideal to strive for (as in the Little Way of St. Therese of Lisieux). Evangelical poverty is the pursuit of a characteristic of the heart, a quality of our being that ennobles the effort to attain it.

We find this quality beautifully exemplified in the life of St. Francis of Assisi. As his material needs decreased, so his capacity for enjoyment increased. "The poorer Francis became, the less cramped was his soul. Because he has such a zest for eliminating inessentials, his talent for enjoying life's good things grew steadily more highly sensitized." (Mother Mary Francis, "Chastity, Poverty and Obedience: Recovering the vision for the Renewal of Religious Life")

Jesus' invitation here is to embrace the upside down perspective of being his follower. We find our riches in poverty. A seemingly impossible task indeed when it is so easy to drive ourselves down to the local store and purchase whatever it is that we need at any given moment, or we can just "Google it." Not that Evangelical Poverty is the exclusive domain of professed religious or is providing for one's needs out of the storehouse of their earnings a moral evil either. Somewhere in between destitution and opulence lies the balance for Jesus' invitation to Gospel poverty.

When I was living in a Catholic household of men many years ago, we had an annual practice of "the purge." It started on Saturday morning after praying Morning Prayer together. We would each go separately to our rooms and sort through the possessions that had accumulated in our rooms over the course of the past year. After about an hour, we would gather together, and as a group led by the household leader, we would visit each room where there would be a few garbage bags of stuff either to be donated or to be discarded. The guideline for discerning what to keep or donate/discard was this, "Keep only what you need to survive." This was a very practical way that we kept ourselves accountable to the way of life we were trying to live out. Once we went through each guy's room, we then went through the common areas of the house in the same manner. After lunch together, we'd pile all the plastic bags into a car, or we'd throw them in the dumpster. This annual practice was a way that we embraced Gospel poverty proper to our state of life at the time.

The "nah-uh, Jesus" response that so many of us have is indicative of the impossibility of being a follower of Jesus on our own power. That's why Jesus gives his followers grace and the empowerment of the Holy Spirit in order to attain the lofty heights of virtue. We cannot do it on our own; our attachments to carnality, pleasures, and possessions, as well as the fickleness and frailty of our flawed character are indeed strong and difficult to surrender unless we are convinced that something greater is available worth the sacrifice. But Jesus' offer of salvation and eternal life is available to all without hesitation or reserve ... how shall we respond today?

St. John XXIII, Pope

Feast Day: October 11
Canonized: April 27, 2014

Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli was born November 25, 1881, in the village of Sotto il Monte (Under the Mountain) in Bergamo, a small town in Northern Italy. Even when Angelo was a young boy, his parents knew that he was not like his brothers and sisters. Angelo would not grow up to be the farmer his father wished for. The local priest, Father Francesco Rebuzzini, guided and tutored young Angelo.

Angelo was ordained a priest in 1904. More than 50 years later, when he became pope, he took the name John, his father's name. During World War I, the young priest served as a medic and a chaplain. During World War II, as a papal diplomat in Turkey and Greece, he used his office to help thousands of refugees in Europe.

He was elected pope in 1958. He was known for his warmth and humor, and he visited children in hospitals and prison inmates at Christmastime. Stories say he liked to sneak out of the Vatican at night to walk freely around Rome.

Pope John XXIII is most remembered for calling the Second Vatican Council in 1962. This was a meeting of all the bishops of the Church. Pope John XXIII wanted them to help the whole Church understand better the role and purpose of the Church. During his opening address, Pope John XXIII called the Church to follow a path of mercy. He said that the Church needs to use the "medicine of mercy" to show how the Church is a "loving mother to all." The documents of this council help Christians to better live as followers of Christ in our own time. He died on June 3, 1963, at the age of 81.

In 2013 Pope Francis declared that Pope John XXIII and Pope John Paul II were to be formally canonized on the same day.

St. Margaret Mary AlacoqueFeast Day: October 16

It's hard to imagine spending five weeks in bed, let alone five years. But in 1657, when Marguerite Marie Alacoque was 10 years old, she became very ill with a disease that left her paralyzed. So for five years she stayed in bed—long before television or video games could provide amusement. So what did she do? She prayed.

During those years of illness in her village in France, the young woman offered her suffering to God and spent the time reflecting on her faith. She promised the Blessed Mother that if she ever regained her health, she would become a nun. Her health improved. Despite her family's pleas, she refused to be married and entered the Visitation convent.

Marguerite, or Margaret, as she is sometimes called, is referred to as a mystic, a person with a special spiritual communication with God. Jesus told her that he wanted devotion to the Sacred Heart to be increased. Some people, including some of the other nuns, did not believe that she had visions of Jesus, but one priest who heard confessions for the nuns did. Eventually, a chapel devoted to Jesus' Sacred Heart was built at the convent, and soon other Visitation convents also began the devotion.

Marguerite Marie died in 1690 and was canonized in 1920 by Pope Benedict XV.

Santa Margarita María de Alacoque

"Oh Bienaventurada Margarita María! depositaria venturosa del tesoro de los cielos, el Corazón Divino de Jesús, permite que, considerándote mi hermana, en este incomparable amor, te ruegue me des con generosidad, la parte que me corresponde en esa mansión de infinita caridad. Confidente de Jesús, acércame tú al Sagrario de su pecho herido; Esposa de predilección, enséñame a sufrir por la dilatación de aquel reinado cuya causa te confió el Maestro. Apóstol del Sagrado Corazón, consígueme que se realicen conmigo las promesas que en beneficio de su gloria, te hizo ochenta y siete veces el Amado; Discípula regalada del Divino Corazón, enséñame la ciencia de conocerlo como lo conociste tú, en el perfecto olvido de mí mismo y de la tierra. Víctima del Corazón de Jesús Sacramentado, toma el mío, y ocúltalo en la llaga donde tú viviste, compartiendo ahí las agonías del Cautivo del amor, de Jesús-Eucaristía. El, te dijo, hermana muy amada, que dispusieras en la eternidad del cielo, de este otro cielo, el de su Corazón Sacramentado; ¡Oh Margarita María! entrégamelo, pues, para consumirme en ese incendio, dámelo para llevarlo como vida redentora a los pobres pecadores y como glorificación de ese mismo Corazón Divino a las almas de los justos. ¡Ah, sí! compartamos, hermana mía el mismo sacrificio, el mismo apostolado, el mismo paraíso del Corazón Divino de Jesús: venga a nos su reino. "

28° Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

Hemos vivido en estos dos años experiencias inimaginables en nuestras vidas. Si hace tres años nos hubieran dicho que esto de la pandemia pasaría, no lo hubiéramos creído. Sin embargo, el tiempo de confinamiento en casa, el cuidarnos los unos a los otros, el distanciamiento y la limpieza, junto con el ser vacunados, nos ha llevado a apreciar y creer lo que escuchamos hoy en la liturgia de la Palabra. La primera lectura describe con lujo de detalle lo que es apreciar lo más importante: "Oré y me fue dada la inteligencia; supliqué, y el espíritu de sabiduría vino a mí. La preferí a los cetos y a los tronos, y estimé en nada la riqueza al lado de ella" (Sabiduría 7:7-8). ¿Qué nos enseña esta lectura con referencia al tiempo que estamos viviendo? ¿Qué debemos de apreciar ahora?

Bueno, para seguir reflexionando, Jesús en el Evangelio lo pone clarísimo con un mensaje exigente y radical, poniendo en contraste la riqueza y la sabiduría. Su mensaje: "Sólo te falta una cosa; vete, vende todo lo que tienes y reparte el dinero entre los pobres, y tendrás un tesoro en el Cielo. Después ven y sígueme" (Mateo 10:21). Más claro que el agua no puede ser. Seguir a Jesús es el siguiente paso. ¿Cómo? Dándonos unos a otros hasta que duela. Los pobres son el gran camino para el cielo y creo que durante el confinamiento que hemos vivido todos somos pobres, porque a todos nos falta de alguna manera la salud, el trabajo, y todos hemos perdido a algún ser querido durante este tiempo. ¿Qué opinas de la invitación de Jesús? ¿Crees que es actual o está pasada de moda?
