Everyday in Frankford

Robert Duld, aged 71, removes valuable metals for scrap from a broken air conditioning unit in the back of his pickup truck outside his Frankford home. Robert "has no kids but raised three families". Now retired, he enjoys baking everyday and recycles used goods sourced from his neighbors to keep himself busy.

“Everyday in Frankford” is a new feature in the Frankford Gazette by photographer Chris Baker Evens.

Chris grew up in Australia and moved to Frankford with his family three years ago. He is passionate about bringing dignity to local communities and finding joy in small, ordinary moments of life. He recently exhibited a selection of photographs, at the Daral Building, called "Found in Frankford" and is working on a new series of portraits.

Frankford High Freshman Art Going to Congressional Competition

By Bob Smiley

Congressman Bob Brady (D. PA) has selected the artwork of Danelly Cabrera, a 10th grade student at Frankford High to represent the First Congressional District in the 2018 Congressional High School Art Competition.

Miss Cabrera utilized digital media to create her artwork, entitled "Double Exposure." It features birds in-flight superimposed on the artist's digital image. She says she was using her hair as a metaphor for a nest from which the birds are flying. The work was also selected for The Center for Learning Through the Arts Award by the School District of Philadelphia.

Miss Cabrera says she enjoys her classes with photo media teacher Adam Anderson, who also serves as Lead Technology Teacher and Art Department Coordinator at Frankford. But, as she completes her first year in high school she is not looking toward a career as an artist.

She did not want to be a professional artist. She hopes to be a psychologist. Miss Cabrera's family, originally from the Dominican Republic, moved to Philadelphia last year from New York.

Congressman Brady said, "I was pleased to select the work of this talented high school freshman, new to Philadelphia and the First Congressional District, who is also an immigrant. In these politically confusing and troubled times in our nation it is important that we recognize the talents, aspirations and contributions of those who have come to America for a better life."

The Congressional art exhibition will be on display for ten months in the Tunnel of the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. "These young artists will have their work seen by hundreds of thousands people from across the country and around the world who visit the House office building and the U.S. Capitol," Congressman Brady said.

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

From my first step to my first dance, who's the one that tells me to stand up straight?
 It doesn't matter if I win or lose the race,
 who's standing on the side waiting to embrace?
 From Junior High to senior prom, who's waiting for me to walk down the aisle?
 From the first day that I leave the nest,
 who's telling me this is one big giant step?
 Because in the end-Mother Knows Best.

Officer Gary Frank Skerski Memorial Bridge

By Bob Smiley

The bridge that crosses the Frankford Creek on Castor Avenue was formally dedicated in honor of Philadelphia Police Officer Gary Skerski who was killed in the line of duty 11 years ago.

The ceremony was held on Tuesday, May 8th at 10 AM. The bridge is located on Castor Avenue between Wyoming Avenue and Cayuga Street.

In addition to the family of Officer Skerski were State Representatives Dawkins, Taylor and Cruz, and State Senator Tartaglione were there.

Officer Skerski was murdered on duty 11 years ago when he encountered an armed robbery in progress at Pat's Café, at Castor Avenue and Arrott Street.

MUSIC, MEMORIES, and MOTHERS

By Kathleen Bracken

Mother's Day was celebrated early this month at the Peter Breslin Northeast Senior Center on Friday May 11th, 2018.

The celebration was all inclusive celebrating the Spirit of Mothers. Any mothers, grandmothers, or anyone who wanted to celebrate a Mother were honored. These people were remembered with much love for everything they have done.

The festivities began at 10am with the arrival of State Senator Christine Tartaglione, who is no stranger at the center. The Senator generously provided a delicious breakfast buffet for all in attendance. She was gracious and positive in her interactions with the seniors. She also posed for picture taking, providing the seniors with something to remember the day. She even stayed to grab a bite before continuing with her packed itinerary.

State Representative Jason Dawkins also attended the celebration. After his welcoming remarks, Rep Dawkins handed flowers to all the ladies to the delight of many. Despite his busy schedule, Rep. Dawkins spent a generous amount of time and also presented the Center with a Proclamation which highlighted the much-needed services the center provides and recognizing the Center's role in Older Americans Month activities during the month of May. He also posed for pictures.

Councilman-at-large, Derek Green was another key person involved with the celebration. Although he was unable to attend, his efforts are greatly re-

The staff of the Center presented each woman with a personalized gift and acknowledged the contribution of each woman.

The staff sold raffle tickets for a goodie basket contains over $100 worth of merchandise. Tickets are still available $1 each or $5 for 6. The winner will be announced on Friday, May 25th, during the Center's Open House and Memorial Day Barbecue marked and appreciated by all.

Lunch was accompanied by DJ John Conklin's trip down memory lane. Starting with Smokey Robinson, he played music by James Brown, the Supremes and numerous other Motown stars. Everyone did some toe tapping while others couldn't resist and headed for the dance floor while singing along.

Senior Center Advisory Board President Helen Wilkerson said " I believe the day was very

Reimagining Margaret-Orthodox

Join the Frankford CDC for the Frankford ReMix Block Party on June 16th from 2 to 6 PM. Music, Games, Vendors, Food, and More!

Featuring: Diamond Kuts, Karikatura, El Guaco Loco GELAT'OH Brick & Motor, The Burger Bank

We will be showcasing recent projects, such as our new building, Frankford Pause Park, and the facade improvement of Frankford Beverage Inc..

Also, we will be introducing our Reimagining Margaret-Orthodox initiative. "Reimagining Margaret-Orthodox" is a five-year community development strategy, grounded in community engagement and neighborhood planning, to transform the Frankford Avenue Corridor area around the Arrott Transportation Center. More specifically, Reimagining Margaret-Orthodox calls for improvements that include developing vacant buildings and parcels, facade improvements, and streetscape improvements.

Frankford CDC's goal is to encourage people to rediscover the area, changing the perception of the neighborhood and restoring people's sense of place and pride in Frankford and spur further development and investment along the corridor.
