A Message from the President

Bill Moss

Congratulations are in order to The William S. Baer School and Linwood Center for being selected as the two charities that will receive the proceeds of the Paint & Powder Club's 2014 fundraising efforts. I would like to thank the Charity Selection Committee for, once again, doing an outstanding job in their deliberations.

We experienced several challenges this year that affected the Committee's proceedings. First, there was a delay in determining the dates and venue for this year's show. Second, we had so few charities from which to choose, we found it necessary to extend the deadline for submission to the Committee. The Committee was then faced with postponing its deliberations causing it not to be ready to deliver its recommendation to the Board of Governors at the November 11th Board meeting. Rather than rush to judgment, the Committee members made a unilateral decision to delay their recommendation. On November 19th, the Committee made their formal recommendation to the Board of Governors and, on November 23rd, the Board approved the recommendation.

My thanks goes to the Committee members that included Marge Pearce, Bernie Cook, Judy Kahl, Geri Schlenoff, Ted Gregory, Frank Fiske, John Hergenroeder, Carolyn Manning and, most importantly, Ken Groner. Ken, who has served as Committee Chair for many years, has been the glue that has kept the Committee focused. He sets the dates, organizes and facilitates the meetings, collects applications, copies all the documents and distributes them to the Committee members. He leads the review discussions, calls for a vote, tabulates the votes and submits the Committee recommendation to the Board. THANK YOU KEN FOR A JOB WELL DONE!

Many of the us agree that, because charity selection is so vitally important to the Club, it is now time to review operational procedures so that our process is fair and efficient and indeed advances our mission. Over the next year, Frank, along with Judy, will take the lead on developing a plan to move forward with this process. If you have ideas on the subject, please share them with Frank and Judy.

The Fall Outing was a tremendous success. The venue was Oregon Ridge, the Bull & Oyster roast was catered by Monaghan's, always a crowd pleaser, and the entertainment was provided by The Big Bopper, who treated us with songs from the 50's and 60's. All in all, a beautiful day with a large and satisfied crowd. My thanks goes to Eileen who organized the outing and to all of you who supported it.

Your humble editor thanks you for your comments and contributions to the newsletter.

Remembering The Downtown String Band

By Harry Silverwood

I think it's about time to delete the reference to the "Downtown String Band" in the Committees list under Entertainment. Years ago Mickey Webster (with ukulele), Willkie Wilkerson and I (with guitar) formed a group that performed in four or five shows. It was named the "Downtown String Band" as a tribute to the famous P & P Dixieland band known as the "Uptown String Band" led for many, many years by Robbie Maslin's father, Bob. This group also played for the senior residents at Pickersgill and Keswick under the name of "The Senior Moments". We were joined by Robby Maslin on guitar for a few years and later by Sam Cook on harmonica. After a while we no longer performed in shows as a "group", although Mickey and Sam performed in shows right up until the end and I have now returned to my former place in the back row of the Men's Chorus. Like the Uptown String Band, the Downtown String Band now exists only in memory.

FEATURING...

Eileen and Jerry were featured in the Jewish Times as they celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary.

ALTHOUGH THEIR MEMORIES of their early days together remain cloudy, Eileen (nee Jaslow) and Jerry Chiat do remember what mattered.

"Her eyes were what drew me to her," says Jerry, 67. "Her eyes were her soul. She still has those eyes."

Jerry remembers her cute dimples as well, as he recalls their first date at an Italian restaurant on Liberty Road in Randallstown in the spring of 1967.

The details also remain sketchy to Eileen, 65, but she does note Jerry's sense of humor. She also recalls a Saturday night in early April 1968 when her father refused to allow Jerry to leave after bringing her home. He insisted Jerry spend the night to avoid the riots that were the result of Martin Luther King, Jr.'s assassination and that were occurring not far from Jerry's home in East Baltimore.

The couple became engaged soon after. Jerry asked Eileen a hypothetical question centering around "supposing we got married," and Eileen answered, "I suppose so." Then he asked her for real.

They were married on Nov. 3, 1968 at Beth Israel Congregation with Rabbi Seymour Essrog officiating. About 100 guests witnessed the Conservative ceremony, which featured Jerry dramatically dipping Eileen and planting a kiss on his bride.

They honeymooned in New York City for three days before returning home to attend another wedding. They settled in the West Glen Apartments in Woodlawn and bought their first house in Lochearn in 1972. They moved to Owings Mills in 1994.

Jerry spent much of his career in the credit and housing rental fields, and Eileen worked for Social Security. In 1992, they opened Acclaimed Promotional Specialties, which they operate jointly from home.

After 45 years of marriage, they agree what brought them the closest was Jerry's need for a kidney trans-plant, which was successfully performed in May 2012. Eileen expedited the process by registering to donate a kidney of her own, which she did that August for a stranger (she wasn't a match for Jerry).

They also reflect on their more than 10 years with Marriage Encounter, which gave them a chance to build their communication and help others as they became instructors.

Today, they share their home with their five rescued cats, and they enjoy their time with Paint and Powder, a theatrical organization that creates and hosts shows to raise funds for local charities. They are also involved in Kennedy Krieger Institute's Festival of Trees each winter (Jerry is the Jewish Santa Claus), and they advocate for the University of Maryland Medical System (to help with trans-plant patients) as well as the Kidney Foundation of Maryland.

While working in promotional sales takes Jerry on the road each day, he starts off by having breakfast with his bride and finishes by dining with her.

Eileen always reminds Jerry to be careful and to "have a good day" as he departs through the garage. And, just like newlyweds, they always kiss goodnight.
