Ancient Egyptian Gods and Goddesses

"The ancient Egyptian religion was very complex. It was also relatively untouched by outside influences for many centuries. Its most striking feature was the vast number of gods and goddesses who could be depicted in human, animal, or other forms. The gods were never grouped systematically, and many of them were therefore interchangeable."

Creation Myths of Ancient Egypt

URL: http://historylink101.com/n/egypt_1/religion_creation_myths.htm

Several different creation myths have developed out of the Egyptian region of Africa. Although there are different stories, they all feature an initial mound called the Island of Creation. It is from this mound that each of the creation myths claimed was the place of their sacred temples. Here you will learn about three distinct creation myths: the Heliopolitan, the Memphite, and the Hermopolitan.

More than 200 people, places, things, gods, and goddesses from ancient Egypt are listed and explained. You can read what each one represents, or did for the people. These entries comprise the indigenous beliefs from pre-dynastic times until the first Common Era centuries. For example, Bastet was a cat-headed solar goddess. She was originally seen as a wild cat or a lioness. She became a lunar goddess after the influence of the Greeks was felt in this culture. Some of the articles contain hieroglyphics, which are taken from The Book of the Dead.

Ancient Egyptian Gods Gallery

In ancient Egyptian times, people worshipped over 2,000 different gods. Some of these gods had great religious power, and other gods were personal gods to an individual. On this page, you can learn about twelve of the major Egyptian gods. Click onto one of the Egyptian god images to enter into the gallery. Read about Isis the Egyptian goddess with magical powers. Learn about Thoth, the moon god who people believed to have a special book that contained all of the world's wisdom. Illustrations and statues of the gods are pictured here along with the descriptions.

Sacred Animals of Ancient Egypt Gallery

URL: http://www.bbc.co.uk/history/ancient/egyptians/animal_gallery.shtml

Certain animals were considered sacred in Ancient Egypt, while others were kept as pets or raised for food. Some of these animals were mummified when they died. Rams were identified with certain gods, and used to trample seeds into the soil as well as for meat and wool. Hippos were a danger to boats in the river Nile, and represented the goddess Tauret. Cheetahs were sometimes hunted for their skins or tamed as pets. Cats kept food supplies safe from mice, rats, and snakes. Jackals were often found in cemeteries and came to be a symbol of death.

The Story of Osiris, Isis and Horus: The Egyptian Myth of Creation

URL: <http://www.laits.utexas.edu/cairo/teachers/osiris.pdf>

The Egyptian sky god and earth goddess gave birth to Osiris, Isis, Set, and Nephthys. The oldest of the siblings, Osiris, became king of Egypt. His brother was jealous that people respected Osiris and not him. When Set killed his brother, the sisters searched for him to breathe life back into him. Osiris became god of the underworld, and his son Horus challenged Set as rightful king of Egypt. Set cheated, and Horus got angry at his mother for not killing Set. Find out why Osiris thought that his son should be king.

Ancient Egyptian Magic

URL: http://www.bbc.co.uk/history/ancient/egyptians/magic_01.shtml

Did you know that magic pervaded every aspect of ancient Egyptian life? The word for magic was heka. All deities and people were believed to possess this force to some degree, but there were rules about how and why it could be used. You will learn about different levels of magicians, techniques of magic, and tools used in magic. Although Egyptians used magic mainly for protection and healing, they also used magic for spells and curses. Magic was even used in burial ceremonies. Religion

URL: <http://www.pbs.org/empires/egypt/newkingdom/religion.html>

In Ancient Egypt, the mysteries of nature and the worries of everyday life were explained in stories about the gods. Egyptians had hundreds of local and national gods whom they believed were responsible for things like childbirth, the spread of diseases, and the rising and setting sun. They didn't know why the tide happened or why crops failed. They blamed it on gods and goddesses. Egyptians thought that by honoring the gods they could control these phenomena. Maat was the order of the universe. The pharaoh was responsible for keeping everything in order and preventing chaos.

Journey to Egypt to hear a story of creation. Nu was a swirling chaos. Atum rose out of the waters and made a hill. From his shadow, he made children. One became god of the air. The other became the goddess of mist. Chaos was divided into light and dark, creating order. The earth and sky were tangled, but the gods separated them. The sun was born and died each day. The tears of the gods produced people. In Ancient Egypt, temples were built for the gods and magical sayings were written in tombs.

The Gods and Goddesses of Ancient Egypt

URL: <http://www.ancientegypt.co.uk/gods/home.html>

The gods and goddesses of Ancient Egypt each had a role to play. Some brought floods, and others protected craftsmen or pregnant women. Local gods watched over a certain place while minor gods represented nature. Explore the roles of more than two dozen Egyptian gods and goddesses. There were gods and goddesses of war, writing, and embalming the dead. An animated creation myth tells the story of the first god bringing order from chaos. It is also a story of war and murder.

Ancient Egyptian Gods

URL: <http://www.ancientegypt.co.uk/gods/home.html>

In the time of the Ancient Egyptians, many gods and goddesses were worshipped. Some had faces like a jackal, cat, or falcon on a human body. These faces were clues to their powers. Cats were considered sacred in Egypt. Anubis, with the head of a jackal, was the god of funerals and death. The sky god and sun god have the head of a falcon. The god of the underworld and the goddess of motherhood are pictured as humans. The goddess of medicine and war has the head of a lion.

Egyptian Mythology

URL: http://www.ancient.eu.com/Egyptian_Mythology/

From 4000 B.C. to 30 A.D., life in Ancient Egypt was explained through myths about the gods. Through the Silk Road and the Port of Alexandria, aspects of Egyptian mythology spread to Greece and Rome. Mythology explained creation, supernatural forces, and the afterlife. Out of a swirling chaos came air and moisture, which gave birth to the earth and sky. Osiris created the land of the Nile, but his envious brother Set murdered him to take over. Isis brought Osiris back to life and they had a son named Horus. Horus banished Set to the desert and restored harmonious balance.

Egypt

URL: <http://teacher.scholastic.com/writewit/mff/egypt.htm>

Osiris became a wise king, teaching the Egyptians to sow and reap. He introduced laws to help them be more civilized, and invented the flute as a new way to worship the gods. His jealous brother built a beautiful chest that he said could be a gift to anyone who could fit inside. When Osiris climbed in, Seth nailed the lid shut and threw him into the sea. Isis, Osiris' widow, went looking for him. She introduced funeral rites by mummifying Osiris and breathing life into him. He became ruler of the dead.

Creation Myths

URL: http://www.pantheon.org/articles/c/creation_myths.html

Creation myths are the different culture's explanations for the origin of the universe, and all that entails. Cosmogony is the scientific term for the explanation of how the universe began. The familiar Big Bang Theory is an example of Cosmogony. When studying creation myths, it's a good practice to list some of the common themes among them. The featureless void is present in numerous creation stories, such as the Chinese, Greeks, the Japanese, and the ancient Babylonians. At some stage the god or gods create human beings, which are below the supernatural beings but above animals and plants.

The Core Elements of MLA

You will not need to use all elements for every citation.

*Add information about additional containers as needed to fully document your source.

Understanding Containers

When the source being documented forms a part of a larger whole, then the larger whole can be thought of as a container. The title of the container is italicized, followed by a comma, since the information that comes next describes the container. A source may have two containers such as a magazine article found in a database. The article is found in the original journal and in the database. A given resource might have both a primary and a secondary container, depending on how that resource is housed and accessed. For example, a magazine article is a source. The magazine in which that article is found is the primary container. The database in which the journal is found is the secondary container. If a database is the producer and publisher of original content, then the database functions as the primary (and only) container, but most of the time databases are secondary containers.

Below is the general format for any citation -- whether it be print or digital. If the information is present, include it. If the information is missing, omit that component:

Author. Title. Title of container (self-contained if book), other contributors (translators or editors), version (edition), number (vol. and/or no.), publisher, publication date, location (pages, paragraphs URL or DOI). 2nd container's title, other contributors, version, number, publisher, publication date, location, date of access (if applicable).

Remember -- the following sample citations are single-spaced to conserve space -- your entire paper including the "Works Cited" page should be double-spaced Times New Roman 12 point font.

BOOKS AND EBOOKS

Elements of the citation for a book with one author:

Lastname, Firstname. Title of Book. Publisher, year.

Example for a book with one author:

Baylor School Hedges Library 8th ed. MLA Format for Text Pages

According to the 8th edition of the MLA Handbook, there are specific requirements and/or recommendations for the format of a research paper. If there are questions check with your teacher, otherwise the following MLA recommendations are the most common for printing or typing, margins, spacing, etc.

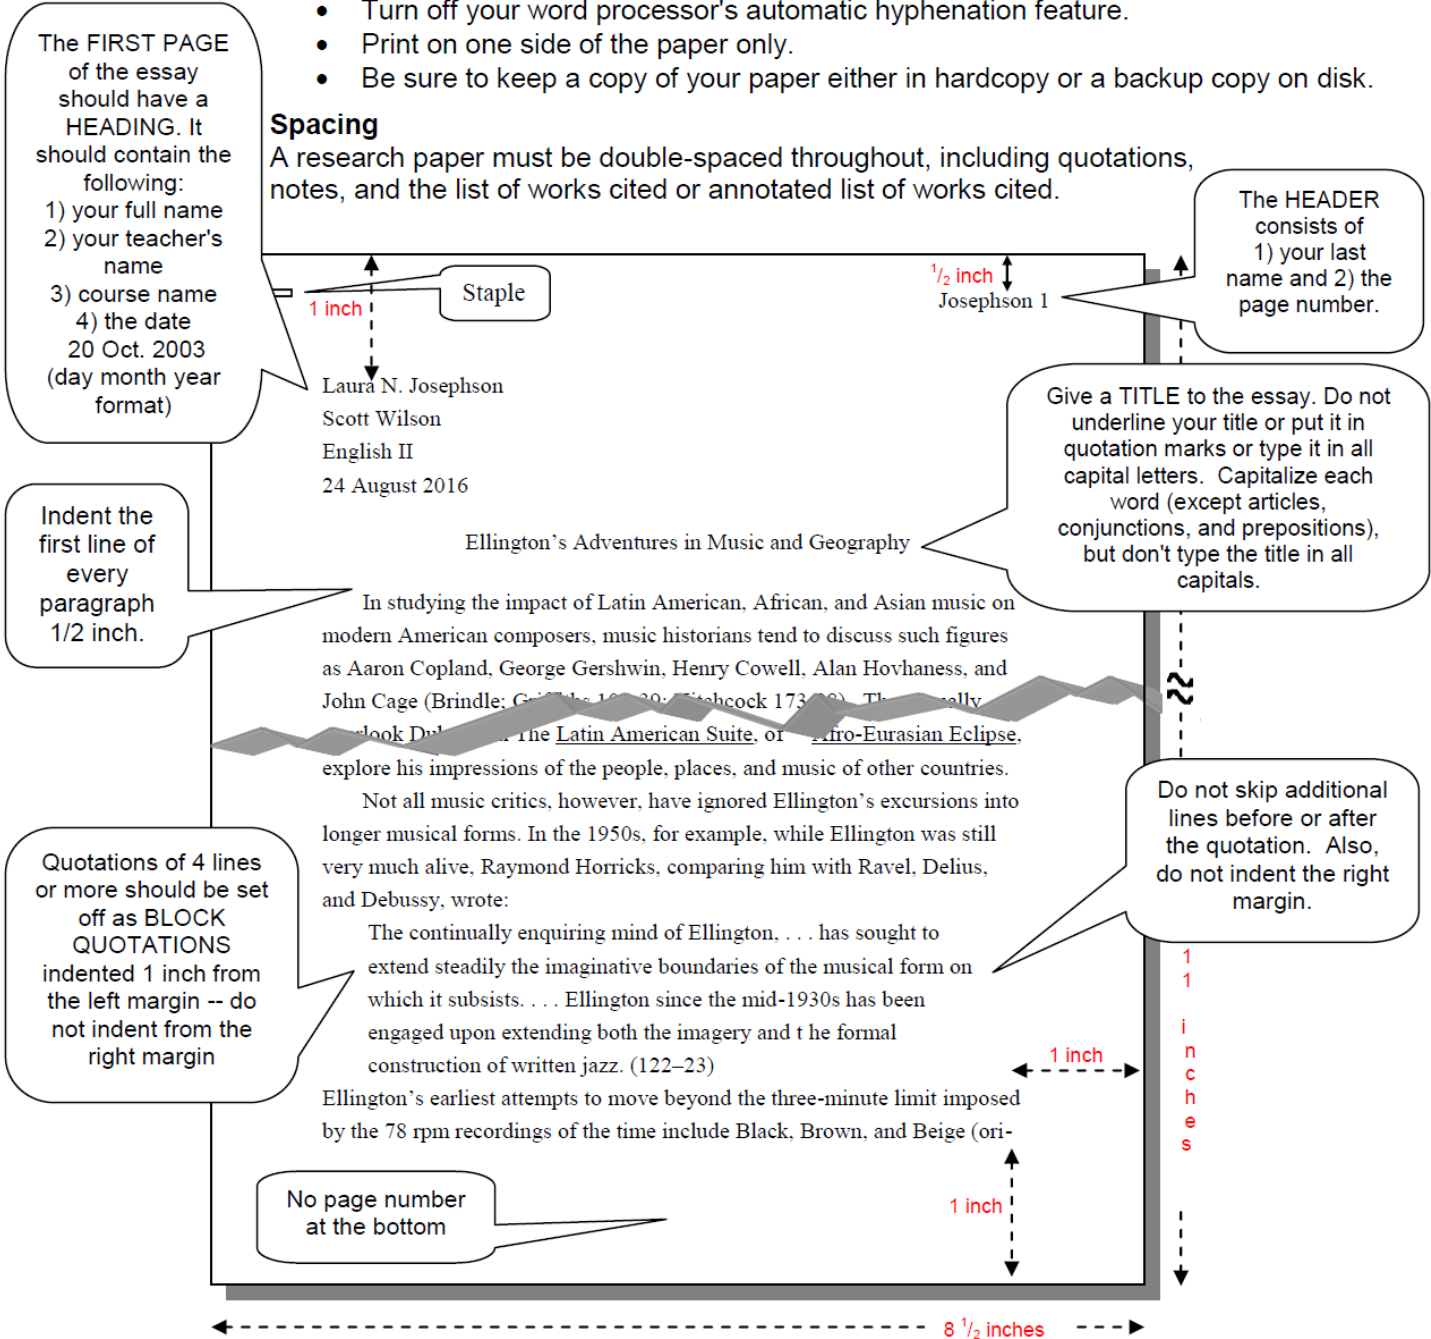

Printing or Typing

If you composed your paper on a computer, be aware of the following guidelines:

- EVERYTHING in your essay should be DOUBLE-SPACED. Everything including the heading, the title, the text, block quotations, and Works Cited page.
- Choose a standard, easily readable typeface (e.g., Times New Roman) and type size (e.g., 12 point)
 - Do not justify the lines of your paper at the right margin.
 - Turn off your word processor's automatic hyphenation feature.
 - Print on one side of the paper only.
 - Be sure to keep a copy of your paper either in hardcopy or a backup copy on disk.

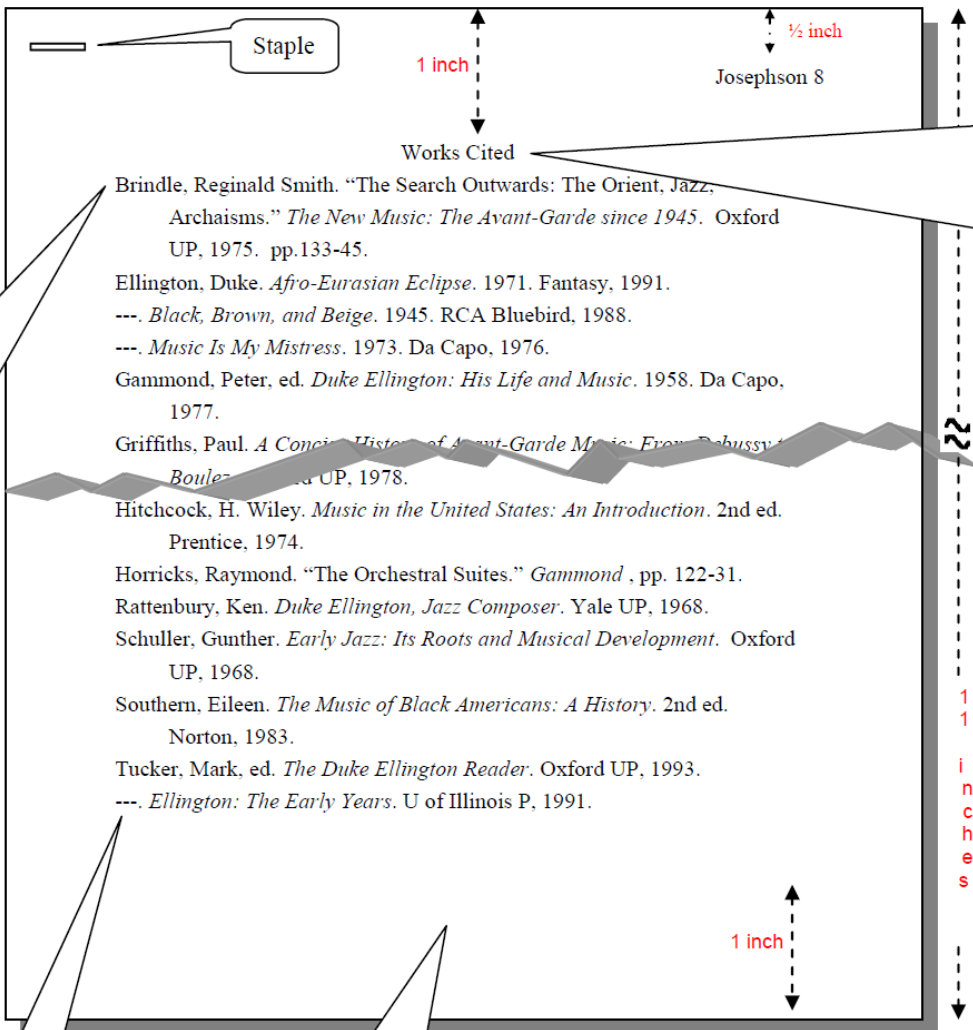

Spacing

A research paper must be double-spaced throughout, including quotations, notes, and the list of works cited or annotated list of works cited.

Like EVERYTHING else in your essay, your Works Cited should be typed in upper and lower case and DOUBLE SPACED. DO NOT SKIP lines after "Works Cited" or between citations.

MLA Format for Works Cited

The first line of each entry in your list should be flush left. Subsequent lines should be indented one-half inch. This is known as a hanging indent.

"Works Cited" should be centered 1 inch from the top of the 1st page of the bibliography. On all other bibliography pages, begin typing entries here.

If you have cited more than one work by a particular author, order them alphabetically by title, and use three hyphens in place of the author's name for every entry after the first.

Elements of a citation

Authors' names are inverted (last name first); if a work has more than one author, invert only the first author's name, follow it with a comma, then continue listing the rest of the authors. Putting people's names in alphabetical order is done on a letter-by-letter basis. Ignore articles of speech: a, an, and the when alphabetizing citations.

Brindle, Reginald Smith. "The Search Outwards: The Orient, Jazz, Archaisms." The New Music: The Avant-Garde since 1945. Oxford UP, 1975, pp. 133-45.

The title of the article or book chapter is in quotations.

The title of the book is italicized

Publisher

Year of publication

Page numbers of the entire article or chapter.
