

WITCH-HAMMER

Mic:5:12: And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers.

Na:3:4: Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the wellfavoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.

Ex.22:18: Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live.

So, my Aryan Brothers and Sisters, we have a particularly unpleasant and ugly topic to cover today: WITCHES, more particularly, that brand of them known as Wiccans.

Frankly, I would rather talk about more pleasant subjects, but the way in which Aryan women are lining up like lambs to the slaughter in the Wiccan abbatoir means the topic can no longer be avoided.

WICCA: WARPED OR WICKED?

Wiccan witches claim Wicca means "wise one". Well, they would, wouldn't they? However, the Oxford English Dictionary defines Wicca as, "twisted, bent, or warped". "Perverted" would be an alternative translation. Or Wicca could just mean "wicked", as the jesus-is-lord website claims!

Wicca is witchcraft. There's no need to prettify it by calling it "good" witchcraft or "white" witchcraft. These are just terms used by Wiccans to con gullible witchlings into believing that what they are doing is not "evil".

Wicca is not even "genuine" traditional witchcraft. It is not a survivor of "pre-Christian" religion or anything like that. Wicca has nothing at all to do with ancient pagan religion. Nothing. It is just lesbians and sodomites with their snouts in the jewish money trough pretending that they're doing it for "spiritual" reasons. Wicca is an excuse for EVIL.

It is a 20th century fraud. Wicca was invented by Freemasons and Jews, then other sects of it were randomly thought up by a miscellany of vindictive feminists, man-haters and perverts. These degenerates allied themselves to Jews, Sodomites and other satanic minorities in order to benefit from "anti-discrimination" legislation provided by our corrupt Talmudic legal system, and in order to gain official status for their deviant pseudo-religion.

You feel that's a harsh summary? We'll see...

First, some Wiccan generalities.

Wicca has a polytheistic world-view; mostly a god-goddess pair, but always with "woman on top" to accord with feminist lies and to "compensate" for the "evils" of patriarchal religions such as Christianity, Islam and so on. In practice, despite any pretense of male-female "balance" most varieties of Wicca are "Goddess" dominated, with female Wiccan witches greatly outnumbering the male variety. The Horned God is somehow always "eclipsed" in typical Wicca - feminist witches are so busy eulogizing the Earth Mother that Satan hardly gets a mention (at least in the early stages) - he's too busy out and about "hunting" in his "furs" to provide for the "nurturing" goddess, as we shall see...

However, some variants of Wicca (Dianic Wicca, for example) omit God entirely, and claim the Goddess is the only creative source, and that by contrast (since there is no God) men are entirely responsible for all evil and destruction. Men are "evil", women are "good", according to this cult. Dianic Wiccans seek to destroy men, in accordance with their negation of God.

Many other Wiccans are likewise militantly feminist, man-hating, anti-Christian and politically Communist; although there must be a few exceptions (not that I have come across any). Most are lesbian or pro-lesbian (with male homosexuals being far more acceptable to a Wiccan than an evil threatening "hetero" potential rapist male).

It is no exaggeration to say that Wicca is the religion of choice for lesbians and feminists.

Wiccans believe the assertion that intuitive "feminine" wisdom is superior to aggressive "masculine" knowledge. All that is required to qualify for such feminine "wisdom" is being stupid and female. No effort, learning, endeavour or discipline is ever required since these are all "masculine" notions.

It is easy to see that with values like this, Wicca has taken off like a rocket amongst stupid, lazy, corrupt and ugly women.

Despite this, Wiccans have the arrogance to call non-witches "cowans". This is a copy of the expression "cows/ cattle" (goyim) used by Jews to refer to supposedly "inferior" non-Jews.

The Wiccan world-view has strong fake ecological overtones (the "fake" nature of it is obvious when looking at the filthy garbage-strewn mess Wiccans make at their "festivals"). All Wiccans make frequent use of "male" technology to make their lives more comfortable and to give them the leisure to hate men. They claim to protect the earth from the depredations of "evil men" and destructive "masculine" religions and systems such as Christianity or Science, while making every use of male wisdom and ingenuity for their security and safety.

One example: some Wiccans proudly display bumper stickers that say, "In Goddess We Trust", while polluting the earth in their male-designed, male-built and male-serviced vehicles.

Many Wiccans have a false westernised view of reincarnation, with women never moving backward to incarnate as animals (sows or bitches) or as hell-beings, just moving forward to be reborn as "goddesses".

Naturally, if you ask a mother-earth-worshipping Wiccan a question about the earth - a geological question, for example - the usual Wiccan blank stare of ignorance - or a violent insult about "sexist male knowledge being worthless" - is the result. It is amazing how little they know - or want to know - about the object of their worship. It's enough for them to believe it's a "she" - then it "deserves" worship from the Wiccan hypocrite.

Wiccans mistakenly assert that their rites benefit humanity and the earth as they are performed in honour of nature deities like Pan, Diana, Cernunnos etc. Ask a witch what those deities are, what they do, the historical and mythological sources for those deities and the Wiccan will give you the same blank stare of ignorance (the normal expression on Wiccan faces). It's enough for them to believe that the demons they invoke are "nature deities" and therefore "good".

THE STARHAWK FANTASY

Perhaps the most popular book of the many about Wicca is The Spiral Dance: A Rebirth of the Ancient Religion of the Great Goddess (1979), a best-selling introduction to Wiccan teachings and rituals written by Starhawk (née Miriam Simos, Jewess), a Witch (the term she prefers) from California.

Starhawk offers a grotesque summary of the fake history of Wicca, explaining that witchcraft is "perhaps the oldest religion extant in the West" and that it began "more than thirty-five thousand years ago," during the last Ice Age. The religion's earliest adherents worshipped two deities, one of each sex: "the Mother Goddess, the birthgiver, who brings into existence all life," and the "Horned God," a male hunter who died and was resurrected each year. [Notice the feminist prejudice already present there: an eternal "life" giving goddess while the inferior male god conveniently "dies" every year - why not the other way around, witch? Animals hibernate, crops die... or was that too inconvenient for you, witch, so you had to twist it into its opposite?]

Male shamans "dressed in skins and horns in identification with the God and the herds," but priestesses "presided naked, embodying the fertility of the Goddess." All over prehistoric Europe people made images of the Goddess, sometimes showing her giving birth to the "Divine Child -- her consort [so incest is OK is it, witch?], son, and seed."

They knew her as a "triple Goddess" [no they didn't - no-one has any idea what they "knew her as" because it's prehistory and we have no information about any of it, let alone about any words or expressions they might have used especially because we don't even know what language they spoke - you're making it up, witch!] practitioners today usually refer to her as maiden, mother, crone -- but fundamentally they saw her as one deity. Each year these prehistoric worshippers celebrated the seasonal cycles, which led to the "eight feasts of the Wheel": the solstices, the equinoxes, and four festivals -- Imbolc (February 2, now coinciding with the Christian feast of Candlemas), Beltane (May Day), Lammastide or Lughnasadh (in early August), and Samhain (our Halloween). [Celtic names chosen there for those festivals - so how comes the Celts named those "ancient" festivals when they only turned up in Britain about thirty thousand years after this fake ice-age "religion" began? Starhawk is obviously making it up as she goes along...]

Isa:5:14: Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure...

Starhawk should listen to the Bible and keep her mouth shut. It's prehistory. Therefore it isn't history. That means there is not one shred of evidence - not one - for any of the ridiculous descriptions of "naked priestesses embodying fertility" or any other such nonsense. There is NO evidence for any of it whatsoever. It's all MADE UP. It's a FRAUD.

Now, of course, if I just go ahead and state that Wicca is a fraud, a witch could object that we biased Christians haven't bothered to look at any evidence. So, OK, let's have a little look at where "Starhawk" got her fantasy from.

THE "GODDESS" HOAX

In European tradition up to the 19th century, Goddesses of nature were to be found in the realm of literary allusion and classical learning. So, In John Keats's poem "Endymion", the Greek goddess Diana presided generally over the woodlands and the moon. "Mother Earth" became a popular "literary" deity, without the slightest hint of any actual ritual or worship anywhere, whether that ritual or worship was revivalist or traditional.

Then, in 1849 the German classicist Eduard Gerhard proposed, for the first time in modern Western history, that all the ancient goddesses derived from a single prehistoric "mother goddess" (Charlotte Allen: The Scholars and the Goddess, Atlantic Monthly; January 2001).

He had no real evidence for this assertion. It was merely a supposition - if there were various "goddesses" in ancient mythology, they must have "evolved" from an original "ur-goddess", just as different languages evolve from an original "ancestor".

In 1861 the Swiss jurist and writer Johann Jakob Bachofen guessed that the earliest human civilizations were matriarchies. Bachofen's theory influenced a wide range of thinkers, including Jew-Communist Friedrich Engels, a generation of British intellectuals, and probably Carl Jung.

By the early 1900s scholars generally - and mistakenly - agreed that the great goddess and earth mother had "reigned supreme" in ancient Mediterranean religions, and was toppled only when barbarous, murderous and evil male-dominated tribes worshipping violent "father" gods conquered the gentle, peace-loving devotees of the innocent "mother goddess" (Charlotte Allen: ibid).

On what evidence did they claim this anti-male sexist fantasy as proper "history"?

In 1901 the British archaeologist Sir Arthur Evans excavated the Minoan palace at Knossos, on Crete, uncovering the famous colorful frescoes of bull dancers and figurines of bare-breasted women carrying snakes. During a subsequent period of clearly Greek rule, such pleasantries were absent.

From this scant evidence (yes, really!) Evans concluded that the Minoans, who preceded the Zeus-venerating Greeks by several centuries, had worshipped the great goddess in her virgin and mother aspects, along with a subordinate male god who was her son and consort (that incest fantasy again - what's wrong with these people?). The paternal God-worshipping Greeks had wrecked this Goddess-based utopia in the usual violent male manner (now we know it was the eruption of the volcano Santorini (in other words Mother Earth herself) which put paid to Minoan civilization - but that fact can just be ignored by the witch).

Not even a surviving myth to back it up. Just bare-breasted women with snakes.

It is as if a future archaeologist were to uncover a sex magazine from our time and conclude that we were a "matriarchy worshipping the triple goddess with subordinate male gods" They would not even be far wrong, given the current corrupt state of affairs.

Throughout the 1920s and 1930s archaeologists excavating Paleolithic and Neolithic sites in Europe and even Pueblo Indian settlements in Arizona automatically proclaimed the female figurines they found to be images of the "great goddess". Almost any female image was a goddess! No female image was ever just a "woman" or a "girl".

To justify this "all women are goddesses" assumption, archaeologists drew on the work of late-nineteenth-century anthropologists. An erroneous belief that Stone Age peoples (and their "primitive" modern counterparts) did not realize that men played a role in human procreation was popular among many early British and American anthropologists (Charlotte Allen: ibid).

Men were thus barely relevant, except as food-provider worker-drones for the Goddess-Matriarch-Queen.

Female fertility was an "awesome mystery", and women, as the sole divine sources of the mystery of procreation, were "highly honored" in comparison to useless men. Again, not a shred of evidence, just random feminist assertions.

"Subject to slight variations, this story is the basis of many hugely popular Goddess handbooks. It also informs the writings of numerous secular feminists -- Gloria Steinem, Marilyn French, Barbara Ehrenreich, Deirdre English -- to whom the ascendancy of "the patriarchy" or the systematic terrorization of strong, independent women by means of witchcraft trials are historical givens. Moreover, elements of the story suffuse a broad swath of the intellectual and literary fabric of the past hundred years, from James Frazer's The Golden Bough and Robert Graves's The White Goddess to the novels of D. H. Lawrence, from the writings of William Butler Yeats and T. S. Eliot to Jungian psychology and the widely viewed 1988 public-television series The Power of Myth". Charlotte Allen, ibid.

But all this fantasy created by repressed academics was still about making up pseudo-history. Wrong as they were, they were not trying to create a new religion based on revivalist Neolithic goddess-worship. That was left to a British Freemason couple.

FREEMASONIC WITCHES

Co-founder (with his wife) of Gardnerian Wicca, Gerald B. Gardner (1884-1964) wrote a book in 1949 entitled, "High Magic's Aid". He wrote under his witch name "Scire". This novel set the tone for the myth of Wicca (or "Wica" as Gardner originally and absurdly spelled it).

The Gardners fraudulently claimed there were covens of witches in Britain at the time practicing a "pre-Christian" religion. This, they claimed, was called Wicca.

"Gardner seems to have drawn on the work of two people: Charles Godfrey Leland, a nineteenth-century amateur American folklorist who [wrongly] professed to have found a surviving cult of the goddess Diana in Tuscany, and Margaret Alice Murray, a British Egyptologist who herself drew on Leland's ideas and, beginning in the 1920s, created a detailed framework of ritual and belief". (Charlotte Allen; ibid.) The Leland book is now generally agreed by scholars to have been a fraud.

"From his own Freemasonic experience Gerald Gardner included such staples as blindfolding, initiation, secrecy, and "degrees" of priesthood. He incorporated various Masonic paraphernalia, including wands, chalices, and the five-pointed star" (the same as the Satanic pentagram except with points downwards).

So reconstructed Neolithic pseudo-religion provided half the "theology" for this con. The "Goddess" hoax in all its main elements was woven together with the Satano-Talmudic imagery of Freemasonry.

So, according to the Gardners, the gods of this "Old" Religion [dating all the way back to 1949] were a Mother Goddess who ruled the earth, the moon, the sea, and all things agricultural, procreative and nurturing. Her "secret" name (in their fake coven anyway) was ARAYDA. There was also a Horned God who ruled the sun and hunting, who was variously called Herne, Cernunnos or Pan (but as a male god was naturally far less important than the "creative, nurturing" goddess). Every witch since, Starhawk included, has bought into this nonsense, all based on Jewish-Freemasonic Satanism and the Neolithic "Goddess" hoax, now completely discredited.

"It is now a matter of common knowledge that much of Gardner's story is fiction. Yet, most witches aren't bothered by that. Since the seventies, many witches wanted to be totally creative and make up their religion out of their heads--without trying to make any pretentious claims about having "unbroken lines of power" back to medieval "Kings" of the witches. Most Neo-pagan groups fall into this category. They are based on myths, fantasy or even science-fiction stories." B. Schnoebelen: Wicca: Satan's Little White Lie.

The Gardners simply lied that their books were based on a study of an actual coven. They had no coven. There were no witches for them to "study". They made it up. It's that simple.

GARBAGE-DUMP WITCHES

And archaeologists continued to back up the fraud with their misinterpretations.

In 1958 a British archaeologist named James Mellaart made a major find: a 9,000-year-old agricultural settlement that once housed up to 10,000 people at Çatalhöyük, one of the largest of several mounds near the modern-day town of Konya, in southern Turkey.

Mellaart unearthed a number of female figurines that he deemed to be representations of the mother goddess. One was a headless female nude sitting on what appears to be a throne and flanked by leopards, with a protuberant belly.

The Çatalhöyük settlement contained no fortifications, and its houses were nearly all the same size, seemingly implying just the sort of nonviolent, egalitarian social system that Goddess-worshippers believe prevailed. Çatalhöyük became the "Santiago de Compostela" of the Goddess movement, with hundreds of pilgrims visiting the settlement annually. The "enthroned nude" is a revered Goddess-movement object of worship.

"Mellaart's conclusions were bolstered by the work of the late Marija Gimbutas, a Lithuanian-born archaeologist who taught at the University of California at Los Angeles until 1989. Gimbutas specialized in the Neolithic Balkans. Like Mellaart, she tended to attach religious meaning to the objects she uncovered; the results of her Balkan digs were published in 1974 under the title The Gods and Goddesses of Old Europe". (Charlotte Allen, ibid).

In 1982 Gimbutas reissued her book with the noteworthy title-change The Goddesses and Gods of Old Europe, as she had by then begun seeing representations of the Goddess, and of female reproductive apparatus (wombs, Fallopien tubes, amniotic fluid), in a huge array of Stone Age artifacts, anything and everything, even in abstractions such as spirals and dots. If it was a line - it was a vagina. If it was a dot, it was a vagina. If it was a spiral, it was a womb.... you get the picture!

Basically, Gimbutas lost her critical faculties - her mind - completely in her desperate attempt to find something - anything - to shore up the whole fraudulent edifice of ancient "Goddess-worship".

In 1993 Ian Hodder, a Stanford University archaeologist, began re-excavating Çatalhöyük, using up-to-date techniques. Nothing his team found backed the feminist-communist utopia imagined by Mellaart, Gimbutas and their witch-followers.

Amongst other evidence, the team also discovered numerous human figurines of the male or an indeterminate sex, and found that the favorite Çatalhöyük representation was not women but animals. None of the art the team uncovered conclusively depicts copulation, childbirth or fertility.

Hodder, along with most archaeologists of his generation, endeavors to assess objects in the context of where they were unearthed -- a dramatic change from the school of archaeology that was in vogue at the time of Mellaart's and Gimbutas's excavations. Hodder points out that almost all the female figurines at Çatalhöyük came from rubbish heaps; the "enthroned" nude woman was found in a grain bin. "Very little in the context of the find suggests that they were religious objects," Hodder says." (Charlotte Allen; ibid).

Furthermore, excavations of sites in Turkey, Greece, and Southeastern Europe that were contemporaneous with the Çatalhöyük settlement have yielded evidence - fortifications, maces, bones bearing dagger marks - that Stone Age Europe, contrary to the fantasy "Goddess" narrative, and predictably enough, saw plenty of violence.

So much for the Neolithic feminist-pacifist "Goddess" utopia as a basis for Wiccan practice.

Even a group of fantasy gamers ("Dungeons and Dragons" or the like) have more integrity than Wiccans and a better chance of telling reality from fiction.

The scriptures have come to pass:

2 Tim 4:4: And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

DO-IT-YOURSELF WITCHES

So every witch could participate in the new hobby of D.I.Y. Wiccan cult-creation. If the original Gardnerian Wiccan cult was based on lies and fiction, if Gimbutas and her fellow feminist-communist academics institutionalised the fiction, there was no stopping others joining the feeding frenzy.

Soon Wicca had many denominations. Some are large like the Alexandrian, Druidic, Welsh Traditionalist, Nordic, Georgian, Dianic, and Church of Wicca. Others are as small as a single coven of 13. They are ALL fake. Not one represents a genuine lineage transmitted from ancient times. They are all modern movements. All of them. Even the partly Wiccanised Mediterranean lineages (Hispanic/Basque etc). show no true continuity.

Here's a good example showing the shallow triviality of Wiccan "lineages": the so-called Dianic branch of Wicca, a particularly evil cult.

Dianic Wiccans justify their man-hate through a feminist misinterpretation of the Greek Diana myth. The founder of Dianic Wicca, Z. Budapest (a fake name), is a Ruthenian Jewess with a deep personal hatred of men dating back to her wartime east European childhood. The "transmission" of witchcraft to her from her mother is a tale little short of pathetic, amounting to seeing her mother making "voodoo" dolls in her childhood.... yes, Christians, that's all. On that basis she made up a tradition of God-hating sexist Wiccan witchcraft to which feminists and lesbians flock to this day.

Eze:24:12: She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

Many Wiccans claim that their "ancient" practices have been preserved in the Book of Shadows, a ritual book for Wiccans. There is no evidence for any part of the Book of Shadows predating 1910. The BOS was the result of a collaboration between Gerald Gardner and the Satanist Aleister Crowley, (B. Schnoebelen p22). Crowley found inspiration for his contributions to the BOS in Satanic grimoires from the medieval period (e.g. the Talmudic Key of Solomon), and not, of course, in any "goddess worship" texts. Satan's hoofprints are again clearly visible all over Wicca.

And still Wiccans dare make the lying, insulting claim that their fake Satanist-Freemason religion predates the Bible!

"Nothing is older than the Kingdom of God. The eternal God is the Author and Finisher of His kingdom. Nothing predates Him. From the days of Adam through the present day, God has continuously built a spiritual house composed of living stones--men, women, boys and girls (see I Peter 2:5, Ephesians 2:20-22, 2 Corinthians 6:16, I Corinthians 3:16, 6:19). These are people who have believed in Him in every age, have exercised faith in Him, and have worshipped Him. God is a builder". (www.jesus-is-lord.com).

Eph. 2:19-22 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the HOUSEHOLD of God; And are built upon the FOUNDATION of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the CHIEF CORNER STONE; In whom all the BUILDING fitly FRAMED together GROWETH unto an holy TEMPLE in the Lord: In whom ye also are builded together for an HABITATION of God through the Spirit.

The fake Jew-Freemason concoction of random pagan teachings called Wicca cannot be compared to this firm foursquare structure of proper, true religion.

"Thus, Wicca was not an attack on Christianity, but was supposedly a much older religion whose gods were old when Yahweh of the Bible was in knee pants. According to Gardner, witches worshipped naked (or "skyclad" as he preferred to call it) and were matriarchal..." B. Schnoebelen, ibid.

Gardner stole the phrase skyclad from a sect of the Indian Jaina religion whose male ascetics go naked. This is the origin of the absurd "nudity" issue which witches make so much fuss over! It is of course completely improbable that any "ice-age" priestess "presided naked" over rituals in the freezing temperatures of Northern Europe! The "males" in "furs" but the presiding priestess "naked"? Garbage!

So this committed and entirely non-sexual asceticism from these Indian Jaina devotees has been perverted by deceitful Freemason witches into an excuse for female nakedness - how thrilled and excited the Gardners must have been at the thought of all those Wiccans cavorting naked on their fraudulent say-so! Throw in a few Dürer engravings of naked medieval witches - and you'll have every Wiccan witch stripping off at the slightest excuse.

The "sky-clad" Jainas are also naked on their high-altitude Himalayan pilgrimages, relying on their devotion to protect them from the freezing temperatures. It would be interesting to see a coven of English or American Wiccans try something similar. I predict frostbite, hypothermia and hospitalization in their case (hospitalization in a hospital run by male doctors, incidentally...)

Many higher level witches understand that Wicca is a compilation of random myths; cobbled together from a range of different cultures and religions; nevertheless, like Carl Jung, they assume that myths have a life of their own and, even if they are not literally true, these myths still have an archetypal power of sorts.

Indeed myths may have this kind of power... this is true... but only within a particular tradition that gives it meaning. What does an English or American Wiccan understand about, say, Polynesian religion? Nothing at all... but that doesn't stop them worshipping Polynesian godlings. But it is not even the myths themselves that Wiccans use for their worship, but their own feminist self-justifying misinterpretations of them! So whatever Wicca claims about those ancient myths is just feminist-marxist distortion anyway.

And worshipping (in the usual complete Wiccan ignorance) a Greek deity and an Egyptian deity alongside that Polynesian deity doesn't bother the witch at all

Even a Polynesian heathen priest needs a lifetime's study to understand and appreciate his own mythology, but for a Wiccan... a quick skim through some of Starhawk's drivel or the Golden Bough is enough.

A perfect example is the Wiccan inclusion of the Hawaiian volcano goddess Pelee into some of their rituals. This goddess was included just because she is female (since there clearly are no Hawaiian volcanos in Wiccan Europe) - but the traditional placation of the goddess Pelee by throwing women into the volcano as an offering is left out of the Wiccan version. This is typical Wiccan hypocrisy.

John 2:21: no lie is of the truth.

Christian, could you imagine basing your life on Jew fairy stories from unholy-wood?

Bewitched. I Dream of Jeannie. Sabrina. Buffy the Vampire Slayer. Charmed. Harry Potter...

Without Hollywood, many modern "witches" would probably never even have discovered their fake "ancient creed". But if Sarah Michelle Gellar (Buffy) and her lesbian friends say witchcraft is OK - then gullible women will continue to flock to it, just as they flock to the Jewish Qabbala because Madonna says it's OK.

According to the Bible, there is no such thing as a good witch. Hence ALL witches are wicked including ignorant teen TV witch-actress-traitors who encourage Christian children into Satanism.

If Hollywood Jews and Wiccans tell you that Wiccan witches are "good" while they continue to promote Satanism and disrespect both men and God, who are you going to believe - them or your Bible?

Just because Wiccans gather herbs and dance naked in the moonlight doesn't mean they are good. Just because Wiccans worship the Great Mother and are "into" the earth don't mean that they are good or even harmless. The road to Hell is paved with "good" intentions.

SATANIST WITCHES

According to former Wiccan High Priest, Bill Schnoebelen, the serious practitioner of Wicca will find herself going deeper, eventually into the direct worship of Satan. It is the inevitable conclusion of Wiccan worship, regardless of the lesser demons the ignorant witch worships at the beginning of her descent into evil.

Why would Wiccan witches worship Satan? Because he offers witches what they want!

Crowley's Satanist creed: "Do what thou wilt shalt be the whole of the law"

Wiccan rede (motto/creed): "An' it harm none, Do what thou will."

It is the same thing. Do what you feel like doing.

Note the fake ancient an' in the Wiccan version. This is typical Gardner, who always used fake Old English wherever possible: 'tis, ere, etc.

"An it harm none" doesn't apply to not harming men or Christians, of course, who may be harmed at any time for any reason or no reason at all. This is a fundamental principle of Dianic Wicca and is found in many other branches.

Wiccans constantly use their "magic" against those whom they personally dislike, and break the principle of their own "rede" continuously. But that's OK because ..."do what thou wilt" and that includes breaking the "rede", if you want to!

And since any invocation of Satan and his demons harms everyone, nature included, the Wiccan Rede is not only a justification for evil, but also a LIE. The Satanist creed of Crowley is at least honest in its open advocacy of wilful evil.

Witches, by contrast, pretend to do "good" while harming EVERYONE, mother earth and themselves included. Many witches will only discover the penalty for this betrayal in HELL.

The only true proper "rede" can be "do whatever possible to help others even if you don't want to" - the exact opposite of the Wiccan creed of selfish opportunism and greed.

When a witch won't believe the word of God, God will give the witch over to the delusion that she should believe a lie, harm others and help only herself.

So such fools will get into Wicca and harm others until it drives them mad or kills them. They would rather go mad or die than submit to Jesus. But that's OK. If witches don't want to submit to Jesus, they can submit in Hell to Satan himself.

Clearly, as compassionate Christians, we would prefer it if witches saved themselves through submission to Jesus, but if they won't submit, that's fine by us.

However, not one witch will be able to say: "I didn't know.... no-one warned me that hellfire was REAL!"

It's real all right:

Prov:5:5: Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on hell.

Prov:7:27: Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

Isa:14:15: Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.

We warned you, witch! God warned you. Jesus warned you. The Bible warned you.

When witches see it, they'll want to get out of the pit . But they won't be able to by invoking Satan or Hecate or their demons. They are already in the pit waiting....

The only way out is to bow to Jesus. Witches either do that right now or they are on their way to the lake of fire. This isn't a threat, just a statement of fact. They may not like that fact, but it stays a fact whether they like it or not. They can try not believing in Hell... but the first touch of the flame will change their mistaken opinion, I assure you.

Even heretical pagan religions warned stupid Wiccans about this. The very religions from which Wiccans steal their gods and goddesses know this! You think an ancient Greek priestess ever invoked Hecate as ignorantly and carelessly as a modern witch reading a fake invokation out of a fake "Book of Shadows"? They would not have dared!

Even Muslims and Hindus know this truth. Even African tribes and Australian Aboriginals know of the evil witches do and take action against them accordingly! Everyone knows about the evil witches do and about the hellfire that awaits them for their manifold sins.

Everyone knows playing with fire is dangerous except foolish, degenerate, corrupt, base western witches.

But witches might say, "we are not only goddess-worshippers, but we love the horned god as well....our devotion to him is as valid as any "biased" Christian worship of God"

No it isn't. SATAN HATES YOU, just like he hates everybody and everything else. It doesn't matter how much you try to love Satan, you'll only get hate in return. That's why you'll never be content and you will sink deeper into debauchery, evil, despair and madness. And then you'll belong to Satan, witch! Satan only hates you in return for your misguided devotion. He can't love you. He's Satan. He hates. That's what he does. That's all he does.

Those witches recognizing the error of their ways and humbly seeking the truth will come to Jesus and He will cleanse them from their filthy Wiccan perversions and permit them entry into His Father's kingdom.

1Pe:5:7 Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you

By contrast sow-witches wallowing in pride want to hear Satan say: "Do whatever you feel like doing, witches!"

Thus deluded, they permit themselves any sin: murder, theft, fornication, whoredom, abortion, child abuse, lasciviousness, drunkenness, greed, selfishness, necromancy, cursing men, slandering Jesus and insulting God. In their faces, minds and deeds, the workings of evil are clear for all to see. Witches are ugly in body, soul and deed. That's how Satan likes his human torches - ugly and evil.

"But" some Wiccan witch may protest, "I don't worship Satan. How can I worship Satan if I don't believe he exists?"

If you aren't serving Jesus, you're serving Satan.

A bit of judicious renaming - call Satan Pan or Cernunnos or something else - and lo and behold! every ignorant witch-slave believes the disguise. Whether the witch "believes" in a specific entity called "Satan" is not the issue.

Do you really think, witch, that you are important enough to Satan for him to tell you his real name? Do you really believe you matter enough to the Evil One for him to reveal his true face to you, TV witch?

"But" another Wiccan may protest "we worship the Goddess... we have nothing to do with evil male deities any more than we have anything to do with evil men".

So a simple sex-change to demonesses like Hecate or Kali, and again, it is Satan behind the mask. He has many faces and forms, and many of those reflect the faces of witches themselves. Just because it's "female" doesn't mean it's "good".

As the Wiccan progresses, she is told to "embrace" the dark side of her nature (the Bible calls it sin) just as the goddess "went down to" the Lord of Death.

Starhawk, leading "thinker" of the Wiccan movement that she is, writes:

"The depths of our beings are not all sunlit; to see clearly we must be able to dive into the dark, inner abyss and acknowledge the creatures we may find there". p. 31

You know what, Starhawk? I don't believe you have ever really looked into the abyss yourself. You are just pretending to have done so. If you had done so, you would have wet yourself in terror and fled to the security of the nearest Church. I'll tell you what kind of creatures you'll find in the abyss: DEMONS! She won't call them by name, but I will. DEMONS led by SATAN. But that doesn't bother "Starhag": She can "think" her way out of that one using the usual Wiccan insult and total disrespect to the God of the Bible:

"Satan is a Biblical myth, and a slander on the true god of light, Lucifer" p. 38

Which just goes to prove she never looked into the "depths" of her being at all!

And she doesn't even understand the difference between Satan and Lucifer.

When witches burn for their sins in Hell, they are a burnt offering to their master Satan. Not what they expected, but Satan claims his own ... and as they burn, truly witches become "luci-fer", "bearers of light".

"Lucifer" also means a "match", just in case you didn't know.

Here's some more of Starhawk's blasphemies:

"With the institutionaliation of "Christianity" in the fourth century all the true secrets of Jesus [that He was a witch with a coven of 12] had been destroyed and that the true, older religion of Wicca had been driven underground..[Poor Wicca, oppressed by those mean Christians though it didn't even exist at the time...] Lucifer (often known as Bel, Lugh, Herne, Faunus, Pan or Cernunnos) was the true God and that Satan was a boogy-man manufactured by Christians".

“...Satan was a boogy-man manufactured by Christians”. I am sure you will agree that this is a perfect case of wishful thinking on the part of witches.

But there's so much historical, religious and cultural stupidity in the Wiccan attempt to rewrite history it would take pages to correct. In short, ignorant witches ought to start by visiting a good library to get accurate information instead of associating with demons in return for lies. But let's stick with the Satanism issue for a moment.

Because Wicca is a trivial, evil and stupid 20th century feminist-communist money-making fraud thought up by Freemasons and Jews, it is therefore SATANIC.

Satanism isn't just about stupid witches performing "satanic" rituals. Satanism can even exist without any religion or ritual being present at all. Satanism is the absence of God, the absence of good, the absence of truth. Communism is one example, tens of millions of Christian victims the proof.

So Wicca is evil, even without its many rituals, all of which are designed to distract the witch from the underlying Satanism: bathing in streams and celebrating the equinox naked under the stars; dancing around naked under the moon [join a nudist club if you really need to inflict the spectacle of your nakedness on others], circle dances and circle ceremonies [any "rave" does it better with better music and better company] sabbats, qabalism [admitting commonality with the Satanic Jew]. ceremonial magic, ritual sex on solemn occasions, whipping one another (ie. the men) ceremonially to purify and "raise power" [all Crowleyite Satanism; incidentally, there are plenty of sex-clubs providing these services for perverts and sodomites without the added ritual hypocrisy -but Wicca would have a lot less appeal if it didn't include these "rituals". Makes it all so exciting for the bored urbanized witch... so much more interesting than sitting in Church listening to the truth].

Indeed, this preacher has more respect for sincere whores, perverts and "ravers" than for hypocrite Wiccan witches who LIE that what they do is for religion.

De 18:10 There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch.

18:11 Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer.

18:12 For all that do these things are an abomination unto the LORD: and BECAUSE OF these abominations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee.

18:13 Thou shalt be perfect with the LORD thy God.

THE WITCHES' HOLOHOAX

Let us not forget, of course, the old standby Biblical "justification" for witch-murder:

Ex:22:18: Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live.

This statement apparently justified the murder of "millions" of innocent women during the medieval "witch persecutions". Since these "witch-burnings" are a primary piece of anti-Christian propaganda used to lure witches into God-hatred and contempt for the Bible, for Jesus and for men in general, it's worth spending a moment on the subject.

Predictably enough, the Wiccan "witch murder" accusation turns out to be another hoax.

"Historians have overturned another basic Wiccan assumption: that the group has a history of persecution exceeding even that of the Jews [...yawn!]. The figure Starhawk cited -- nine million executed over four centuries -- derives from a late-eighteenth-century German historian; it was picked up and disseminated a hundred years later by a British feminist named Matilda Gage and quickly became Wiccan gospel (Gardner himself coined the phrase "the Burning Times")."

"Most scholars today believe that the actual number of executions is in the neighborhood of 40,000. The most thorough recent study of historical witchcraft is Witches and Neighbors (1996), by Robin Briggs, a historian at Oxford University. Briggs pored over the documents of European witch trials and concluded that most of them took place during a relatively short period, 1550 to 1630, and were largely confined to parts of present-day France, Switzerland, and Germany that were already racked by the religious and political turmoil of the Reformation. The accused witches, far from including a large number of independent-minded women, were mostly poor and unpopular. Their accusers were typically ordinary citizens (mostly other women), not clerical or secular authorities. In fact, the authorities generally disliked trying witchcraft cases and acquitted more than half of all defendants".

"Briggs also discovered that none of the accused witches who were found guilty and put to death had been charged specifically with practicing a pagan religion". Charlotte Allen, ibid.

Nine million over 400 years down to 40 000 ... rather similar to the current ongoing decline in the fake "six million" dead Jews figure. That's a hundred witches a year on average... a far cry from the "Burning Times" holohoax propaganda of the rabid anti-Christian Wiccan, and probably far less than the number of victims poisoned or otherwise murdered by witches themselves. For example, condemned Hungarian witch Elizabeth Báthory was credited with over six hundred ritual murders of young women - and the Inquisition didn't even burn or execute her. Indeed, by far the commonest punishment for medieval witches was banishment from their community.

But even those few witch-burnings that did regrettably take place were the fulfilment of a Satanist manifesto. The Bible unjustly gets the blame for Satan's evil seduction of witches into the agony of fire. Satan demands his burnt offering, the Bible warns witches of it... and yet they persisted in their Judeo-Satanic invocations and opened the gates of Hell itself - as they found to their pain and destruction.

Abandonment of spiritual principles, Biblical neglect and invocation of Satan has led in our times to the genocidal evil of atheist Judeo-Satanic Communism, for example.

It has led to the current global domination of ZOG genocidal tyranny which aims at the complete eradication of YOU and your children, my non-Jewish friends!

Mic:3:10: They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

And yet the Bible gets the blame for being "evil" and calling for witch-burnings! The Talmudic-Jewish Bush Administration ritually rapes and murders children as sacrifices to Satan while bombing and burning the enemies of Jews, and yet Wiccans run to it for legal protection as a "minority", along with other degenerates: Homosexuals, Jews and the like! That truly is worship of Satan!

They perform this treason for protection against us! Indeed the world has been turned upside down, my Aryan friends!

THE CONSEQUENCES OF THE WICCAN LIE

1Sa:15:23: For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, he hath also rejected thee from being king.

...which is why the once-proud formerly Christian USA now has a fraudulently-elected criminal genocidal Satanic-Talmudic Government.

2Ki:9:22: And it came to pass, when Joram saw Jehu, that he said, Is it peace, Jehu? And he answered, What peace, so long as the whoredoms of thy mother Jezebel and her witchcrafts are so many?

While Aryan women betray their race, their menfolk and their families by worshipping Satan, the Jew-god of the Talmud, and his earthly Jew-Freemason representatives, indeed there can be no "peace"....

2Ch:33:6: And he caused his children to pass through the fire in the valley of the son of Hinnom: also he observed times, and used enchantments, and used witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar spirit, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

Wiccans are all too eager to corrupt their children away from Christianity into Satanism. They have even managed to have Wicca officially recognized as a "religion" alongside Christianity, to be given equal status in schools, colleges, the Army and other organizations!

Yes, incredibly enough, this has actually come to pass! Here's a description of a Satanist Wiccan ritual on a US Army base:

"Dressed in a green robe with a dagger at his side, a barefoot Andre Cunningham bows his head, crosses his arms and invokes the name of the Horned God. "Witness our rites and bless our magic," he calls out. Before him is an altar covered with a black cloth, candles, incense and salt crystals.

Cunningham is a witch. He is also an Army second lieutenant stationed at Fort Bragg. He is 23 and is in the 51st Signal Battalion. Cunningham is the high priest in the Coven of the Dragon Warriors, a group of Army witches who want Fort Bragg to allow Wiccan worship services and study groups on post.

There are about 10,000 pagans in the military and an estimated 200 to 400 at Fort Bragg, according to the Military Pagan Network, an international support group for military pagans that is based in Columbia, Md.

The Wiccans say they are good soldiers and patriotic Americans. "But we change God bless America to goddess bless America," said Laurie MacNeill, a former Army sergeant and the coven's high priestess. Members of the Coven of the Dragon Warriors, which named itself after the 18th Airborne Corps' symbol, the dragon, say they have no place to worship off post.The Wiccans say they have just as much right to worship on the 42,000-soldier post as do Christians, Jews and Muslims....Although Wicca is a religion recognized by federal courts, as well as by the military, Fort Bragg's Wiccans say many worship in hiding, fearing persecution from others and reprimands from their superiors.

"They are too afraid of their commanders," said MacNeill, who left the Roman Catholic church 15 years ago to become a witch. "There is a lot of fear. Wiccans want to change that. They also want other Wiccans to feel comfortable coming out of the broom closet," MacNeill said. Coven members say they want to be a sanctioned group on post so they can aid other military pagans and act as a resource for chaplains who have questions about pagan soldiers' religious accommodations.(Tanya S. Biank: Wiccans seek place on Fort Bragg, Fayetteville Online, August 8, 1999).

How much more provocation are we supposed to take, my Aryan Christian friends?

No-one should join or serve in the US Military until equal status as a religion for the Wiccan cult is withdrawn.

No Christian may serve in a Satanic organization.

How can any Christian serve without corrupting his own soul and endangering his family, community, comrades and country? Could God support a military dedicated to Satan? Never!

Therefore the US Military (and all associated NATO forces) are condemned to defeat until they stop this foolishness and regain their Christian self-respect. Ban Wicca immediately and arrest all Wiccans as a threat to national security.

Mic:5:12: And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers:

Na:3:4: Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the wellfavoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.

"Selleth nations" to the Talmudic Ashkenazi Khazar Jew bankers! And sell their children to Jews and Freemasons for rape and murder. That's the inevitable consequence of any involvement in Wicca.

Anything to undermine God and his good works – and they even take pride in their evil.

I went to jesus.is.lord.com and I saw your photos on abortions.....WAY COOL , I myself am a witch and a lesbian. I also had an abortion but my dead fetus didn't look like that (I WISH).... you see when I saw the pictures I really had no emotion about it well I had one and that was pride...you see I do worship the dark goddess and I do offerings to her to allow more abortion to happen..for you see the only good child is a dead child..... I get more emotional when I see animals die in a slaughter house....oh yeah....I'm vegan also. but when you try to scare us with these stupid pictures...well...they don't work...A real witch would not even bat an eye over it because we know what true evil is....and thats you christians...yeah what a surprise....anyway just wanted to let you know I enjoyed the photos and I might buy some to display on my wall.....hay, a visal image when I pray to the goddess.....good idea indarkness2ever, witch lynda

The Bible says that the conscience of witches is seared with a hot iron.

1Tm 4:2 speaking lies in hypocrisy having their conscience seared with a hot iron.

That means their conscience doesn't work anymore. They are PAST feeling. They even enjoy making their evil known as a deliberate insult to Christians.

This is not an isolated case. How could it be? The Satanist child-sacrificing perversions of the current Bush Administration, of Talmudic Jews and of ranking Freemasons provide the background for Wiccan deviance.

Jews and Freemasons created Wicca in order to undermine Aryan male power through corrupting women into a Talmudic-Jewish agenda of evil centred upon the sacrifice (literal or metaphorical) of their own children and themselves to Satan.

Wiccan-Satanist mockery of Christianity ends here and now.

Isa:47:14: Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame.

The current security of Wicca and related types of perversion depends entirely on the protection provided by our criminally-corrupt judeo-satanic legal and political institutions. When these collapse - as they inevitably will - witches will no longer be protected. Then they will be exposed to an extreme of despair.
