INTRODUCTION TO WALTER SISULU UNIVERSITY

Walter Sisulu University (WSU) was established on 1 July, 2005 through a merger of the former Border Technikon, Eastern Cape Technikon and the University of Transkei. WSU is a comprehensive university established in terms of the Higher Education Act no 101 of 1997, as amended.

WSU has positioned itself as a gateway institution which focuses on improving access to higher education. As a developmental, comprehensive university WSU offers students a wealth of academic choices, articulation and mobility across the qualification spectrum ranging from certificates to diplomas, degrees and postgraduate studies. Strategically located within the Eastern Cape Province, WSU has a footprint of about 1,000 square kilometers across the urban and rural areas of the region. This provides the University with the platform to engage with the drivers of development so that an appropriate programme and research mix can be formulated to meet the needs of the region, province and the country.

WSU focuses on quality academic, technological and career-orientated programmes that provide relevant skills for development in both rural and urban areas and it places special emphasis on entrepreneurship.

WSU operates under a divisional governance and management system and has four campuses, each headed by a Campus Rector. The four campuses with multiple delivery sites are spread across Mthatha, Butterworth, Buffalo City and Queenstown.

Delivery Sites at these campuses are as follows:

- Mthatha: Nelson Mandela Drive Site, Zamukulungisa Heights Site, Nkululekweni Site
- Butterworth: Ibika Site
- Buffalo City: Cambridge Street Site, Buffalo City Stadium Site, Heritage Building Site, College Street Site, Chiselhurst Site, Potsdam Site
- Queenstown: Whittlesea Site and Grey Street Site

WSU has a student population of around 31,000 and a staff component of approximately 2,000.

WALTER MAX ULYATE SISULU 1912 – 2003

Walter Sisulu University was named to honour the late Walter Sisulu, a much-admired leader of the struggle for democracy in South Africa.

Walter Max Ulyate Sisulu was born in the village of Quthubeni at Engcobo in the Transkei region of the Eastern Cape on 18 May 1912 – coincidentally the same year as the ANC was founded.

Sisulu joined the ANC in 1940 and it was through him that both Nelson Mandela and Oliver Tambo were brought into the organisation. In 1944 he formed the ANC Youth League.

In 1944 Sisulu married Albertina Nontsikelelo Mnyila and the marriage produced five children. In the 1950s he was one of the leading figures in the Defiance Campaign.

Between 1956 and 1961 Sisulu was constantly in court defending himself against a string of treason charges. Sisulu was one of the founders of Umkhonto Wesizwe, the ANC armed wing after major liberation organisations such as the PAC and the ANC were banned in 1960. Sisulu, together with Mandela and other senior leaders of the ANC, was caught and tried in the Rivonia Treason Trial. In 1964 they were sentenced to life imprisonment, most of which was spent on Robben Island.

Sisulu was released on 15th October 1989, after almost three decades in jail. He then served the ANC as its Deputy President. Sisulu passed away on 5 May 2003 just before his 91st birthday.

Sisulu commanded respect from friends and rivals because of the dignified manner with which he carried himself and the values he embraced. He remains a towering giant of the South African struggle for justice for humanity. His humility, selfishness and ability to identify and promote leaders were some of his distinctive traits.

It is an honour for WSU to be carrying the name of such a notable figure in human history. He is an embodiment of the values of selflessness, courage, humility, Ubuntu and compassion to which this University aspires.

Three of his core values are used on WSU's academic crest:

- Excellence
- Wisdom
- Integrity

In 2007, WSU awarded a posthumous honorary doctorate to the late Walter Sisulu. His late wife, Albertina, also received an honorary doctorate from the former University of Transkei in 1992.

THE CHANCELLOR

On 24th April 2015, Council appointed a new University Chancellor in the person of Honourable Ambassador Sheila M. Sisulu.

Chancellor Sisulu's life has been shaped by her commitment to social justice and equity advocate.

With an understanding of the impact that history has on individuals and society, she has a tenacity that has enabled her to persuade others of fresh perspectives on difficult issues for the marginalised, especially women and youth that she strongly believes in and is passionate about the power of people to change their world.

In 1975, she cut short her professional career as a teacher in the mainstream education system of South Africa to dedicate ten years of her professional career and skills to the anti-apartheid movement focusing, especially on the fight to end the apartheid education system, through advocacy and community organisation and forming coalitions and partnerships to engage the regime.

In 1978 she joined the South African Committee on Higher Education (SACHED) holding various leadership positions including head and director of Turret College, a programme designed to provide young men and women targeted and persecuted by the regime, with opportunities to receive alternative, progressive and quality educational qualifications.

From 1988, and for a further six years, she served on the Senior Executive Leadership Team of the South African Council of Churches (SACC), first as Education Coordinator leading the effort to persuade church leaders to engage and participate in the efforts of progressive civil society organisations in order to influence new strategies and tactics to end the apartheid education system.

In 1994 she was invited to serve in the new government under the leadership of President Nelson Mandela as a Ministerial Advisor to the National Minister of Education.

She focused on the process to formulate new policies on Gender and Education, Early Childhood Education and Care, within the context of a broader process focusing on women-headed households and the development of the school meals programme as part of President Mandela's priority and flagship programmes.

In 1997 Sisulu was appointed by President Nelson Mandela first to serve as South Africa's Consul General in New York and then in 1999 as South Africa's first woman Ambassador to the United States of America in Washington DC.

In early 2003 she joined the World Food Programme in Rome as Deputy Executive Director and remains in that position to date.

From 2007 to 2013 Ambassador Sisulu was the Deputy Executive Director for Hunger Solutions. In this regard, she was responsible for repositioning WFP in its role as a food assistance programme supporting country-led national food and nutrition security strategies for long-term hunger solutions, using innovative tools and sustainable approaches aimed at breaking the cycle of poverty, especially among smallholder poor farmers, the majority of whom in most countries, are women.

In 2013 February she retired from the UN World Food Programme, after which, from September 2013 to 2014 March she served as the Special Envoy in the Ministry of Agriculture.

Since January 2013 until now, Ambassador Sisulu has been a member of the Yara Selection Committee for Agriculture Prize in Africa. Since that date, she's also held a position as an executive board member of the African Government Institute.

In March 2014, she became part of the Forum for Agriculture Research in Africa, serving on the High Level Panel for Advocacy.

SECTION FIVE

RULES AND REGULATIONS REGARDING FEES

1. METHODS OF PAYMENT

1.1 Cash Payments

The University no longer accepts any cash payments at the cashier's windows (for security reasons). Students are, therefore, requested not to attempt to make cash payments.

1.2 Bank Deposits and Electronic Funds Transfer

Fees should be paid directly into the University bank account either by cash deposit or electronic funds transfer (EFT). Please note that no cash should be paid to any University official. The University will not be held liable for any loss as a result of cash paid to University officials in contravention of this notice.

From the 2020 financial year, the University will no longer accept proof of payments (bank deposit slips and ATM deposit slips) to provide financial clearance as these have been fraudulently used in prior years. The University has made arrangements for direct deposits to the University's FNB account as well as EFTs from FNB to reflect on student accounts within 15 minutes of a deposit. However, EFTs from banks other than FNB may take up to 2 business days to clear to the University's bank account. Students are, therefore, requested to make payments at least two days prior to registration to avoid delays.

Students are requested to use the correct reference, i.e. their student number, when making a deposit or an EFT. Failure to use the correct reference number will mean that the University will not be able to allocate funds deposited into a student's account and which means financial clearance will not be provided. This may cause delays in registration.

Payments by foreign students must be made in Rand and deposited into the University Bank Account. Provision should be made for bank costs – get guidance from enquiries.

1.3 Cheque Payments

Cheques are no longer accepted as a payment method.

1.4 Credit Cards

Credit card payments (Visa or Master Card) can be done at the cashier's window. However, please check the credit card expiry date and produce valid identification when making payment.

1.5 Postal Orders and Telegraphic Postal Orders

This method of payment is no accepted as a method of payment.

1.6 Letters of Authority and Bursaries

A letter of authority applies to cases where fees are paid by a sponsor. A sponsor is any person granting a loan or bursary to a student. In the event of a sponsor not paying, the student will be held liable for fees and any other penalties that may arise (because the contract, after all, is between the University and the student). The University does not involve itself in disputes between sponsor and beneficiary.

The following shall apply to letters of authority:

- The University will only accept letters of authority from approved sponsors.
- Letters of authority for loans and bursaries should be original documents (photocopies or faxes are not acceptable), signed by an authorised signatory.
- The letter of authority should be sent directly to the university. The University will not accept the letter of authority from students.
- Mere proof of application for a loan or bursary is NOT acceptable, nor sufficient for the purposes of registration.
- Whenever possible, these letters from employers/bursars should include an indication of what is covered by the funds, e.g. tuition, residences, books, meals, international students levy, etc.

Students should note that where funders have not honoured prior year commitments to the University, the University will not allow students to register in the new year until the prior year obligations have been settled.

2. FINANCIAL CLEARANCE AND ONLINE REGISTRATION

Students who have confirmed funding from NSFAS or other funders will be financially cleared to register on the online registration system without the need to go to FAB (Financial Aid Bureau) for financial clearance. All students that are funded are therefore encouraged to complete registration online.

Students that qualify for financial aid should apply to NSFAS for funding by the deadline that will be communicated by NSFAS. Students that do not have confirmed funding from NSFAS will be treated as self-funded students and will be expected to pay MIP (Minimum Initial Payment).

3. APPLICATION FEE

SECTION SIX

ACADEMIC DRESS AND REGALIA

The antique silver, embossed Academic Seal depicting the face of Walter Sisulu, after whom the University was named, has been adopted exclusively for academic purposes such as Graduation. It appears on the degrees and diplomas awarded to graduates of WSU and is incorporated into the Academic Dress and Regalia used at Graduation.

A graduand shall not be allowed to wear a hood of a qualification that is not being awarded to him/her in the graduation ceremony.

All graduands must settle their outstanding fees before graduation in order to receive certificates during graduation.

The seal carries three words which depict three significant values which were embraced by Walter Sisulu and which consequently, underpin the values embraced by WSU:

- Excellence
- Wisdom
- Integrity

The seal also features on some of the Academic Regalia used at Graduation. A range of different gowns with symbolic meaning is worn by the academics and dignitaries who attend graduation and all graduands wear WSU academic dress on being capped by the Chancellor. The WSU corporate colours of black, white and silver form the foundation for academic regalia whilst the twelve faculties can be identified by their own specific colours.

Birch's is the only approved and authorised supplier of WSU Academic Regalia. A single supplier is selected to ensure consistency in quality and the correct application of the WSU brand.

DIRECTORATE OF RESEARCH DEVELOPMENT AND INNOVATION

DIVISION OF ACADEMIC AFFAIRS AND RESEARCH

In pursuit of the WSU vision, the Directorate of Research Development and Innovation:

- Empowers staff and students to carry out basic, applied and innovation-oriented research.
- Encourages research and innovation activities that are focused on social upliftment and development of the communities that WSU serves - locally, nationally and internationally.
- Promotes research programmes and niches as well as knowledge production activities that enjoy a high level of community involvement and validation.
- Facilitates and promotes responsible and ethically grounded research.

GOAL

Walter Sisulu University serves the people of the Eastern Cape Province and leverages its deep rural, peri-urban and urban presence to deliver research outcomes that are responsive to development challenges in the region, while constantly improving its national and international standing as an innovation-oriented, research-intensive and research-driven university.

STRATEGIC APPROACH

The Directorate aims to create an enabling environment for staff and students to conduct research that responds to, as well as drives, societal change. The Directorate's approach, which focuses on research quality and not just quantity, centres around:

- Increasing the pool of highly qualified researchers through recruitment and training.
- Appropriate infrastructure provisioning (research laboratories, research equipment, and sustainable flow of research supplies), including refurbishment of existing infrastructure.
- Establishment and equipping of research centres of excellence.
- Nurturing of research niches, building on, especially, the university's existing strengths and the socio-cultural, economic and ecological endowments of its rural, peri-urban and urban locations.
- Building research collaborations locally, nationally and internationally.
- Attracting funding from government as well as national and international agencies for research and research training.
- Increase research outputs in terms of both accredited publications and graduate output.
- Enhance WSU staff and students' participation in international, regional and national conferences, seminars and workshops.
- Attracting income through contract research.
- Developing and maintaining cutting-edge intellectual property management systems to support research that results in impact-making innovations and inventions.

It became fully functional at WSU in 2018 with the appointment of a Technology Transfer Officer and an Intellectual Property Scout. A Technology Transfer Manager was also appointed in 2018, but only assumed duty in March 2019. The OTT is Research Development and Innovation Directorate's main vehicle for developing and maintaining cutting-edge intellectual property management systems across the university to support research that results in impact-making innovations and inventions. It works in close collaboration with the other service units of the Directorate, namely, Postgraduate Studies and Research Administration.

RISK AND VULNERABILITY SCIENCE CENTRE (RVSC)

The Risk and Vulnerability Science Centre is an initiative of the Department of Science and Technology (DST) and National Research Foundation (NRF) with primary focus on knowledge management through bridging the gap between researchers, business communities, municipalities and policy-makers. RVSC envisages resilient communities where scientific knowledge and research-based decision support tools are applied to efficiently and effectively manage the risks of, and vulnerability to, environmental adversities.

The Risk and Vulnerability Science Centres (RVSCs) are designed to empower rural-based universities to contribute to effective production and the application of Global Change Knowledge, as well as to the development of capacity for Global Change Research.

RVSC is multidisciplinary in nature and aims to achieve the following objectives:

- Human Capital Development (HCD) of postgraduate students to acquire masters and doctoral degrees;
- Knowledge generation through publications in line with Global Change Grand Challenge research themes;
- Knowledge dissemination to municipalities and policy decision-makers; and

- Contribute to the South African Risk and Vulnerability Atlas (SARVA) with the generated information.

The National Pollution Laboratory is a product of the Memorandum of Understanding between Walter Sisulu University (WSU) and Department of Environmental Affairs (DEA). It is one of the Operation Phakisa projects. WSU hosts and manages the Oceans and Coasts National Pollution Monitoring Laboratory that will collect, analyse water quality, sediment and biota samples along the South African coastal waters. The laboratory is working towards accreditation under the South African Accreditation System(SANAS).

The laboratory is expected:

- To provide baseline water quality information that will support the long-term assessment of accumulative impacts associated with ocean economy initiatives. Areas of interest include marine aquaculture facilities/nodes and embayments.
- To provide baseline information on water quality of the natural receiving environment (ecosystem functioning) near land-based sources of pollution.
- To support recreational coastal water quality monitoring at local government municipalities.
- To build capacity in the field of marine water quality, sediment and mussels samples analysis.

SECTION FOURTEEN

CORPORATE IDENTITY AND COMMUNICATIONS

CORPORATE IDENTITY

The Walter Sisulu University (WSU) corporate identity consists of the logo, strapline and crest/seal of the University. The corporate identity is the registered, legal trademark of the University. The custodian of the corporate identity is the Council and the use of the corporate identity and all its applications is managed by the Department of Marketing, Communication and Advancement (MCA), in consultation with the Council.

Staff and students may only utilise the official corporate identity logo and all its applications as approved by Council and in strict accordance with the Corporate Identity Manual which is available from MCA or the WSU intranet. No staff, student, staff organisation or student organisation may reproduce the corporate identity on invitations, programmes, posters, publications, stationery, clothing or signage without adhering strictly to the guidelines of the official Corporate Identity Manual and approval from MCA.

MEDIA RELATIONS

WSU is a major public institution and as a consequence it attracts considerable interest from local and national media. Media attention has the potential to enhance, as well as detract from, the overall reputation of the University. It is important, therefore, to manage the University's engagement with the media positively, constructively and professionally.

The overall responsibility for the University's Media Relations rests with MCA. The official spokesperson for WSU is the Council who may delegate this responsibility to the Senior Director: MCA. WSU recognises that staff may occasionally interact with the media as private individuals or as an academic or professional expert. The University affirms the right of staff to interact freely with the media as private individuals. When staff members discuss with the media, or write about matters outside their areas of work, they must make it clear that they are speaking as private individuals and not as staff members. The use of University position titles, letterhead or postal addresses is prohibited in this context.

Academic staff members are encouraged to respond to media enquiries related to their areas of academic expertise and inform MCA when they have had contact with the media so that the resulting media coverage can be monitored.

Staff are encouraged to consult the MCA Office for advice or assistance in dealing with media enquiries. Some media enquiries about an academic matter might also relate more broadly to the University (for example, a request for an accounting professor to comment on the University's accounting policies). In such cases, or where the staff member has any doubt about whether he or she may answer the enquiry, the matter must be referred to the Senior Director: MCA.

Staff who answer a media enquiry as an academic expert must make it clear that their opinions are based on their expert knowledge and research. Where the subject is likely to be contentious, they must make it clear in their response to the media that their opinion does not represent the considered position of the University.

Staff must provide the media with their academic titles (e.g., Professor or Dr) when they are commenting as academic experts. Position titles (e.g. dean or deputy vice-chancellor) are not appropriate in this context, as such titles may convey the impression that the person is representing the considered position of the Walter Sisulu University.

Social media has far-reaching impact ,therefore, staff, students and convocants must take care when referring to WSU and its people on social media platforms. It is the responsibility of the University to allow freedom of expression, academic freedom and the right of association. However, users are expected to exercise these rights in a responsible manner so as not to injure another party in anyway.

Users are expected to be mindful of the fact that any activity on public platforms has an impact on the image of the University and individuals, and users should at all times refrain from any activity that can tarnish this image. It should also be noted that certain conduct may be regarded as misconduct in terms of the provisions of the relevant Disciplinary Code and Procedure of the University, and that it may also constitute a criminal offence, in which case offenders may be prosecuted by the authorities. The guidelines and rules and regulations governing users' conduct during normal interaction in the University's Code of Conduct also apply to users' conduct online.

The WSU Media Relations and Social Media policies on the intranet should be studied.

UNIVERSITY PUBLICATIONS

Any publication produced in the name of the University should be guided by the Publications Section of the WSU Corporate Identity Manual.

INVITATIONS AND EVENT PROGRAMMES

There is a standard procedure to ensure correct application of the WSU brand and consistency of quality. Please contact the Graphic Designer in MCA for guidance.

NOTICE BOARDS AND ADVERTISEMENTS

Posters, notices, flyers, etc, may only be attached or applied to official notice boards. The University notice boards may not be used to display material that compromises the brand of the University or material that can be construed as insensitive to the constitutional rights of members of the University. Any external group, organisation, business or individual wishing to advertise on-campus must obtain written permission from the Senior Director: Marketing, Communication & Advancement or the Campus Rector.

Use of the name 'WSU' or logotype on any product (directly or indirectly) in any advertisement must be approved in advance by the Senior Director: Marketing, Communication & Advancement.
