Absurdities Vocabulary Builders

Introduction

As a school-based clinician I have needed to be efficient and prudent in what therapy resources I use. What have worked best are activities that are simple to use, language rich, and can be completed in a 30-minute session.

The Vocabulary building absurdities program was born out of my clinical experience. Separate language systems, such as semantics, pragmatics, and morphology work best when integrated together as a whole.

By targeting one language difficulty you often indirectly target multiple language systems. The program is at core a vocabulary builder, but targets other language skills such as listening to instructions. It also promotes inference and thinking skills.

The scenarios featured in the game are absurdities. That is, they are impossibilities or oddities that do not exist in the real world.

Your students' task is to first identify the impossibility and then provide an alternative answer. Each separate scenario comes complete with several questions. The questions are designed to further explore your students' understanding of the individual scenarios, and prompt comprehension.

Absurdities Scenarios

- Transport: 20 scenarios related to different forms of transport
- Animals: 20 scenarios concerning the animal kingdom
- Food: 20 scenarios about food and eating habits
- Tools: 20 scenarios devoted to tools
- Hygiene: 20 scenarios related to hygiene and cleanin

Good Questioning Techniques

Avoid yes/no questions, as they only require a simple response. The best questions are what/why questions. What/why questions tend to be open-ended. That is, the student is compelled to provide a detailed response with more information.

Choice and contrast questions are an excellent way of giving the student choices to think about.

Question to the student's response. After you have asked a question and received a response use the student's response to probe for more information. This does require a bit of practice but can produce good results.

Good Questioning Technique - Example

This is a real life example, and demonstrates the questioning technique as used with an eight-year-old child.

Clinician: Reads from sheet 'I put the blue ink on my hairbrush and began to brush my teeth.'

Question from scenario: 'What's silly about this sentence?'
(Open-ended Question)

Student: 'You use toothpaste to brush your teeth.'

Clinician: 'That's right. Great answer. Also, listen to this, ...I put my blue ink on my hairbrush. Would we use a hairbrush to brush our teeth, or something else?'
(Open-ended Question)

Student: Child is silent and not sure what to say

Clinician: 'Do we use a toothbrush or hairbrush to brush our teeth?' (Choice and Contrast)

Student: 'You use a toothbrush to brush your teeth.'

Clinician: Question on card: 'What would happen if we used blue ink to brush our teeth?' (Open-ended question)

Student: 'Don't know.'

Clinician: Well, would our teeth turn blue, or would they stay white?' (Choice and Contrast Question)

Student: 'They would be blue and all yucky.'

Clinician: "Yeah they would wouldn't they?' 'What else is yucky and could make our teeth blue?' (Open-Ended Question and Question to Student's Response)

Student: 'Blue paint'
