INTERNATIONAL AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

UCF Global is seeking Ambassadors for our Orientation team. The Student Ambassadors Program is seeking UCF students to gain valuable experience in internationalizing our university and assisting new international student in becoming familiar with our campus and culture. The program will consists of a volunteer group of outstanding student leaders who are available to assist the UCF GLOBAL team with events and orientations for prospect and new international students.

UCF Global Student Ambassadors provide guidance to new international students and help make their transition and experience at the University as comfortable as possible. Ambassadors participate in a variety of tasks which foster a sense of support and encouragement to newly arrived international students who will enroll in either ELI (English Language Institute,) or a degree program.

If you would like to become a Student Ambassador, you will be considered a volunteer. In return for your volunteer service, you will be able to use the program Advisor as a professional reference and the program advisor will provide you with a letter of recommendation.

Examples of Student Ambassador Tasks

- Leading campus/community tours
- Helping out with activities and events
- Participating in new student orientations
- Greeting/picking-up new arrivals at the airport
- Helping new students settle into housing and familiarizing them with local amenities
- Other duties as assigned

Student Ambassadors Requirements

1. Must demonstrate interest in intercultural issues
2. Must be comfortable communicating with students with limited English language skills
3. Must be available to attend a program training before orientation
4. Must volunteer at least 40 hours of service per semester
5. Must assist with at least 2 activities or events per semester and All orientations
