Local highlights

Take a trip to Huddersfield with high street and independent shops nestled in and amongst its listed buildings and explore local villages offering speciality shops, markets and delicious food and drink.

Honley

NEW

Home to cobbled streets, quaint shops and some fabulous restaurants. Uno Cucina Italiana is a relaxed, family friendly Italian restaurant. Enjoy home made ice cream at Gallery Café Bar and tea and cake at Cafe Loom. Choose Mustard and Punch for the best in local and seasonal produce, or Punch Bar & Tapas for family friendly Spanish Tapas. It's a lovely walk to local beauty spot Magdale dam.

Denby Dale

The pretty town of Denby Dale was named 'Pie Village' after the huge pies made to celebrate special events. You'll know you're in the right place when you spot the striking stone-built viaduct which spans the Dearne Valley. Kids will love Yummy Yorkshire Icecream bar and the Kirklees Light Railway, both nearby. Follow the many heritage trails that criss-cross the area.

Marsden

Quirky village surrounded by National Trust's Marsden Moor. Packed with independent shops selling handmade goods and local produce. Enjoy artisan ice-cream (and other homemade food) at A Month of Sundaes, real ale at The Riverhead Brewery Tap, or British fayre with a modern twist at The New Inn.

adventure

Head for the hills!

The South Pennines

Spectacular, inspiring and dramatic – that’s how locals describe this wild and wonderful landscape of steep-sided valleys, heather-covered moorland, canals, reservoirs and packhorse trails. Visit: www.southpennines.co.uk

Peak District National Park

OK, so maybe The Dark Peak doesn’t sound like the most welcoming of places, but we promise it’s well worth the visit. The village of Holme has unsurpassed views, and the Fleece Inn serves delicious home produce around crackling log-fires. There are reports of ghost planes and a magical vista around West Nab on the remote Meltham Moor – can you find the remains of the US B-17 ‘Flying Fortress’ which crashed in 1945?

Summerwine Walks

Book a Summer Wine Walking Holiday or landscape photography workshop with local expert Andy Leader. Explore lesser known routes around the Peak District National Park, leading to spectacular views of the Holme Valley, and the perfect shot of your own.

National Trust Marsden Moor

A landscape steeped in history, from prehistoric man to historic trans-Pennine transport routes. The National Trust Marsden Moor Information Room brings the Moor to life for you. Experienced hang-gliders and paragliders can get a birds-eye view of the estate from Buckstones – this rocky outcrop is a natural airsports and rock climbing magnet.

Dewsbury Country Park

Enjoy the thrill of mountain biking whatever your ability on the Mountain Trike Ramble, take part in den building, or build a scrap wood sculpture. There are 1,000 metres of footpath, including an accessible route for wheelchairs and prams.

From the northern fringes of the Peak District National Park, to Yorkshire’s South Pennines, you’ll find an eclectic mix of steep-sided valleys and rolling green fields.

Favourite routes

Transpennine Trail

For walkers and cyclists, the Kirkburton to Penistone section of the Trans Pennine Trail is a popular route.

Pennine Cycleway

Not for the faint hearted, National Cycle Route 68 winds through the Holme and Colne Valleys before continuing North.

Stanza Stones Trail

The walking trail between Marsden and Ilkley links seven stones carved with poems written by internationally renowned poet and Marsden local, Simon Armitage CBE.

Spenn Valley Greenway

7 miles of flat, traffic free pedalling, passing a selection of sculptures including metal sheep, giant hoops and Tour de France themed mileposts.

Kirkburton Parish Walks

This quirky series of heritage walks takes you on a journey of exploration around the East Peak.

Find more walking and cycling routes online at www.visithuddersfield.com

Water, water, everywhere

Reservoirs

The area is awash with reservoirs, most sitting in their own lush beautiful valleys and wildlife havens. Perfect for circular, long and short walks, some like Blackmoorfoot can cater for pushchairs and wheelchairs too. Yorkshire Water manages the sites; its website gives routes for reservoir walks and fishing opportunities www.yorkshirewater.com/thingstodo

Canals

Lovingly restored canals that once brought the riches of the Industrial Revolution, are now great walking, cycling, leisure boating and fishing playgrounds. The Huddersfield Narrow Canal travels from Huddersfield to Standedge Visitor Centre in Marsden. Savile Town Wharf and Shepley Bridge Marina are beautiful locations on the Calder and Hebble Navigation.

The iconic Holme Moss

Follow the Yorkshire Grand Départ, Tour de France route 2014... it's steep, exposed, and brilliant! Refuel in Holmfirth at En Route, Beatties or Longleys before continuing on your journey.

Rugby League was born here!

In 1895, at The George Hotel in Huddersfield, 21 Lancashire and Yorkshire Clubs voted to set up their own Northern Rugby Football Union – the Rugby League; watch the impressive Huddersfield Giants play regular fixtures at the John Smith's Stadium – also home to Huddersfield Town Football Club.

Framing the Landscape

Watercolour artist Ashley Jackson has created an enduring, ever-changing outside art exhibition. Permanent free standing over sized metal picture frames stand in five beautiful locations across Yorkshire for all to embrace their creativity. www.framingthelandscape.co.uk
