The Greatest in the Kingdom

"Whoever receives one child such as this in my name, receives me; and whoever receives me, receives not me but the One who sent me."

Mark 9:37

Years ago, people who came from humble homes would say, "It's not much, but it is home." When some of their sons became priests and would be assigned to parishes with large rectories and churches, the priests would joke, "It's not home, but it's much!"

The Apostles fell into the same trap, but their superlative was "the greatest." They were debating among themselves who was the most important--the first struggle for power in the Church! Jesus changes the focus. Being the greatest is about service, not power. When one can serve the needs of all, even a small, powerless child, then greatness is achieved. That greatness is measured by the standard of love and selflessness, not strength and domination.

Practicing our faith gives us a vision to see others as God sees them and act accordingly. We have the power to change the world, one life at a time. Feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, visiting the sick and consoling the sorrowful are not far off works of mercy. They are the stuff of everyday life, the practical ways in which we serve, heal, and pray. It is not played out on a world stage, nor will it make the news. It does, however, make a difference. It's not just something; it's much!

LEGACY OF HOPE CAMPAIGN

The Diocesan capital campaign, Legacy of Hope, will be taking place in our Parish beginning in September and ending by the end of the year. More information will be forthcoming in the weeks ahead.

His wife, who is also a good friend, has since departed Maine for Massachusetts to begin her teaching job in the Charlton area school system. He remains at the lake house outside Lincoln, Maine putting the finishing touches on an expansion for their northern home, staying there by himself for a handful of weeks, pretending like he's on his dream show Mountain Men. But, the quiet, peace, and gentleness of the area where he is, the wisdom from above, is a daily spiritual experience for him until he returns soon to his local home.

We're blessed to be where we are in terms of geography, especially at this time of year. There are countless areas in this section of the U.S.A. where the wisdom from above, the peaceable, gentle, compliant place of good fruits can be breathed in and consumed for our better spiritual place, even if only for an afternoon. It may take a little effort at times on our part to make room for the wisdom from above in our lives. Or, we may have to find someone who will "take up the collection" for us so that we can scoot out earlier than expected. There are plenty of nice people around, especially in Church. The Lord's House is a great place to meet nice people. I happen to know a few of them myself.

If able and willing, make sure you take note of the words in St. James' Epistle this week and move forth to a place where the wisdom from above can be experienced and enjoyed through the great beauty that God has created for our benefit. Even if only for an afternoon. The spiritual benefits are worth the trek.

Fr. Riley

DIOCESAN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY MASS

Bishop Robert J. McManus will celebrate the Diocesan Wedding Anniversary Mass on Sunday, October 31 at 3:00 p.m. at the Cathedral of St. Paul, Worcester. This liturgy of thanksgiving to God for many years of faithful witness to the sacredness of Christian marriage honors couples who are marking significant anniversaries (25th, 40th, 50th, etc.) this year. A light reception will follow downstairs in the Cenacle. Family and friends are welcome! Couples wishing to attend should pre-register no later than October 18 so that commemorative certificates may be issued. To register, complete the registration form at www.worcesterdiocese.org/wedding-anniversary-mass, or contact the Office of Marriage and Family at 508-929-4311 or email aledoux@worcesterdiocese.org to request that a copy of the registration form be sent to you.

PROPOGATION OF THE FAITH COLLECTION
THIS MONTH

The once a year Propagation of the Faith collection will take place this year in our parish the weekend of September 26. Under normal conditions, a priest or lay person would come to speak at all Masses on that Sunday. Because of the continuing concerns of the virus this year, that will not be the case. Fr. Riley has been in contact with Fr. Celestine Byekwaso from the Diocese of Kasana-Luweero in Uganda, who would have been the representative speaker at all Masses for the Mission Weekend. From information passed on from Fr. Celestine, his Diocese is the youngest in the nation of Uganda, celebrating soon 25 years since it was formed in 1997. He passed on the information that one of the major projects the diocese is working on in view of its silver jubilee is to build a seminarian's dormitory. This building is the major focus of this year's Propagation of the Faith mission appeal. A second purpose is the continuous need to provide clean water for people in their diocese. Many people have no access to clean water, nor running water. The lack of clean water, Fr. Celestine said, has claimed many lives of children. Their hope is to drill wells around the diocese so many more people may have clean water, which will save many lives. Fr. Celestine has sent our Parish envelopes that may be used for this Mission Appeal. For any parishioner who chooses to use an envelope placed in the back of our Church, we ask that you please place it in the collection basket. Please do not mail it in, for all donations need to go through our Diocese for the Propagation of the Faith. Thank you for your consideration and generosity for this important annual appeal that addresses major needs of other Catholic Churches and ministries both in our nation and throughout the universal Church.

If you or your loved one become hospitalized and would like prayer, please let us know by calling or emailing Julie Basque, our pastoral associate (508-366-8509, ext 4 or email pastoral-associate@stlukes-parish.org.) Thank you

25th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all." (MARK 9:35) Jesus teaches us that we are called to love one another. Love involves sacrifice. Sacrifice is a word that many of us don't like to hear. We think it means that we must give up something that we want. However, the literal meaning of sacrifice is "to make holy," from the words "sacer" = sacred and "facere" = to make. In other words, we make our lives holy by sharing our gifts in the service of God.

THE SACRAMENT OF MARRIAGE

“The theology of the church often underscores two aspects of ecclesial life: communio (“communion”) and missio (“mission”). Communio centers on the relational life within the Church itself, the embodiment of what the Gospel of John calls for when indicating that Christ’s own will be known by the love they have for one another. That love is celebrated and expressed at the Eucharistic meal. The other aspect of Church life, its mission, points to the service given to others. Clothing the naked, giving food and drink to those who need nourishment, caring for widows and orphans – these are indicators that the Church is active in mission. Both communio and missio are essential features of Church life. The theological roots for this duality of life lie in the life of God and God’s activity of creating ad extra. God’s Trinitarian life is, in that sense, God’s communio, while God’s missio life is God’s creation of the universe. Taking this paradigm one step further, Christian marriage contains its own communio (the love between the spouses) and its missio (the life between them results in new life from them). Obviously, this refers to biological children resulting from the love expressed in the sexual union of the couple, but there are other referents worth mentioning, such as adoption, foster care, and the care of children with special needs and of the disabled and the elderly. The primary point is that marriage is not simply a relationship between two persons, but it is also a relationship of creativity and service for others. In other words, Christian marriage itself is essentially altruistic. The so-called unitive and procreative aspect of marriage, which is the cornerstone for Vatican II’s description of marriage in its Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World, can be seen in light of this distinction between communion and mission as essential aspects of the life of the Church. Marriage, as a sacrament of the Church, participates in this communion and mission in a specific and concrete manner.”

RCIA INQUIRY SESSIONS

Although we welcome and meet with inquirers all year, we will be starting weekly Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults (RCIA) inquiry sessions on Tuesday September 28 at 7:30 PM in room 23 of the Parish Center.

This is an opportunity for people to learn about the Catholic faith tradition, and if one feels so called, to start a path that will lead to becoming a Christian in the Catholic faith tradition. All are welcomed, and folks are invited to attend as many sessions as they like without any obligation to “become Catholic.”

RCIA was designed as a means for people to become Christians (through the Sacraments of Baptism, Eucharist, and Confirmation), if they feel called to do so. It is also a path for Christians from other faith traditions to learn about the Catholic faith tradition and enter into full communion with the Catholic Church, if so choose. We have also had people participate who were baptized Catholic but for one reason or another never received First Communion and Confirmation. Regardless of your background, we welcome you to attend our Tuesday September 28 session, when we will talk about what the RCIA faith formation process is about. Or if you are a confirmed Catholic, please consider referring anyone you know that may be interested in learning about RCIA.

The pandemic limited us to virtual sessions for a number of months. We are cautiously optimistic that September 28 will be the start of safe in-person sessions for us. Nevertheless, we try to be responsive to any special needs and are amenable to a virtual option as necessary or upon request.

There is no need to register – just go to the parish center and walk into room 23! We will look forward to meeting you! For more information on RCIA in general or the September 28 inquiry session in particular, please contact Bob Thompson via phone at 508-341-7677 or via email at bob_thomps@hotmail.com.

From the Pastor:

It's a nice time of the year in this area of our country. The weather begins to cool, just enough to wear a sweat-shirt before the heavy coat comes out of the closet. The colors begin to change in the trees, passing from green to red, orange, yellow, while maintaining a touch of green. Football has arrived, officially. Although some folks have not much regard for watching one guy tackle another, be it high school, college, or professional, many of us enjoy this fast-moving sport that comes with yelling at the television and upending a bag of Doritos on your lap. If your lucky, the dip won't end up in the same place. I'm somewhat of a holdout when it comes to the football scene though. I have a friend I say to every year after he asks when I'm coming by to watch the Patriots on a Sunday afternoon, "I'll see you in November when baseball season is over." He just says "C'mon. for real?" "Yup, for real." No apologies for loving baseball more than any other sport. Even if the Red Sox are not in the playoff picture, I still enjoy watching the Major League playoffs to see who the new heroes will be in 2021. Every year produces new heroes in this greatest of sports. Although Fr. Enoch may have an issue with me calling baseball the greatest of sports with the passion he has for "football," better known as soccer around these parts.

There's so much to love about being alive at this time of the year in New England. The weather, nature, sports playoffs, new sports beginning their season, putting on a colorful hooded sweatshirt, cooler nights that signal "get the fireplace ready," and much more. Minus all the politics that around these parts that cause more problems than they solve, New England is a wonderful place to enjoy the changing of the seasons. There's plenty of people around, if that's what you want. There are also many spaces and places to get away from people besides your basement if you want. There are parks galore, no shortage of mountains with trails. There's St. Luke's Cemetery with a large hayfield where you can go lie down at the end of the day (watch out for the ticks) and take in dusk turning into evening twilight. Just don't sleep there, although the residents won't bother you. We're incredibly blessed to be near the ocean in New England. A short trip north or south, traveling slightly east, will get us there. And there are countless beaches from Maine to Connecticut to make the ocean dream come true. This doesn't even include the many lakes throughout these parts which bring to a person the same level of relaxation and peace we can come to know at the ocean. I'm sure Nebraska and Kansas are nice places in their own right. But, I feel blessed that my place of growth was not in the middle of the country where some folks never see an ocean until they retire. There's nothing like what the Irish band The Saw Doctors sang about the coast, it's "Where the water kisses the sand." So true.

Where did this all come from? Where did all these places get their beauty and formation from? Where and how did such places grow into the incredible, majestic places they've become. Well, we all know the answer to these questions. They've all been forming, shaping, and growing from the moment God said, "Let there be light." They are all signs of what St. James calls in this week's second reading, "The wisdom from above." We can form and shape certain areas, like creating public parks in a town or city. Or building a large tower/skyscraper that is impressive to look at from a distance, or directly below it looking up. Human ingenuity shows itself in such projects. For myself, near the top of my list is a well-maintained golf course. Where the grass is cut to precision, most every blade is in place, and where the golf ball is not hard to find if it's hit offline just a little ways. For the most part, I'm not allowed on such golf courses because 99% of the time they are private. I'd have to sneak on at night and play with a flashlight, which makes it difficult to swing a golf club.

The wisdom from above. St. James follows up these scriptural words with these other words; pure, peaceable, gentle, compliant, full of mercy and good fruits, without inconstancy or insincerity. It sounds like St. James is searching for a place of perfect repose. Or, at least as much as we can know in this world. We do know, I pray, that perfect repose is not possible in this fast-moving life. But there are places and hideouts, if you will, where our vehicles and feet can carry us so that we may gather up some of the world's gentleness and good fruit. There's lots of possibilities around these parts where they can be had, at least to some degree. Even a quick Sunday afternoon, spending a few hours in a place that relaxes our souls, bodies, and minds is a useful benefit to embracing the wisdom from above.

I remember two dear friends from my home Parish of St. Bernard's in Worcester, John and Betty Dunn, husband and wife, who knew how to spend an afternoon of soul renewal. John used to be the main usher for the three Masses each Sunday morning. Whereas other ushers would be present for one or two Masses, John would stay for all of them helping to collect the money at Offertory. He would then bring the bag of goods over to the rectory for lockup. John and Betty loved Hampton Beach. I guess they never got over being teenagers. Anyway, on some summer Sundays when the weather was picture perfect, John wanted to escape the last Mass and get an "early" start to Hampton for the rest of the day. Of course, by the time they left Worcester, the traffic heading to Happy Hampton was much less congested for them than for those who left at 7:00 am. I remember thinking, "That's a long way to drive for a few hours of presence at the ocean." But those few hours for John and Betty Dunn meant the world to them. John would ask me on those days if I would take charge of the collection with another guy, Ed Early, so he and Betty could scoot north to the beach of their place of relaxation, to their wisdom from above. Ed and I were always happy to assist in the matter so happy Hampton could welcome two folks who really enjoyed its geographical beauty. They taught me how to take in just a few hours of nature's goodness and allow it to touch the human soul for the better. A good lesson was learned.

I have another friend – believe it or not – who is still at this time in the somewhat upper reaches of Maine (about halfway up, approximately 325 miles from here) that began as a summer vacation in June.
