Keeping Current

24 of the hottest cruise itineraries making a splash this year.

Growing faster than the pace of global travel, with 28.5 million annual passengers, the cruise seascape continues to diversify, sending more ships to new destinations, launching vessels sized from mega to compact, and creating programs for every psychographic, from explorer to gastronome. Such variety at sea means many choices for every sailor. River cruising has spread from Europe to six continents, and Alaska has become a starter vacation for more remote Arctic explorations. Wherever you want to go, there's a trip (or three) to consider, as the following classic itineraries – and their alternatives – demonstrate. – Elaine Glusac

and Cape Town.

IF YOU 😊 OCEAN CROSSINGS:

- Cunard takes transatlantic travel to the next level. The pace aboard the 2,691-passenger Queen Mary 2 is pure leisure, crossing the four time zones that separate New York and Southampton, England, in seven jetlag-free days. The onboard enrichment options run nonstop, from stargazing in the shipboard planetarium to attending Broadway-caliber shows, participating in book club discussions in the largest library at sea, or striking yoga poses in the gym. Departure: April 25; from $1,149.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

- Spend 13 days sailing from the lush Caribbean island of Barbados to Lisbon, with stops at the Canary Islands and Madeira en route. During port calls, The Ritz-Carlton Yacht Collection's 298-passenger Evrima opens at the stern of the ship, allowing guests to swim, paddleboard, or simply sunbathe at sea level. Nine bars and restaurants ensure culinary variety, while an infinity pool, full-service spa, and state-of-the-art fitness studio are highlights of the ship's wellness features. Departure: April 10, 2021; from $6,900.

- Bridge the New World and the Old World on Viking Ocean Cruises' 15-day Atlantic crossing from Miami to Barcelona. The journey features a stop in the Caribbean's Sint Maarten, where sun-lovers can visit the island's bicultural beaches, and skirts Europe, with a day docked in mountainous Madeira. The 930-passenger Viking Sky entertains at sea with a well-stocked library and a spa with a sauna and snow grotto. A final overnight in Barcelona allows for sampling tapas deep into the night. Departure: March 6; from $2,999.

IF YOU 😊 THE DANUBE RIVER:

• Ply some of Europe's liquid highways with Avalon Waterways on a ten-day sailing between two of central Europe's most romantic cities, Prague and Budapest. After two days in the Czech capital, guests board an Avalon ship in Nuremberg, Germany, and continue on the Danube to medieval Regensburg and past the vineyard-lined banks of Austria's Wachau region before spending two days in musical Vienna. For a fitting final day: a soak in one of Budapest's historic baths. Multiple departures from May through October; from $3,229.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

• The Mekong River is a vital link between neighboring Asian cities. AmaWaterways' eight-day Mekong cruises connect Ho Chi Minh City with Siem Reap via the 124-passenger AmaDara. Culture and politics mix on excursions to shop a local market in Sa Dec, tour silk-making workshops in Tan Chau, see the killing fields of the Khmer Rouge, and walk amid the French colonial architecture of Phnom Penh. Multiple departures in 2020; from $1,399.

• The mighty Mississippi River divides east from west, links north to south, and looms large in American culture - all of which the 166-passenger paddle wheeler American Duchess explores. American Queen Steamboat Company's nine-day Memphis-to-New Orleans itinerary celebrates American music with stops that focus on blues, rock and roll (including a visit to Elvis Presley's Graceland), and jazz in its birthplace. En route, visit Civil War cemeteries and antebellum estates. Multiple departures; from $2,399.

From top: An AmaWaterways excursion in Cambodia, American Queen Steamboat Company's American Duchess, and a jazz staple.

Ponant visits Easter Island.

IF YOU 😊 HAWAII:

• Norwegian Cruise Line offers a relaxing way to explore the 50th state. Seven-day itineraries aboard the 2,186-passenger Pride of America set sail from Honolulu and allow two days on Maui to snorkel with sea turtles or play a round of golf on local greens. Dual calls on the Big Island offer lush rain forests near Hilo and pristine beaches around Kona. Guests also say aloha to Kauai while sailing past the verdant volcanic mountains that wall the Na Pali coast. Year-round departures; from $1,299.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

• Cast off for Tahiti and the Society Islands aboard the 332-guest Paul Gauguin with Paul Gauguin Cruises. Eight-day South Pacific sailings leave the Tahitian capital of Papeete to explore Polynesian culture, beginning with 40 ancient marae in Huahine. Overnights in Bora-Bora and Moorea offer ample opportunities for beachcombing, as well as aquatic adventures ranging from scuba diving with sharks to lagoon sailing. Multiple departures; from $5,095.

• Explore the mysteries of Easter Island and its link to South Pacific cultures from the 264-passenger Le Soléal on a 13-day sailing with Ponant. Three days on Easter Island – aka Rapa Nui – introduces the monumental moai statues, figures carved between the thirteenth and sixteenth centuries by descendants of Polynesian immigrants. The ship then traces the route in reverse, stopping at remote Pitcairn Island and uninhabited Temoe Atoll before reaching the beaches of Moorea. Several departures beginning March 8; from $7,020.

IF YOU 😊 JAPAN:

• Princess Cruises captures the diversity of the Land of the Rising Sun in a five-day, Tokyo-to-Taipei cultural tour. Board the 2,670-guest Diamond Princess in the electric city of Tokyo, which blends tranquil Shinto shrines and frenetic retail districts. Next up: iconic Mount Fuji, a snowcapped, 12,388-foot backdrop to temples and tea ceremonies. From Kobe, visit the sixteenth-century Osaka Castle, and on tropical Okinawa, see the Shikina-en Garden, built for eighteenth-century royals. Departure February 20; from $1,149.

A bowl of Japanese miso ramen and (below) guests of Princess Cruises take in the sights.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

• Two of Asia's most dynamic capitals, Hong Kong and Tokyo, bookend Oceania Cruises' 16-day voyage from China to Japan via Taiwan and Korea. The 684-passenger Nautica anchors for two nights in Shanghai, offering ample time to explore the ancient-yet-modern city via walking tours, shadowboxing clinics, and acrobat shows. From Seoul, tour the DMZ (the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea), and continue to Japan for the ramen stalls of Fukuoka and the historic shrines of Hososhima. Departure March 18; from $4,199.

• Wander the tropical Malay Peninsula with Star Clippers on an eight-day round-trip-from-Phuket sailing. Guests visit a mix of beachy and urban destinations in Thailand and Malaysia, swim in crystal-clear water off Ko Butang in Thailand, and stroll the mix of colonial forts and modern skyscrapers of George Town in Penang, Malaysia. The 170-passenger Star Clipper also sails to a string of pristine national-park-protected shores on the way back to photogenic Phuket. Multiple departures from January 18; from $4,110.

IF YOU 😊 THE MEDITERRANEAN:

- Plunge into the region's maritime culture with Regent Seven Seas Cruises' 13-day Venice-to-Barcelona sailing. During the seven-country tour, the 750-guest Seven Seas Splendor drops anchor in Sicily for views of active volcano Mount Etna and fresh arancini (deep fried rice balls); Greece's Argostoli, home of a locally-focused architecture museum and seaside cafes; and small but mighty Monte Carlo, where travelers can try to spot the royal family by day and hit the casinos by night. Departure: July 23; from $12,299.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

- On the eastern side of Italy, the Adriatic offers a mix of breezy ports and storied seaside towns. Silversea Cruises' 12-day round-trip-from-Venice sailing strings together cultural destinations, beach escapes, and off-the-beaten-path discoveries in Italy, Croatia, and Greece aboard the 608-passenger Silver Spirit. Highlights include exploring the medieval walls surrounding Dubrovnik, hiking to the forts above Corfu, and kayaking around the moored yachts of Hvar. Departure: April 24; from $7,700.

- Celebrate the long days of summer in the culture-rich ports edging northern Europe on Celebrity Cruises' round-trip-from-Amsterdam, 13-day sailing on the 3,046-passenger Celebrity Reflection. The sailing highlights many Baltic ports, from Copenhagen to Russia's cultural capital. Guests have two full days in Saint Petersburg to discover the palaces, museums, and concerts for which it's famous. Added attractions: full days in the design-loving Scandinavian capitals of Copenhagen, Stockholm, and Helsinki. Three departures from July through September; from $2,199.

From top: Italian arancini, the sundeck of Silversea Cruises' Silver Spirit, and Copenhagen's waterfront architecture.

From top: Crystal Cruises' Crystal Endeavor and the ship's seven-person submersible and Glacier Bay National Park.

IF YOU 😊 ALASKA:

- Holland America Line sends eight ships seasonally to Alaska on itineraries that last from seven to 21 days. The line visits Glacier Bay National Park and Preserve on a seven-day round-trip-from-Seattle itinerary aboard the 2,104-passenger Eurodam. In addition to offering whale-watching opportunities, the ship calls at the colorful lumberjack town of Ketchikan, wildlife-rich Sitka, and capital city Juneau, which sits just about 12 miles from the mighty Mendenhall Glacier. Multiple departures from May 2; from $849.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

- Float past icebergs the size of castles and fjords choked with glacial ice aboard Hurtigruten's soon-to-launch 530-passenger Fridtjof Nansen on a 16-day adventure around Greenland. Eighty percent of the country is covered by ice year-round, making summer the season to walk its tundra, wildlife-view from kayaks, and visit Viking settlements. Citizen science initiatives offer opportunities to collect data and examine samples under Science Center microscopes along the route. Four departures from July through August; from $10,733.

- Crystal Cruises is reinventing the wanderlist-worthy Antarctic cruise by building a luxury yacht, the anticipated 200-passenger Crystal Endeavor, and sending it where few luxury vessels have gone before. The all-suite, butler-serviced Endeavor will have a glass-enclosed solarium and spa and will offer a helicopter and submarine for excursions. Its 12-day Antarctic Peninsula sailings use Zodiacs for excursions to penguin colonies and around 800 miles of ice-covered mountains. Multiple departures in November and December 2021; from $15,449.

IF YOU 😊 THE CARIBBEAN:

• The soon-to-debut Virgin Voyages takes the idea of a floating resort to extremes with the 2,770-passenger Scarlet Lady. The new ship hosts more than 20 bars and restaurants – including a karaoke room and The Test Kitchen, a cooking-school-cum-restaurant – balanced by lavish wellness amenities, such as an outdoor yoga terrace and a training camp area. Six-day Florida-Mexico voyages sail round-trip from Miami for the Costa Maya, allowing passengers to visit jungle-shrouded ruins and technicolor reefs. Multiple departures from April; from $1,550 per cabin.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

• Island-hopping acquires educational and cultural accents on Greek island sailings with Windstar Cruises. Seven-day itineraries on board the four-mast, 148-passenger Wind Star string together Aegean pearls, from Athens and beach-clubby Mykonos to the whitewashed towns of Santorini and the early Christian sites of Patmos. In Kusadasi, Turkey, guests explore the ancient Greek ruins of Ephesus, a UNESCO World Heritage site, before a private dinner on-site. Multiple departures from May through October; from $5,499.

• Royal Caribbean International makes the Bahamas long-weekend-getaway material for families. During four-day, round-trip-from-Miami voyages, the 3,386-passenger Navigator of the Seas offers thrills such as a surf simulator pool, a rock-climbing wall, and the longest waterslide at sea. A land-bound water park with seven waterslides – including the tallest in North America, at 135 feet – awaits on the cruise line's private island Perfect Day at CocoCay. Multiple departures; from $259.

Clockwise from top: Dinner on board Windstar Cruises' Wind Star, warm-weather necessities, and Royal Caribbean International's Navigator of the Seas pool deck.

From top: A lounge on board Uniworld's Ganges Voyager II and Jordan's Petra.

IF YOU 😊 AFRICA:

- Explore the continent's urban and wild sides with Azamara during an 11-day South Africa voyage aboard the 686-passenger Azamara Quest. From cosmopolitan Cape Town, guests sail to Port Elizabeth to visit Addo Elephant National Park, a refuge supporting the world's densest populations of pachyderms. Get face time with white rhinos in Richards Bay and experience the unique blend of Zulu, Indian, and European cultures that make up the city of Durban. Departures January 21 and 31, and February 10; from $1,999.

THEN YOU'LL ❤️ :

- Spiritual and artistic stimulation abounds in India on 13-day trips with Uniworld Boutique River Cruise Collection. From New Delhi, visits to the Taj Mahal – at both sunrise and sunset – and the “Pink City” of Jaipur precede a weeklong sailing on the sacred Ganges River aboard the 56-passenger Ganges Voyager II. The itinerary includes a stop at Kalna, India's temple city, the brass workshops of Matiari, and a cricket pitch. Multiple departures from January 2; from $5,999.

- Discover the ancient trading ports and unique desert cultures of the Middle East during a 20-day, Dubai-to-Athens Seabourn voyage aboard the 600-passenger Seabourn Ovation. From the “City of Gold,” sail to Sir Bani Yas Island, home to more than 13,000 wild animals, including cheetahs, giraffes, and Arabian oryx. Visit the falcon souk in Doha, Qatar, and the imposing forts of Muscat, Oman, before sailing on for Petra, Jordan's sandstone-carved world wonder. To end the journey, the ship sails through the Suez Canal to reach Jerusalem en route to Athens. Departure April 5; from $5,499.

Regent Seven Seas Cruises

Discover the artistry of Tlingit textiles from a master Native weaver in Juneau, and hear thrilling Iditarod tales when a musher brings one of his sled dogs aboard in Skagway. They're just two of the Alaskans you'll meet through Inside Alaska, Regent Seven Seas' signature programming in the Great Land. Every port of call brings new ways to engage with the destination, from dining on the catch of the day to exploring ashore with a host of new immersive excursions. Book by January 31, 2020, to enjoy free round-trip first-class airfare on select sailings.

Your elegant home away from home features all-balcony suites and every luxury.

See the Old World in a Whole New Way

Seabourn

There's nothing typical about a Mediterranean voyage with Seabourn. Learn how to make Liguria's famous pesto sauce during a hands-on class in Portofino. Explore the World Heritage-listed Ġgantija Temples on Gozo during a tour designed in partnership with UNESCO. The intimate ambience on board is equally distinctive, from the fine wines and top-shelf spirits that pour freely to the personalized service that borders on clairvoyant. All oceanfront suites are luxuriously appointed, world-class cuisine inspired by chef Thomas Keller is always complimentary, and tipping is never required.

Explore Monaco's Old Town at your own pace.

WINE COUNTRY WANDERINGS

"River cruising is a fabulous way to see Europe. You unpack once and you have the best viewing platform for historic towns and lush countryside. I fell in love with the relaxed, forever-weekend vibe throughout Bordeaux. Each day of my eight-day Uniworld sailing brought something new: private winetastings, visiting the former home of painter Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec's mother (Château Malromé), and shopping local farmers' markets."
