VEGAN EATING PLAN

21 DAY FIX® VEGAN EATING PLAN

The 21 Day Fix Vegan Eating Plan removes all animal products from the food lists—and we’ve made some big changes to the red and yellow containers. Red containers are still home to complete proteins, but now they also house beans and other legumes. Yellow has been split into two groups. Yellow A contains whole grains. Yellow B contains tubers and more processed grains (pastas and breads).

Animal products are considered complete proteins, since they contain acceptable levels of all nine of the amino acids essential to humans, as do a few plant-based sources, including soy, hemp, and quinoa. Vegans can rely on these sources, but they also need to think strategically when looking for complete proteins, mainly by eating a combination of legumes (Red container) and grains (Yellow A container).

Keep in mind that you don’t need to eat what’s in the two containers at the same time. Oatmeal for breakfast and chickpeas on your salad at lunch will have the same nutritional impact as having them together.

A few additional notes:

- Foods marked with an asterisk (*) are complete proteins. It’s always a good idea to lean toward those, but not at the risk of eliminating variety.
- The 21 Day Fix Vegan Eating Plan is slightly lower in protein and higher in carbs than the regular 21 Day Fix Eating Plan, but that’s okay. It’s equally as healthy and the extra fiber will still give you a weight-loss advantage.
- As healthy as they can be, vegan diets can be low in vitamins B12 and D, so it’s important to take a quality multivitamin such as ActiVit®.
- Ideally, it’s preferable to get most or all of your yellow portions from Yellow A. Yellow B is there because people generally love bread, so we didn’t want to completely deprive you. Just remember that if you skip a Yellow B, make up for it by eating a Yellow A.

REPLACEMENT FOOD CONTAINER GROUPS

Three times a week, you can replace one of your Yellow B Container portions with a tasty beverage from the list below. To do this, fill the provided Shakeology shaker cup (as opposed to the Yellow Container) to the fl. oz. mark indicated below for that beverage, but remember to check off a Yellow B container portion on your Tally Sheet.

BEVERAGES

- Soy milk,
unsweetened, 8 fl. oz.
sweetened, 6 fl. oz.
- Almond milk,
unsweetened, 16 fl. oz.
sweetened, 8 fl. oz.
- Coconut water, 16 fl. oz.
- Coconut milk beverage (from a carton, not canned!),
unsweetened, 12 fl. oz.
sweetened, 8 fl. oz.
- Fresh fruit juices, 8 fl. oz.
- Rice milk, original or vanilla, 6 fl. oz.
- Wine, 4 fl. oz.

TREATS

In addition to your tasty beverages, three times a week, you can replace a Yellow B Container with a treat. You won't necessarily use the Yellow Container for your treat. Instead, use the container matching the color of the square next to the treat of your choice, but remember to check off a Yellow B container portion on your Tally Sheet.
